It appears that the purchase of textbooks which was planned for this fall's use may not be possible due to the fact that the entire textbook budget has to be spent on the quarterly basis and that a large part of the summer order was not cleared in time to be purchased on the past fiscal year's budget.

All of the summer classes have been moved to the new high school building with the exception of the woodshop. The offices of the Vocational Guidance Director, the Night School Director, and the Supervisor of Student Teachers have been moved to the high school building.

Preparations for the opening of school on September 7 are almost completed. The students in the elementary schools have been registered this week. Class schedules for high school students are being arranged from the registration last spring.

The high school building is in good shape except for plumbing in the science laboratories and the home economics department, and light fixtures for the entire building.

It is anticipated that the staff will be short two teachers in the junior high school social science and one elementary teacher.

The carpenters are still working on barracks for the elementary schools in blocks 7 and 25, and furniture and equipment is being moved in so that school will be able to open on the scheduled date, although the remodeling of these barracks is not completed according to the original plan.

The arrival of assistant teachers from Tule Lake is alleviating the teacher shortage situation, especially in the elementary schools.

A group of high school boys have been employed on a part-time basis to assist in preparing the auditorium for large meetings and for other types of work. They assisted the Evacuee Property Officer in receiving baggage during the segregation program.

A class in electricity under the direction of Mr. Matsumoto is assisting the Electrical Department to install light fixtures in the high school, and another group of industrial art students under the supervision of Mr. Clark will assist the Plumbing Department install fixtures in the home economics and science laboratories. Another group of art students under the direction of Miss Krueger is being employed part-time in the Poster Department.

The crowded condition of the third grade in Block 7 which contains over fifty pupils will be remedied by the formation of an additional section in this grade.

Mr. Sekiguchi's place as a night school instructor in English is being taken by Tom Okuda. Mr. Okuda is well prepared for this work, having had four years training at Tempe State Teachers College in Arizona and a year in Berkeley.

Separate Parent-Teachers meetings have been held for the elementary schools located in Block 7 and Block 25. A constitution and by-laws have been adopted for presentation to a larger group and a nominating committee of three members have been appointed, which will report to the general meeting held on the first Tuesday in November.

High school students under the supervision of their instructors have been installing plumbing system in the science department and remodeling the agriculture shop and decorating the home economics department.

Elementary principal, Edward Teare, has initiated the name contest for the elementary schools. It is felt that the names, Block 7 and 25 Elementary Schools are not accurate nor appropriate for the present schools.

There are many instances of correlated study between various departments in the high school, such as, the art department making Spanish posters for the Spanish department, and block prints for the curtains in the home economics department.

Mrs. Evelyn C. Thompson, secondary teacher who has had charge of property control of the Education section, resigned effective Monday.

Dr. Lester K. Ade, Education Director from the Washington office, arrived on Friday, November 26, for consultation with the staff of the Education section. His visit was very valuable and appreciated by the entire Education section.

A telegram was received from Dr. L. R. Kilzer, State Chairman of the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, as follows:

Am advised against North Central membership
Can spend forenoon December 10th on State rating. Letters follow.

This was a disappointment to the Education section, in as much as all of the work for evaluation had been completed.

Dr. Lester K. Ade, Director of Education from the Washington office, spent three days on the project inspecting schools and conferring with members of the Education section. His visit was inspiring and helpful in many respects.

Miss Natalie Perry has been transferred to this project from Tule Lake where she had charge of classes for handicapped children. Classes of the same type are being organized here at the present time.

Dr. L. R. Kilzer of the University of Wyoming and Mr. Ray Robertson, State Commissioner of Education, visited the Project Friday, December 10, and inspected the High school relative to classification and accreditation. The Heart Mountain High School was given a Class I rating. Mr. Corbett spent some time with this committee which evaluated the Powell High School.

Captain G. D. Carter has returned to take up his official duties as Superintendent of Education and is on inactive status until future military assignment.

The first interscholastic basketball game was held in the Heart Mountain High School gymnasium Wednesday evening, December 15, before a capacity crowd of approximately 1400 enthusiastic fans. It was a good game, the final score being Thermopolis 29, Heart Mountain 21. Bleachers and baskets were installed just in time for the game. The basketball team lost to Lovell High School on Thursday evening, December 23, after leading by a close margin until the last few minutes of play by a score of 29 to 28.

School was dismissed on Wednesday, December 22, to be reconvened on Tuesday morning, December 28, providing for a Christmas holiday vacation of five days. Some teachers have been granted annual leave. Others are working on special projects.

Programs were held in both elementary schools on Wednesday afternoon with quite a number of parents in attendance. The high school music and dramatic classes presented, "Why The Chimes Rang". This presentation was one of the finest of its type that I have ever had the opportunity to witness. The gymnasium-auditorium was practically filled, and the general conduct of the spectators was exemplary.

The Heart Mountain Eagles won their first interscholastic basketball game with Cowley High School at the Heart Mountain High School gymnasium Wednesday afternoon January 5. The final score was Cowley 22, Heart Mountain 39.

Reports from remedial specialist shows a class of twenty-two children being given special instruction, ranging from the ages of seven to thirteen. Classes are being taught in the grade school building in Block 7.

Miss Geneva M. Thompson, junior high school art teacher; Mr. Richard H. Satorius, secondary teacher; Mr. James Robert Jones, vocational agriculture instructor; and Miss Ethel B. Edmonds, elementary teacher, have been added to the education staff.

Miss Edna L. Givens, elementary teacher, has been promoted to the junior high school to teach penmanship and spelling.

The Heart Mountain Eagles won the basketball game Wednesday evening, January 12, at Cowley High School. The Eagles lost to the Worland High School team here Friday, evening, January 14.

A relocation team sponsored by the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. conducted a panel discussion before the high school assembly Friday, January 21. The members of this panel were, Dr. Floyd Sampson, Professor of Religion at University of Denver; Mrs. Vivian R. Archambault, who has worked at the Y.W.C.A. for number of years, and who is an American Indian and authority on minority group problems in the United States; Mr. Masao Satow, who is on the national council of the Y.M.C.A. and who has been here at the center previously and established a reputation on the outside; Mr. William McKee, Director of the Friends Service; and Miss Spellman, who is connected with the Y.W.C.A.

The Heart Mountain Eagles won two basketball games Wednesday evening, January 19, with the Burlington High School Varsity and the "B" team. On January 22 the Heart Mountain Eagles lost to the Powell High School team.

Approximately fifteen new students have registered for the new semester. In as much as some of the 61 candidates for the mid-term graduation are continuing in school, there will probably be a drop in the enrollment of approximately 25 students.

Mr. Carl R. Neikirk, junior high school social studies instructor, transferred to the Denver Ordnance Plant as gage inspector with an increase in pay. Miss Glenice Anderson, Colorado Springs, Colorado, and a graduate of Greeley State Teachers College, has been added to the secondary faculty replacing Mr. Neikirk. Miss Barbara June Miller, Boulder, Colorado of Colorado University, has been added to the secondary faculty as teacher of junior high school mathematics, replacing the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. James R. Jones.

Special arrangements have been made with the high school faculty to allow students who wish to relocate before the end of the semester to take additional work to complete their high school subjects for credit before the semester ends. However, no student may be allowed credit who has not been in attendance at least twelve weeks of the eighteen weeks of the last semester. Also, students must submit their definite relocation plans with the date of departure before they can take advantage of this opportunity.

The adult short-term typing class now has 13 members. This course will run for a twelve-week period. Little interest was shown to the other short-term classes offered to the center residents.

Mr. C. T. Moon, Relocation Officer for the middle-atlantic area, met with the education administrative staff and discussed relocation opportunities for people of school age and adults. The staff also visited the relocation office and had the procedure fully explained on the handling of clearance and the information available for people by counselling individuals on relocation.

An intermediate shorthand class was started on April 2 to run until May. Classes meet on Monday and Friday evenings, instructed by Mrs. Arline Morita. This class is for those who have had some shorthand and who want to brush up on this subject. The course is a review of the book, including transcription and dictation.

Master was observed by special activities in the kindergarten and nursery schools on the project of making Easter baskets and colored eggs. The eggs were furnished by the mess section and were used to supplement the regular meal for the children.

Miss Genevieve Mobley, Miss Ruth Underwood, and Mrs. Audra Hursh, all elementary teachers, have been offered contracts for positions in the Casper Public Schools for the next term. Also one secondary teacher, Miss Joy Krueger, was elected in the Casper schools as senior high art instructor. Tule Lake Schools have negotiated a transfer effective June 16 for Mrs. Helen Karre as elementary teacher in the Tule Lake Center.

Superintendent of Schools, J. R. Lancaster, visited the project on April 13th to interview additional faculty members for the public schools.

A meeting was called by Superintendent G. D. Carter of the parents of appointed personnel that would have children of school age and would be living on the project next fall. Purpose of the meeting was to discuss proposed plan from the Powell School Board, which was that each parent would pay twenty-five dollars ($25), total cost for the year or any part of the year, when the child entered school to offset transportation by the Powell school district from the project to Powell. The survey of the number of children to attend school next year showed a total of twenty-five. All elementary grades from grade one through eight would have one or more pupils, total of twenty elementary pupils, and five pupils of high school age. Parents that could not attend the meeting were contacted and it was an unanimous vote in favor of accepting the Powell School Board's tentative offer.

Mrs. Helen Tong, teacher of the grade 5-C in block 25, resigned April 18 and was replaced by temporary appointment of Mrs. Linnea Anderson.
