Board on Overseas Training & Research

New York 22, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Weiss:

Thank you very much for your letter of March 20th informing me of Professor Lockwood's appointment to the staff of the Board on Overseas Training and Research. I should certainly welcome the opportunity to meet and talk with him.

I believe I will either be in the vicinity of Tokyo or Kyoto from August till October 1953. If I am granted a six months' extension of my grant, I shall probably still be in Japan in November. If not, I shall probably be back in California by then.

At any rate, I shall look forward to receiving Professor Lockwood's itinerary, and will make every effort to plan my own schedule, so I can meet with him.

I am enclosing a clipping from a recent issue of the Kyoto Mainichi Paper which I thought might be of interest to the Board. Life in Kyoto is definitely not as dour as the expression on my face would seem to indicate! It continues to be a most rich and meaningful experience for me, and I am happy to be able to report that I have made much progress on the manuscripts of my folk tale collection.

With all good wishes.

Yours sincerely,

Encl:

Yoshiko Uchida

Dear Miss Uchida:

The Board on Overseas Training and Research wishes to maintain close contacts with as many of its fellowship holders as possible, to assist them by every appropriate means, and to obtain their suggestions on the future development of its fellowship programs.

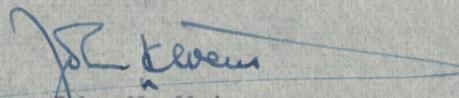

As one step in this direction, Professor William W. Lockwood of the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, Princeton University, is joining our staff as a temporary member to serve in a field liaison capacity between the Board and its Fellows.

Later this spring and again next winter, Mr. Lockwood will visit university centers in the United States where Fellows are pursuing studies either in the Asian or Near Eastern field. During the fall he will visit the Fellows in Asia to talk with them and make other contacts with individuals and institutions which might be helpful to the Board. We are hoping this will enable you to review informally with us your experience to date, to discuss problems or proposals concerning your own program of work and to offer any general suggestions as to the improvement of the Fellowship Program.

It is important that Professor Lockwood prepare his itinerary as far in advance of departure as possible. In this connection we will appreciate your informing us of your expected whereabouts from August through November, 1953. A copy of Professor Lockwood's itinerary will be sent to you as soon as it is available.

I am certain that both you and the Board will find your talks with Professor Lockwood highly rewarding.

Sincerely yours,

John K. Weiss.

Dear Miss Uchida:

Thanks for your note to Mr. Weiss letting us know your travel plans in the near future.

We all enjoyed looking at the clipping from the Mainichi about you, and of course, were delighted to see the plug for the Fellowship Program in the article.

As ever it's good to hear from you.

Dear Miss Uchida:

Although we had hoped to be able to notify you of the Board's decision regarding your request for an additional award by the end of this month I'm afraid that we will not be able to. Present plans indicate that we will be able to give you some definite word by June 1, 1953

I hope the delay will not prove to be too great an inconvenience.

Dear Mr. King:

My very belated thanks to you for your letter of April informing me that the Board's decision regarding the extension of my grant would reach me by June 1st. I shall be looking forward to hearing from you.

I thought the Board might be interested to know that I have now completed the re-writing of fifteen folk-tales, and have just submitted a manuscript to my publisher in New York. I hope to have word about the possibility of their publication as a second collection in another month or two, and in the meantime, am working on sketches for the illustrations.

I have also sent three articles on Japan to my agent in New York.

I have continued to visit schools and compile material for my second book about a Japanese child, and hope to begin actual writing on this book in another month or two. If I am granted the extension, I hope to remain in Japan to complete the writing and illustrating of this book here. If there is time, I would also like to work on a picture book, for which I already have a number of ideas.

Kyoto is vivid with fresh green and the color of its shrine festivals these days. It is a wonderful place to be in spring!

With all good wishes.

Yours sincerely,

Yoshiko Uchida

Dear Miss Uchida:

Thanks very much for your letter of May 20th. We'll be interested to hear your publisher's reaction to the fifteen folk-tales which you have rewritten. I certainly hope that they will be accepted and published without too much further travail on your part. We would, of course, like to know if, when and where your three articles will be published. I expect that from what I've heard of central heating in Japan that you're not entirely displeased with the fact that spring has arrived.

Dear Miss Uchida:

On behalf of the Ford Foundation Board on Overseas Training and Research I am writing at this time to advise you that it has not been possible to award you the additional Fellowship grant that you have requested. This has been a difficult decision to make. In view of the many excellent new candidates who have applied this year and the financial limitations of the Program, the Board has not given additional awards in as many cases as might otherwise have been possible.

The Board appreciates having had an opportunity to consider your request and extends every good wish to you in continuing your work.

Very truly yours,

John K. Weiss

Dear Mr. Weiss:

Thank you very much for your letter of May 29th informing me that it was not possible for the Board to extend my fellowship. While the news was disappointing, I can well understand the desire of the Board to create opportunities for new candidates, and am glad that someone else will benefit as I have, from the generosity of the Ford Foundation.

Please extend my sincere appreciation to the Board members for having taken the time to consider my application, especially in view of the many new applications which I'm sure must have been made this year.

These past months in Japan have been among the richest I have ever known, and I shall always be grateful to the Board for having given me such a marvelous opportunity to work and write here. I hope my work will someday justify their confidence in me.

I am going to Tokyo this week to meet with some educators and writers of juvenile books, and after consulting with them, hope to begin work on my second book.

I shall continue to let you know what progress I make in my work.

With all good wishes,

Yours very sincerely,

Yoshiko Uchida

Dear Miss Uchida:

Mr. Weiss has asked me to reply to your good letter of June 8th, in which you convey your appreciation to the Board for your Fellowship and the opportunities you feel that it has given you. It is very pleasant indeed to have these words.

Under this year's Fellowship Program, 97 awards were granted, which is substantially more than last year. I am enclosing a copy of the press release describing the results of this year's competition, which I think will be of interest to you.

It is good to know that you will soon begin work on your second book. We shall look forward to hearing from you again about your progress. In the meantime, all our best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

MEMORANDUM TO: Foreign Study and Research Fellows

FROM: Jonathan King

DATE: June 26, 1953

As we may have informed you earlier, Professor William W. Lockwood, who is serving as a consultant to the Board, expects to visit a number of countries of Asia during the months September through November. He will be exploring some of the problems of the Fellowship Program, and will want to talk with as many of the Fellows now in residence in Asia as he conveniently can.

In planning his itinerary we would like full and up-to-date information concerning the probable location of all Fellows during these fall months. Would you be good enough, therefore, to write us as promptly as possible giving us your present plans, including particularly your expected location and address (or addresses) between September 1 and December 1; also the approximate date when you expect to return to this country.

If your plans are somewhat indefinite, will you kindly give us your best guess as to your probable whereabouts in the Fall. Later we would appreciate more exact information as soon as you can supply it.

If you have already given us this information, we would appreciate a brief confirmation at this time.

Dear Mr. King:

I have just returned from Tokyo and found your memorandum of June 26th and your letter of June 23rd with the enclosed press release, waiting for me. I was very much interested to have the information about this year's awards and thank you for sending it to me.

In reply to your memorandum regarding my probable whereabouts this fall, I'm afraid my plans are still rather indefinite.

If possible, I am hoping to stay on in Japan till next spring, as there is still much work I would like to do here.

In any case, I expect to be at this address in Kyoto through September. In October, I am planning to go out to Tokyo, but as yet have no definite address there. However, I shall keep in touch with Mrs. Buma here, and she will forward any correspondence to me in Tokyo.

I'm sorry to be so vague, and will send you a more definite address for October and November as soon as I possibly can.

With all good wishes for a pleasant summer.

To: BOTR Fellows in Japan

As you have been informed in previous correspondence from the Board, I am embarking shortly on a visit to a number of Asian countries in connection with the Board's Fellowship Program. My purpose will be to visit and talk with as many Fellows in residence overseas as possible concerning their experience; also to consult with other persons regarding the general opportunities and problems of field study by Americans in Asia.

I expect to be in Japan from September 8 to September 27. While leaving my itinerary in Japan undecided until I talk with people in Tokyo, I plan tentatively to spend a week or so in Tokyo, then to visit Kyoto and one or two other centers, returning to Tokyo for a few days before departure. My Tokyo address will be the Imperial Hotel.

Since my time will be short, may I ask you to take the initiative so far as possible in getting in touch with me. It has been suggested that the staff of International House in Tokyo would be glad to schedule Tokyo appointments for me. I am writing the Director, Mr. Shigeharu Matsumoto, asking if this would be possible. If you are in Tokyo, may I ask that you be good enough to arrange a tentative appointment, say, between September 10 and 14, through the good offices of International House, 2-1 chome, Chiyoda-ku, Marunouchi, Tokyo. If you are elsewhere in Japan, may I ask you to write me at the Imperial Hotel so that I can get in touch with you easily once my plans are determined. If you are yourself only arriving in Japan after September 8, but before September 28, will you kindly look me up on your arrival. Please do not alter your plans materially on my account if you happen to be on a field trip or village study in some out-of-the-way place. Just inform me to that effect.

All this might appear to cast me in the role of an Inspector-General -- a role to which I do not aspire! In one way or another, however, I shall hope to see most of the Fellows in Japan, and will welcome your suggestions as to other persons with whom I should talk. My purpose is not in any sense to 'check up' on individuals, but rather to gather information and suggestions regarding study in Japan which will help the Board in planning and operating future training programs in Asian studies.

REPORT TO: The Ford Foundation

October 14, 1953

FROM: Yoshiko Uchida

RE: Work in Kyoto, Japan, during the period
February - October 1953

An earlier report of my activities during the first few months in Japan was sent to the Board on February 4, 1953. Since that time, I have been able to do a considerable amount of writing, and am happy to be able to report the completion of the following work:

I. THE MAGIC LISTENING CAP: (tentative title)
More Folk Tales From Japan

This is a collection of fourteen folk tales which I re-wrote for American children. (6 - 10 age level). I selected these stories from Japanese sources, reading through many collections which were written for the children of Japan.

This book is scheduled for publication by Harcourt, Brace & Co., publishers of my first book of folk tales, and will be released either in the Spring of 1955, or if possible, in the Fall of 1954.

I have completed fourteen black and white, pen and ink drawings which will be used to illustrate the book.

II. ROKUBEI AND THE THOUSAND RICE BOWLS:

This is a picture book, for which I did both the story and the illustrations in the manner of an old folk tale. The dummy is now complete, and consists of thirty-two pages, with sixteen line drawings. It is aimed for ages 6 - 10, and is ready to be sent to a publisher.

III. TAKAO'S PROMISE:

This is a story about an eight year old Kyoto boy, in which I attempted to bring out the every day school, home, and family life of a Japanese child in the third grade. It contains twelve chapters, and covers the months of October through January in Kyoto.

I had intended to do a larger book covering a whole calendar year, but have altered my plans and completed the writing of this book, with the hope that I shall have time next year to do another book which will cover the spring and summer activities of a similar or the same child.

I am planning to do my own illustrations for this book also. The manuscript is completed and ready to go to a publisher.

IV. I have written the following articles for adults, all of which are in the hands of my agent in New York City, but which remain unpublished as yet.

1. "We Want You to be Happy - A Nisei in Japan."
2. "A Sort of a Pilgrimage"
3. "Season of the Ensoku"
4. "Japan's Doll Drama"
5. "Bento Time"
6. "A Stick of Candy and a Paper Show"
7. "Kanjiro Kawai: A Profile"

Although my grant from the Board has now terminated, I am planning to stay on in Japan for another six months or so, in order to complete the second juvenile book mentioned above, and to do some research and writing in the field of Japanese folk art. I have found this latter to be one of the most lively and stimulating aspects of contemporary art in Japan, and have had the good fortune to become well-acquainted with the three men who founded Japan's Folk Art Movement. I feel this is a rare and valuable opportunity to learn more about this field, and hope to secure material for either a book or at least a series of articles on Japanese Folk Art.

At the end of this month, I plan to move to Tokyo, where I shall probably spend the rest of my time in Japan. I do not have an address there as yet, but any mail sent to me here will be forwarded to me.

I am enclosing a copy of the preface which I sent to Harcourt Brace & Co., for inclusion in my book of folk tales. I intend to include similar statements regarding my grant from the Ford Foundation in my other two books also.

Finally, let me express once more, my profound appreciation to the Board for making this year in Japan possible. It has enriched both my writing and my thinking in many, many ways, and I hope my work will someday contribute toward the furtherance of the aims and goals of the Board and the Ford Foundation.

Yoshiko Uchida

Preface to THE MAGIC LISTENING CAP: More Folk Tales from Japan

The fourteen folk tales in this book have been adapted from stories still being read today by the children of Japan. Along about the time they reach the book shelves of children in San Francisco, or New York, or perhaps even London or Copenhagen, the children of Tokyo and Kyoto and Osaka too, will be reading and listening to them.

It is a happy thought that children in so many different countries can have a good time hearing the same stories. But what a perfectly natural phenomenon! There is so much in all of us human beings that is alike, it is a pity we seem to find so much that is different and strange.

If the universal qualities of the folk tale can bring the children of the world closer together, how easy it could be to go on to a sharing of common ideas and hopes.

The writing of this book and my year in Japan ^{were} ~~was~~ made possible by a grant from the Board on Overseas Training and Research of The Ford Foundation, which believes too, that ^{someday} ~~someday~~ such a sharing of ideas will bring about the kind of peaceful world we all hope for. I am very grateful to them for having given me the opportunity to work toward the fulfillment of such a hope.

To: BOTR Fellows Studying in Asia (1953-54)

The Board on Overseas Training and Research would like to take full advantage of the experience of its Fellows to develop a pool of knowledge and ideas regarding the opportunities, problems and techniques of study by young Americans in Asia and the Near East. It hopes thereby to be in a position to offer better guidance to future Fellows, and to improve the terms and arrangements of the present Fellowship Program.

As one way of doing this, we would like to experiment with the attached questionnaire. The limitations of any such device are obvious; at best it can only supplement personal discussion and correspondence. It may serve, nevertheless, to crystallize more sharply certain points of general significance, and thus prove helpful in any appraisal of experience to date.

Would you be good enough, therefore, to study the attached questionnaire carefully, to reflect on your experience to date, and to give the best answers you can. Any generalized questionnaire of this sort will contain some questions inappropriate to your particular situation and omit others more relevant. Please feel free to adapt it to your own circumstances. Bear in mind that the object is to draw on your observations and experience for the benefit of future Fellows studying in your area, and for the general development of the Fellowship Program. Nothing that you say will be attributed to you publicly.

If you can type your answers it will be appreciated. Use the back of each sheet or attach extra sheets as you wish.

Dear Mr. King:

It has been a long time since I last wrote you, but I wanted to wait until after I had met Professor Lockwood, and could also enclose a report of my work.

It was a real pleasure to meet Professor Lockwood and to talk with him about my year in Japan. I was able to see him several times during his stay in Kyoto, and one evening, he made it possible for all the Ford Fellows here to meet together. We had a marvelous time getting acquainted and hearing about the work each one is doing in Japan.

It has been exactly a year since I arrived in Japan, and I am enclosing a report to the Board of the work I have been able to do during this period. Would you be good enough to pass it on to Mr. Weiss, along with the enclosed letter to him? I shall also complete the questionnaire given to me by Professor Lockwood and send it to him in England, as per his request.

I noticed with great interest, that Intercultural Publications of the Ford Foundation was planning a series of supplements for the ATLANTIC MONTHLY on the arts and letters of various countries. I was especially interested to see that one on Japan was being contemplated for next year. I feel that the folk art of Japan is one of the most exciting aspects of contemporary Japanese art, and would like very much to try an article on it for possible use in such a supplement. If you think this feasible, and if it is not too late, I would appreciate your putting me in contact with the proper person. I have gotten well acquainted with the three men who founded Japan's Folk Art Movement, and believe I could secure some good material and photographs. I would appreciate hearing from you about this when you have time.

And now, let me thank you for all your good letters to me during the past year. I appreciated your keeping me in touch with the activities of the Ford Foundation, as well as your interest and concern in the work I have been trying to do.

With all good wishes,

Yours sincerely,

We were very pleased indeed to have your recent progress report and to hear that you have accomplished so much writing during the period of your fellowship. I shall pass your letter on to Mr. Weiss, since I know that he will find it of great interest.

The suitable person for you to get in touch with regarding an article on Japanese folk art for possible publication by INTERCULTURAL PUBLICATIONS would be James Laughlin, the President of this organization. He may be reached at the Hotel Pierre, 5th Avenue and 61st Streets, New York City, which is their temporary address. I shall send a memorandum over to him about this and tell him that you will be writing to him shortly.

I certainly hope that you will enjoy your remaining six months in Japan. If you plan to settle in New York upon your return to the United States, I hope you will drop in and pay us a visit.

Dear Mr. King:

Thank you so much for your letter of October 21, giving me the name of Mr. Laughlin at INTERCULTURAL PUBLICATIONS. And my apologies for not having written sooner, but moving from Kyoto proved to be quite a chore, and my correspondence suffered badly!

I did write to Mr. Laughlin, but before my letter reached him, he wrote, saying you had shown him my earlier letter to you. It was a very nice letter telling me that he would be interested in seeing an article on Japan's folk art, and I'm delighted to have the chance to try one. Thank you so much for your help. I do appreciate it so very much.

I thought you might be interested in seeing a small booklet containing an article I wrote about Kanjiro Hara, (one of Japan's well-known potters,) along with some of his poems which I translated. I am sending it to you under separate cover, so believe it will reach you in a few weeks. It was simply a small private non-profit printing by Kyoto's Folk Art Society, and a "side-project" which I enjoyed doing. Please pass it on to Mr. Weiss or members of the Board, if you think they would be at all interested.

I am now settled at the above address in Tokyo. Already I am finding this city a most stimulating and interesting place to be, and am looking forward to an enjoyable six months here.

Dear Mr. King:

It has been a long time since I last wrote to you. Shortly after I moved to Tokyo in the fall of 1953, I became ill and was confined at home for almost six months. It was not a serious illness, but I was run down from having done too much my first year in Japan, and from a severe vitamin deficiency. At any rate, I lost six months then, so decided to remain in Japan till the end of October, and just arrived home the beginning of this month.

My illness brought about a delay in my work and I was unable to complete the illustrations for my book on schedule. The collection of folk tales (THE MATEIC LISTENING CAP) is, therefore, being published next February, instead of this fall as I had intended. Harcourt Brace has sent me a few pre-publication copies which have just come from the printer, so I am sending a copy to you under separate cover. Please pass it on to Mr. Weiss and any members of the Board whom you think might be interested in seeing it. I included an acknowledgement to the Board in my preface.

Although I couldn't do as much in Tokyo as I had planned, I did do some work in the folk art field, wrote several articles on the subject for the Nippon Times, and translated some of the writings of Dr. Soetsu Yanagi, Director of the Folk Art Museum. And, although it was somewhat out of my field, I was asked to do two articles for GOURMET magazine, and these should be appearing before long.

There have been some interesting repercussions from the pamphlet I wrote about Kanjiro Kawai. One of the men of our local radio station saw it, asked me to come in for an interview to talk about Mr. Kawai, and this will be broadcast sometime after Christmas. I am also scheduled to be interviewed by Mrs. Harshaw of "Carnival of Books" (a children's radio program), next year, at which time I expect to be able to tell something of my experiences in Japan. In such ways, my experiences in Japan continue to provide new opportunities for bringing something of Japanese culture to Americans, and I continue to be grateful to the Ford Foundation for making all this possible.

With every good wish,

Sincerely yours,

The stories are really charming and I think you have told them with a vivid simplicity that will appeal to adults and children alike. I particularly liked the title story and the one about the many-colored deer.

Thanks for sending us a pre-publication copy. We'll watch for the pub date with real interest.

Dear Mr. Weisblat:

Thank you very much for your letter of April 15th. It is good to know that the Foreign Study and Research Fellowship Program is already in its fourth year and continuing its fine work.

At present, I am living at the above address and am not actively engaged in any work aside from my freelance writing. I have not been too healthy since my illness in Japan, and since undergoing surgery recently, my main occupation has simply been trying to get completely well once more.

I have given occasional talks on Japan to various groups in this area, the most recent one being at the Japan Trade Center in San Francisco, to a group of school children who are studying Japan. I will also be meeting some children at the Berkeley Public Library in the near future, and hope in such ways to continue sharing my experiences in Japan.

I would be delighted to be of whatever service I could to current Fellows who may be working in fields related to my own. It would give me much pleasure to know that in this way, I might somehow express my continued gratitude to the Ford Foundation.

With all good wishes,

Sincerely,

Yoshiko Uchida

Dear Miss Uchida:

The Foreign Study and Research Fellowship Program is now in its fourth year. We have about 165 former Fellows and have been trying to keep up-to-date on their activities and interests. However, we would like a more complete picture than we now have and are very much interested in knowing the kinds of work our former Fellows are currently engaged in. We would very much appreciate it if you would write and tell us what you are now doing, giving us your present address.

New Fellows going overseas for the first time will probably face much the same type of problems that former Fellows in the same areas have met. This year, we would like to draw on the experiences of former Fellows like yourself to help the new grantees. May we refer to you current Fellows who intend to work in your area of specialization?

Hoping to hear from you soon.

Oakland 9, California

Dear Miss Uchida:

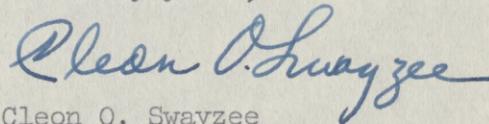

We are now engaged in a fairly intensive review of our Foreign Area Training Fellowship Program with the hope that we can better achieve its broad training objectives. We suspect that the most useful information and the most fruitful suggestions will come from the people who have gone through the mill, so to speak. Indeed, we feel that no meaningful review can be made without the direct testimony of former Fellows themselves.

We are accordingly sending the attached questionnaire to all former Fellows. We hope that this will not be too much of a burden, but we see no alternative if the program is to benefit from your views. We recognize that you may have provided in letters or reports some of the information called for, but meaningful analysis of the information requires that we have it in this standardized form.

We shall welcome your candid comments on aspects of your Fellowship experience not covered by the questionnaire and will be especially grateful for any over-all observations you may wish to make about the program. It would be most helpful if we could have your reply by September 12th.

We plan to prepare a special summary of our findings (without attribution, of course) for distribution to former Fellows.

Sincerely yours,

Cleon O. Swayzee

Dear Miss Uchida:

There is attached a list of fellowship-related publications prepared by former Foreign Area Training Fellows. I hope it will be useful and of interest to you.

This is only a partial listing and we would like very much to make it as complete as possible and to continue it. If it is to be most useful, it will be necessary for you to keep us informed of additions which should be included. We will appreciate your help.

Sincerely yours,

Cleon O. Swayzee

I was also offered a position on the staff of the Consulate General of Japan in San Francisco, but was unable to accept because of my health. Describe current ^{contin} ~~research~~ efforts underway + briefly outline research plans + near future -

I am at present working on three juvenile books, drawing heavily on my experiences in Japan for two of them. I am also planning further articles on Japanese folk art, gathering materials and photographs for them.

How, if at all, are you able to make use of your fellow. exper - @in present work?

As a writer, I draw constantly on my experiences in Japan for my current writing, and expect to continue doing so indefinitely. The entire Fellowship experience was extremely meaningful to me, therefore, beyond the immediate fulfillment of my stated aims.

(b) in outside activities?

I have talked to various groups of school children about Japan, as well as to a few women's groups, and participated in various activities and exhibits of the San Francisco office of the Japan Trade Center.

What work do you have that - Fellowship exper has increased your employment opp's or your prospects for advancement?

I have not sought employment since my return from Japan - partly because I wanted to concentrate on my writing, and partly due to poor health. The book on Kagawa's Daughter, however, was an assignment from the Joint Commission on Missionary Education of the National Council of Churches for their Japan Emphasis Year. I was (see back) (2)

(a) What role do you expect your specialized area interest to play in your overall plans for the future?

Please see reply to 14.

~~Describe current research underway - + plan for future.~~

I intend to continue writing other juvenile books with a Japanese background, so long as there is both interest and demand.

Because I was able to pursue a new sphere of interest - namely, Japanese Folk Art - I intend to do a great deal of writing on this subject also.

(b) How did your fellowship exper. affect these plans?

The fellowship exper made these plans possible!

Travel in all fr. countries

September 1952 - November 1954 JAPAN only.

Describe any joint research efforts or other collab.
undertaken during your fellowship & local (for) stud, univ staff members, + etc

Worked with Soetsu Yanagi, Director of The Japanese Folk Art Museum in Tokyo, on the translation of his article on "Hakeme Ware".
He was also extremely helpful in gathering material for my articles on folk art for the Nippon Times. I intend also to translate another article of his about Menagawa-san of Masuku.

Worked with Kanjiro Kawai, eminent Japanese potter, on the translations of his poems, and the writing of the booklet about him.

If your fellowships ever resulted in social or prof'l friendships which continue to cultivate - desc. briefly.

I keep in close touch with both families with whom I lived in Kyoto and Tokyo. Mrs. Bama, in whose home I lived in Kyoto, was especially helpful to me in my work with Japanese children. I also keep in close touch with Dr. Yanagi and Mr. Kawai (see 20 above), and 3 other people in the folk art field. Beyond that, I correspond periodically with many other friends (professors, students, etc..) whom I met while in Japan. I count two or three of these friendships among the richest & most rewarding I have ever known.

Ac. prep.

I felt that my own general academic preparation was adequate for my overseas experience, and believe the present standards as established by the Board are sufficient.

Knowl. & indig lang.

Fluency in speaking the language was extremely helpful. A better reading and writing knowledge than I possessed would have been even more helpful.

I think it is imperative that Fellows are fluent in the indigenous language; otherwise an interchange of ideas, ^{with nationals} which I feel is equally important as research, would be quite impossible. From my observations, the use of interpreters seemed very unsatisfactory.

Advisory, pre-departure brief in a country.

There was no pre-departure briefing in my instance - probably because I was one of the earlier Fellows in the Board's Overseas Training and Research program for Asia.

I believe a certain amount of briefing would be helpful and time-saving later on.

Adeq. & advice & guidance overseas.

Aside from a brief luncheon meeting with Mr. Robert Martin in Tokyo, and a visit with Prof. William Lockwood when he toured Asia, I don't believe any other ^{official} Board contacts were available while I was in Japan.

Because I am a Nisei, going to Japan did not present the problems which might have arisen for other Americans. I had many friends and relatives there to whom I could turn for advice and guidance, and had good contacts at various universities. Without such contacts, however, I would think it would be helpful to have someone (perhaps a national well-acquainted with key people in academic circles), accessible for advice in one or two of the major cities of the country.

Knowledge & availability of research facilities abroad.

(e) My project did not require a great deal of research in the usual academic sense. I, therefore, had no trouble here. I relied heavily on my personal contacts for help in obtaining the material I needed.

Feasibility & practicality of research plans (changes for reasons)

I was able to carry out specific plans for writing the books I had in mind. However, I should think all research plans should be flexible enough to allow for the many unseen circumstances that arise in a foreign country.

Adequacy of supervision & research in US or overseas

My work did not require supervision, & personally, I appreciated the freedom with which I was able to pursue my projects.

Personal contacts -

As stated in 24 (d), I was fortunate in having many family friends and contacts in Japan. My parents are active alumni of Doshisha University in Kyoto, so I knew personally the present and former Presidents (including Dr. Yuasa who now heads the Internat'l Christian Univ.), the Deans, Professors, former Educ'l Commissioner of Kyoto, etc.. All were extremely helpful to me. Through other friends and relatives, I visited homes of all classes of people and talked to innumerable people in all walks of life.

problems of personal adjustment in foreign environment.

My only problems were physical ones... At the end of my first year in Japan, I became ill, and was confined to my home for approximately six months. Causes seemed to be general exhaustion and a severe vitamin deficiency, due probably, to the fact that I lived on a strict Japanese diet for a year. Besides the sudden change in climate and diet, I also think I tried to do too much, thinking that I had only a year in which to accomplish my work.

②

Six - Appeal

Adequate for my needs in 1952-53, but probably because I was able to secure room and board at fairly reasonable rates, and because I lived according to Japanese standards, in order to see how the people really lived. Packages from home also helped.

Increasing living costs, especially in Tokyo, would probably render such statements obsolete by now.

Length - time overseas

Because it requires 2-3 months to become oriented to a new country, I would certainly say that a one-year term is entirely inadequate. Two years would be much more fruitful and worthwhile.

Housekeeping prob.

I was able to secure room and board in private families in both Kyoto and Tokyo. For a single person, I think this is the most satisfactory way to live in a foreign country, because one gets to know at least one family well, and has the opportunity for an active inter-change of ideas.

suggs for improving procedures) Adm'nistrative Fellowship Prog.
including applic'ns, interviewing & recruitment -

I can't suggest much beyond what is already being done. I believe the availability of the fellowships is fairly widely known in most academic circles, and former Fellows must surely pass on information about the fellowships to friends who would be promising candidates.

Comments on over-all view of For. Area Fellowship Program

To me, the whole Foreign Area Fellowship Program seems to be one of the wisest investments America can make toward the future. Aside from the obvious values of the resulting research, I think the simple face to face contact of Americans with people of various foreign areas is one of the most effective outcomes of the whole program.

For this reason, it seems especially important that those who go are not only academically well-prepared, but are capable of going with a sense of humility and an appreciation of the sensitivity of the Asiatic peoples.

Personally, the experience in Japan gave new direction to my work. As a Nisei, I had always wanted to introduce the best qualities of Japan to America, ~~therefore~~ I could best do this by writing books about Japan for American children. Having had the Fellowship experience, I believe I can now do this more effectively, and have had opportunities to tell the Japanese about America, as well. In addition, I have been able to begin what I hope will be extensive study in the field of Japanese folk art, for there is much about this work and the philosophy behind the folk art movement that I would like to write. My friendship with the people who founded this movement has been one of the most rewarding experiences I have had.

If each Fellow was as deeply affected by his experience as I, the outreach and effect of the entire program should certainly be profound and lasting.

Dear Miss Soderlund:

I appreciated your letter of last March, and am writing today to inquire whether the Ford Foundation ever considers a second grant to an individual for work on another project.

Because of my growing interest in crafts and my continued contact with the leaders of Japan's folk art movement, I have been giving some thought to returning to Japan for further study of their folk art. The fact that two of the founders of the movement are aged and not well makes me feel some urgency in going to tap their vast fund of knowledge on the subject.

If an application for another grant would be in order, I should like to give it serious consideration and would appreciate receiving the proper application forms.

Sincerely yours,

Yoshiko Uchida

P.S. You might be interested to know that Harcourt Brace will be publishing another of my books next year. I shall let you know as soon as the title and date are firm.

FOREIGN AREA TRAINING FELLOWSHIP PROGRAMS

INTRODUCTION

For the past six years the Foundation has offered Foreign Area Training Fellowships in an effort to increase our knowledge of critical and neglected foreign areas. This fellowship program provides assistance for persons of unusual ability and promise who are interested in combining foreign area training with study in a discipline. It is not designed to support research projects of established scholars, but rather to encourage the training of young scholars. Although the program is primarily concerned with persons preparing for careers in teaching or research, those planning to enter the field of government, business, or communications are also eligible.

Since 1956 the Foundation has awarded a few post-doctoral fellowships for advanced training in international affairs. This program has been suspended, however, for the 1959-60 academic year.

HISTORY OF THE PROGRAMS

The Foundation's program of overseas fellowships for Asia and the Near East was started in 1952. In 1954 the Foundation announced fellowship programs for the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe and for Africa.

During the past seven years a total of $5,855,675 has been appropriated and 1075 fellowships have been awarded to 708 persons pursuing or preparing for academic, government, or professional careers. The following table shows the distribution of these awards. Figures in parenthesis represent extensions of fellowships previously granted.

* Including 1 new grant to a former Fellow
 Including 3 new grants to former Fellows
 Including 2 new grants to former Fellows

As of July 1, 1958, a total of 472 persons had completed their fellowships. Among these were 112 historians, 88 political scientists, 50 economists, 33 in language and literature, 21 sociologists, 16 geographers, and 17 linguists. Data has been collected on 383 former Fellows, of whom 188 are in teaching and research positions at 91 American colleges and universities located in 34 states and the District of Columbia, and 9 are teaching outside the United States. 68 are continuing their graduate studies, 31 are in non-profit organizations, 30 are in government, 24 are in business and communications,* and 10 are in military service.

All of those who are teaching report substantial use of their foreign area training in their course offerings. Many are collecting and translating documents which, when properly organized, will become basic undergraduate teaching material.

While training is the primary focus of the program, Fellows have added significantly to our knowledge of non-Western areas. They have produced 32 books, edited 6, written chapters in 30 other books, produced 400 articles for professional journals, and published 18 research monographs. Some have written book reviews and popular magazine and newspaper articles; several have read papers before learned societies. In the past year alone they have produced 9 books, 124 articles for professional journals, and 6 research monographs. A bibliography of publications resulting from the fellowships is now available.

ASIAN AND NEAR EASTERN STUDIES PROGRAM

In the seven years of the Asia and Near East Program, 667 fellowships, including 254 extensions, have been awarded to 413 persons. Last year the largest number of grants again were made for study in the Far East (45). Although Southeast Asia continues to lag far behind in total grants made, last year saw a marked increase in awards for this area. It was the first time that grants for Fellows studying Southeast Asia exceeded those for South Asia.

This year two-thirds of the awards were made in the fields of history, political science, and anthropology with a decline in the number of economists. The greatest number (30%) went to Fellows in history, 18% each in political science and anthropology, and 5% each in economics and philosophy. The remaining awards were given in international relations, sociology, music, literature, communications, and the dance.

Once again the Foundation allocated $85,250 of the funds appropriated for Asia and the Near East Fellowships to 12 universities which have integrated area programs and offer advanced courses leading to the Ph.D. This allocation is aimed to meet relatively small and temporary student needs which can best be detected and measured locally.

SOVIET AND EAST EUROPEAN STUDIES PROGRAM

In the five years of the Soviet and East European Program 287 awards, including 95 extensions, have been given to 192 persons. This past year 61 received fellowships, of which 27 were extensions. As in previous years, two-thirds of the awards in 1958-59 went to Fellows in the fields of history, international relations, and political science with 30% in history, 23% in international relations, and 13% in political science. 13% were made in economics, 11% in literature, and 6% in area studies. The remaining grants were in geography and musicology.

In 1958 three Fellows were granted funds for 30 day trips to the Soviet Union, making a total of 15 such grants in the past five years. In addition, five Fellows have received funds for travel to Poland and four to Yugoslavia. During the current year seven Fellows are studying in the Soviet Union under the exchange program administered by the Inter-University Committee on Travel Grants. Seven former Fellows have also been selected to participate in this exchange.

Again in 1958 the Foundation allocated $25,960 of the funds appropriated for Soviet and East European Fellowships to six universities which have integrated Soviet and East European programs with advanced courses leading to the Ph.D. As in the Asian program, this allocation is aimed at meeting relatively small and temporary student needs.

AFRICAN STUDIES PROGRAM

In the five years of the African Studies Program 93 fellowships, including 17 extensions, have been granted to 76 persons. This past year 22 received fellowships, of which 6 were extensions. Again the largest number went to Fellows in the field of anthropology (32%). 23% were in political science, 18% in history, 9% in economics, and the remainder in art, geography, musicology, and sociology.

Again this year the Foundation allocated $10,560 to Boston University and Northwestern University to provide grants-in-aid for students carrying out programs in African Studies.

Mr. Yoshino Uchida

Oakland 9, California

Dear Mr. Uchida

This letter has two purposes: first, to acquaint you with some of the data we have collected on a substantial number of former Foreign Area Training Fellows; and second, to enlist your help, as a former Fellow, in bringing our records up to date and in keeping them as accurate as possible.

In addition to the fact that we not only have a real and continuing interest in following the careers of Ford Fellows, we are called upon frequently by universities, colleges, government and other organizations to provide them with names of Ford Fellows who have specialized foreign area qualifications. In order to meet these requests, we have prepared resumes on each Fellow. Would you be good enough to look over your resume, make any additions or corrections on the enclosed form, and return it to us as soon as possible?

As you may know, for the past two years we have published a bibliography of publications by Ford Fellows. This has had a circulation of 1500 copies, going to university libraries, government agencies, research organizations, and other interested persons. In order to make it as complete as possible, would you also include on the form any publications which you have not already reported? The next complete edition will probably go to press in June, so we will be glad to receive this information from you up to that time for inclusion in the 1959 issue.

We will be most grateful for this information and hope that you will keep us informed of any future changes in your address or position. If you have any specific questions or recommendations regarding the fellowship programs I hope you will let us know.

Sincerely yours,

BIBLIOGRAPHY

We maintain a bibliography of publications prepared by current and former Foreign Area Training Fellows. We will appreciate your help in keeping us informed of additions which should be included.

Although these articles are not directly related in subject matter to the project undertaken on my fellowship, I might add that my interest in crafts developed as a result of my contact with folk crafts while in Japan under Ford Fdn. auspices. I have found this interest completely compatible with writing juvenile books and, in fact, combined the two interests in TAKAO AND GRANDFATHER'S SWORD. I have continued to draw useful background material for my last three juvenile books from my experience in Japan. Dear Miss Uchida:

We will shortly be sending you under separate cover the first edition of a Directory of Foreign Area Training Fellows in which you are listed. This is our first effort to combine in book form both biographical and bibliographical information on each Fellow.

Because we hope to issue a second edition in 1962, commemorating the tenth anniversary of the Program, we hope you will call to our attention any corrections or additions which should be made. We want the next edition to be as accurate and up-to-date as possible.

Dear Miss Uchida:

I am writing to tell you that our Board of Trustees has approved arrangements under which the administration of the Foreign Area Training Fellowship Program will be transferred to a Joint Committee of the Social Science Research Council and the American Council of Learned Societies.

Let me tell you something of the background of this action. The fellowship program has now been in operation for ten years and to date 996 young scholars such as yourself have received fellowships for study in Asia and the Near East, the Soviet Union and East Europe, and Africa. A similar program was inaugurated this year in Latin American studies. The success of the fellowship program and its reputation have been firmly established, thanks to your own performance and to that of your Fellow-colleagues. As you may know, hundreds of Ford Fellows are now making substantial contributions in teaching, research, government, business and other areas of national need.

In the light of this record the Trustees and staff of the Foundation have no doubt whatsoever about the importance of the Foreign Area Training Fellowship Program, but they have felt that it should be integrated more closely into the nation's higher educational system. It should be added that it was never the intention of the Foundation itself to operate the fellowship program beyond the initial years required to place it on a firm footing.

The new fellowship operation will be known as the Foreign Area Fellowship Program and, as of May 31, 1962, will be located at 444 Madison Avenue, New York 22, New York. The new organization will be directed by Dr. Schuyler C. Wallace who is presently Dean of the School of International Affairs and Regional Institutes at Columbia University and who has been closely associated with the fellowship program from its inception. Both Miss Dorothy Soderlund and Mr. Maurice Harari, with whom you have frequently corresponded, will assist Dr. Wallace, as will the rest of the Foundation's fellowship staff which will be transferred almost intact to the new organization. Maximum continuity will thereby be maintained.

Your record as a Ford Fellow will be transferred to the new operation which will continue to have a genuine interest in your activities. We hope that you will continue to keep in touch.

Cordially yours,

Cleon O. Swayzee, Associate Director

Dear Miss Uchida:

In 1963, a Directory of Foreign Area Fellows was published which included resumes and bibliographical information on 1,214 persons who had received fellowships during the period 1952 through 1963. In view of the interest shown in this publication by universities, colleges, government, research organizations, libraries, and many others, the Foreign Area Fellowship Program plans to republish this Directory in the spring of 1969.

There is enclosed a copy of your entry as it appeared in the previous edition. We would greatly appreciate your assistance in helping us to correct or up-date the information. Under employment, please do not list part-time positions which are not pertinent to your field of interest. Since there is a limitation on space, please list only books, monographs, chapters to books and translations. Book reviews will not be included.

If your plans for next year are not firm, please list your permanent address under "Address."

We will be most grateful for your assistance in helping us to make this Directory as complete and useful as possible, and return the information to us before January 15, 1969.

Sincerely yours,

Dorothy Soderlund
Executive Associate

Dear Miss Uchida:

You will recall that back in 1968 we forwarded to you a draft resume and bibliography which was to be included in a revised edition of the Directory of Foreign Area Fellows. This time, "I kid you not." We are determined to get this edition out just as soon as is humanly possible.

We have retyped the updated resumes you sent us at that time and would again appreciate your taking the time to make any corrections, additions or deletions on the enclosed copy, and return it to us in the enclosed self-addressed envelope. Please note that articles in periodicals are not listed individually, but recognition is given under "contr. to", with the abbreviated names of the periodical. We would, however, like to have the titles of published articles for other purposes. Please list them on a separate sheet.

I hope you will return this information as quickly as possible. It is always very pleasant to hear news of our Former Fellows.

With best regards.

Sincerely yours,
