Awards Committee, Alumni House
University of California
Berkeley, CA 94720

Dear Committee Members:

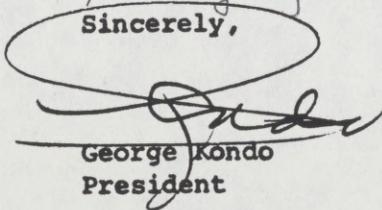

It gives me great pleasure and a distinct honor to nominate for the "Alumnus of the Year" Award Ms. Yoshiko Uchida who graduated from our University "Cum Laude". In 1942 she received her diploma in absentia in the confines of a horse stall, a victim of racism and discrimination, from which she emerged without bitterness to become one of the most prolific writer of children's books.

My esteem for her comes not only from how she writes or what she writes but from her reasons for writing. In Ms. Uchida's own words, "Each of us must take pride in our special heritage, but there is purpose in searching our past to better understand ourselves only if we can one day understand each other and thereby celebrate our common humanity". "It is a happy thought that children in so many countries can have a good time hearing the same stories. But this is only natural, and was true a hundred years ago as it is today. With so much in all of us that is alike, it is a pity people the world over have continued to find so much in each other that is different and strange." "Just as the universal qualities of the folk tales can bring the children of the world together, it is my hope that a further sharing of common ideas and hopes will eventually bring them together as adults".

The greatness of our University as well as our Nation is the result of the contributions by different cultures and ethnicities, like threads of varied colors woven into one durable cloth which even time cannot erode.

In conclusion, I would like to apologize for burdening you with all the enclosures, some which are repetitious; but not being blessed with the ability of putting my thoughts in writing it was necessary for me to rely upon the words of people who are better endowed. Also, to thank you for giving me this opportunity to make this nomination.

Sincerely,

George Kondo
President

Dear Mr. Sammet:

Thank you for your gracious letter of endorsement of my nomination of Ms. Uchida for the "Alumnus of the Year" award. I am not aware of any precedent of past endorsement of nominations, but I can only see that it will add credence to my nomination.

I have several reasons for my action. First and foremost, Ms. Uchida is certainly worthy of this award. Second, as stated in my cover letter we are remiss if we did not recognize our multi-cultural and multi-ethnic contributions to our society. And also, I firmly believe that her type of contributions is more lasting than any material contributions can make towards a better world in which we live.

Thank you again and let us hope that she is awarded the recognition she surely deserves.

Sincerely,

George Kondo
President

Yoshiko Uchida

Graduated Cum Laude - 1942 University of California

Received her diploma in absentia in the confines of a horse stall in Tanforan Assembly Center a victim of racism and discrimination from which she emerged without bitterness to become one of the most prolific writers of children's books. Among the 26 children books she has written she has received coveted Silver Award from the Commonwealth Club of California. "Samurai of Gold Hill" (1973) and "A Jar of Dreams" - 1982.

Among the many awards she received the Distinguished Service Award from the University of Oregon.

"Desert Exile" is her most recent book. Daniel Inoue - "In "Desert Exile" Yoshiko Uchida has given us a chronicle of a special kind of courage, the courage to preserve normalcy and humanity in the face of irrationality and inhumanity. Her family's story, told in living detail, brings alive the internment experience and is an important book for all Americans. It is not a history of the decisions that were made during this period but rather is a story of human lives touched and molded by those decisions. As such it is infinitely more important and infinitely more precious"

My esteem for her comes not only from how she writes or what she writes but by why she writes. In her own words, "Each of us must take pride in our special heritage, but there is reason in searching our past to better understand ourselves only if we can one day understand each other and thereby celebrate our common humanity.

It is a happy thought that children in many countries can have a good time hearing the same stories. But this is only natural, and was true a hundred years ago as it is today. With so much in all of us that is alike, it is pity people the world over have continued to find so much in each other that is different and strange. Just as the universal qualities of folk tales can bring the children of the world together, it is my hope that the further sharing of common ideas will eventually bring them together as adults".

Dear Loy:

Thanks so much for taking the time to do this for me. I hope it won't be too much of a chore!

George appreciates your help and thinks it might be better if you could send your letter to him and he will enclose it with all the other material.

He'd appreciate receiving it as close to the 23rd as possible.
