Dear Mr. Shiroma:

Enclosed find copy of letter of June 20, 1950, sent to me by Richard H. Hawkins, Jr., First Secretary of U. S. Embassy at Lima.

Each of the Peruvian groups who now is desirous of returning to Peru should obtain an assurance from some responsible person in Peru guaranteeing work and food to each Peruvian who returns to Peru. It is likely that the persons in Peru who are to act as the guarantors for the intended repatriates can apply direct to the Foreign Minister at Lima to ascertain whether or not any special forms will be required to be filled out by the guarantors.

The Peruvian Government wishes to be certain that repatriates will be employed in Peru and will have food and shelter so that none of them will fall upon relief rolls in Peru.

The Immigration Service, pursuant to my understanding had with them several years ago, will provide the free transportation of repatriates to Peru from the agreed point of embarkation.

If you wish to return to Peru, you should communicate immediately with your sponsors in Peru and request them to apply direct to the Minister of Foreign Affairs at Lima to make the necessary guarantees in writing required by his office. I have notified the spokesmen for the Peruvians at Seabrook Farms, Portland and San Francisco of the foregoing matters and have requested them to communicate with each member of the Peruvian group concerning these matters.

Very truly yours,

C O P Y

Sir:

In reply to your letter of June 13 I may say that the Foreign Minister of Peru indicated orally to the Ambassador on May 26 that the Government of Peru is prepared to give individual consideration to the re-admission of any of the Peruvian-Japanese who are now in the United States provided some responsible person in Peru guarantees work and food in each case and provided the cost of transportation is defrayed in each case other than by the Government of Peru.

We understand that the United States Government is prepared to defray transportation costs. It therefore remains for interested parties in Peru to provide the requisite guarantees of food and work to the Foreign Ministry here and for the Foreign Ministry to authorize the issuance of the necessary documentation for each traveler upon the basis of papers (birth certificates, etc.) that interested persons here have in most cases already filed with the Foreign Ministry.

We have informally advised a member of the staff of the Swedish Legation in Lima of the foregoing and from him received assurances that interested persons in Peru will be informed of the situation so that they can provide the guarantees which the Foreign Ministry requires. We have, of course, also informed the Department of State of these developments.

Very truly yours,

For the Ambassador:

Richard H. Hawkins, Jr.
First Secretary of Embassy
