Dear Yoshiko Uchida:

Enclosed please find a request from Scott Foresman to include your story in their textbook.

Please be advised that while we initially began negotiations for licensing of your work, it was subsequently determined that Dutton does not control permissions rights to the individual contributions in THE BIG BOOK FOR PEACE.

We are sorry for any inconvenience this may cause you, but hope that our prompt forwarding of this request to you by courier will have been of assistance (we have notified the Scott Foresman that their request has been forwarded).

Please call me if you have any further questions on this matter.

With best wishes,

Elizabeth Whelpley

Dear Elizabeth:

This is to confirm our telephone conversation of this morning regarding my contribution, "Letter From a Concentration Camp," in THE BIG BOOK FOR PEACE.

It is my understanding that all permission requests for its use in other books will be referred to me, and that I am free to negotiate and accept any fees deriving from such permissions to disburse at my own discretion.

I appreciated your help with my other permissions questions, and send warmest thanks.

All the best,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Yoshiko Uchida". The signature is fluid and elegant, with a long, sweeping underline that extends to the right.
