TWO DEVASTATING VETOES put their mark on labor's experience in the 1985 session of the California Legislature. Governor Deukmejian unfortunately accepted the philosophy of employer organizations in killing AFL-CIO bills that would have raised state workers' compensation and unemployment insurance benefits from among the lowest in the nation.

Forty states had higher workers' compensation benefits than those of California, but the governor vetoed the bill calling for modest improvements. He did the same with unemployment insurance, although 30 states were providing higher benefits.

Across the board Governor Deukmejian vetoed the bills that organized labor fought hardest for in the 1985 session.

He killed the bill that would have required warning signs in farm fields where dangerous pesticides were sprayed. He vetoed the bill to lower the rate of unemployment that triggers extended jobless benefits for eligible workers and the measure to open a study of standards for compensation to workers harmed by occupational disease. He vetoed the bill to prevent railroads from eliminating cabooses, no matter how long the train or how hazardous the cargo. The comparable worth commission that would have investigated sex-based wage discrimination in state employment and made relevant recommendations to the Legislature fell to the governor's veto.

On the positive side, the Governor signed into law 19 AFL-CIO measures including:

The California housing trust fund bill, which makes tidelands revenues available to finance housing for the poor and farm labor housing rehabilitation;

An athletic agents bill providing for the registration of agents who represent sports professionals;

A carcinogens safety standards bill that doubles penalties for guilty employers;

A measure that computes interest owed a worker on unpaid wages from the day the money was first due;

A pesticide contamination bill requiring those who use pesticides to submit impact reports to the Director of Food and Agriculture;

A bill requiring collection and reporting of information on hazardous substances;

A bill to prevent contractors from undertaking major asbestos removal projects without proper licenses.

In sum, the Governor signed 19 measures into law and vetoed 13.

However, the vetoes of the two most important labor bills adopted by the legislature were immeasurably more important than any numbering balance of approvals and rejections.

Fraternally yours,

John F. Henning

Bills Enacted

LABOR STANDARDS ENFORCEMENT

1. SB 11 (Montoya) strengthens the law governing athlete agents.
2. SB 680 (B. Greene) provides that interest on Labor Commissioner awards for unpaid wages shall accrue from the date the wages were due rather than from the date of the Labor Commissioner's or court's decision.

EMPLOYEE RIGHTS

3. SB 1106 (B. Greene) improves the procedures for investigating and adjudicating complaints by employees who have been discriminated against for filing OSHA complaints or other claims under the jurisdiction of the Labor Commissioner.
4. AB 1180 (Hayden) makes it an unlawful employment practice for an employer to discriminate in employment against a person because of a conflict between the person's religious observances and any employment requirement unless no accommodation of the religious observance can be made without undue hardship on the conduct of the business.

SAFETY AND HEALTH

5. AB 824 (Margolin) increases civil penalties for serious violations of the Occupational Carcinogens Control Act from $1,000 to $2,000 and the minimum penalty for repeated serious violations from $5,000 to $10,000.
6. AB 1042 (Jones) renews the state's Hazardous Substances Information and Training Act and conforms it, where required, to the federal Hazard Communication Standard.
7. AB 2040 (Davis) requires contractors performing asbestos related work to pass an asbestos certification examination and takes other steps to protect employees performing asbestos related work.
8. SB 495 (Petris) requires the State Department of Health Services to establish an occupational health and disease prevention program by January 1, 1988 and gives the Department access to places of employment and records to carry out research, health hazard evaluations and epidemiological surveillance.

ENVIRONMENT

9. AB 1286 (Hannigan) requires, with certain exceptions, all water closets sold or installed in California be water conservation water closets.
10. AB 2021 (Connelly) requires registrants of economic poisons used in agriculture to submit information to the Director of Food and Agriculture relating to the impact of the poison on water sources and takes other steps to protect groundwaters from contamination.
11. AB 2184 (M. Waters) requires the Legislative Analyst to prepare a report on hazardous materials with recommendations as to the sources, content and methods of collection of data for a statewide inventory of the handling of hazardous materials.
12. AB 2185 (M. Waters) requires businesses and local governments handling hazardous materials to prepare emergency response plans and to report any release or threatened release of hazardous materials.

HOUSING

13. AB 1677 (Condit) makes successors of a landlord liable for repayment of the unused portion of a security deposit when the tenant vacates and the original landlord refuses to pay.

14. SB 478 (Petrís) establishes and allocates $20 million to the California Housing Trust Fund to develop low income housing programs and the Farm Labor Housing Rehabilitation Loan Program to provide loans to restore farm-worker housing.

CHILD CARE

15. SB 303 (Roberti) establishes and funds an extended day care program for the children of working parents.

DISABILITY INSURANCE

16. SB 557 (Watson) requires initial state disability insurance benefit payment to be made within 14 days of the receipt of a properly completed claim.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

17. AB 1575 (McAlister) prohibits federal old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits from being offset against an individual's unemployment compensation benefits retroactive to November 1, 1980 and provides state funding for local government unemployment insurance benefits.

JOB PRESERVATION

18. SB 1148 (Dills) revises and extends the life of a statute providing lower electrical rates for steel producers and precludes companies who substantially reduce employment in their California plants from eligibility for such rates.

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

19. SB 474 (Morgan) authorizes the State Department of Transportation to make bulk purchases of passenger tickets for commuter trains serving the San Francisco Peninsula corridor and resell them at less than cost and protects present ticket sales employees from layoff.

Bills Passed, But Vetoed

WORKERS' COMPENSATION

1. SB 370 (Petrís) would have created an Office of Occupational Disease Compensation within the Department of Industrial Relations to recommend to the legislature presumptive standards to establish eligibility for workers' compensation in disease cases.

2. SB 1273 (Lockyer) would have increased maximum workers' compensation temporary disability benefits from $224 a week to $273 a week and increased death benefits from $70,000 to $85,000 for one survivor and from $95,000 to $115,000 for multiple survivors.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

3. SB 390 (Rosenthal) would have increased maximum weekly unemployment compensation benefits from the current $166 to $181, in 1986, $196 in 1987 and $211 in 1988.

4. AB 620 (Floyd) would have reduced the percentage of the insured unemployment needed to trigger state extended unemployment benefits from 6% to 5%.

EMPLOYEE RIGHTS

5. AB 7 (Klehs) would have prohibited employers from requiring job applicants to take personality tests unless such tests are job related as determined by standards published by the American Psychological Association.

6. SB 1197 (Dills) would have required transit districts to provide equal representation to labor organizations on retirement system boards.

SAFETY AND HEALTH

7. SB 269 (Petriss) would have required growers to post warning signs around fields which had been sprayed with pesticides that make it unsafe for workers to reenter for 48 hours or more after spraying.

8. AB 376 (Floyd) would have made governmental entities subject to the same civil OSHA penalties as private employers.

9. AB 2151 (Eaves) would have renewed and strengthened the state's Hazardous Substances Information and Training Act.

10. SB 719 (Alquist) would have required freight trains carrying hazardous materials to have a caboose staffed by qualified operating personnel.

SOUTH AFRICAN APARTHEID

11. AB 1134 (M. Waters) would have required the state to disinvest its pension funds and other monies from business firms doing business in South Africa or with the government of South Africa.

COMPARABLE WORTH

12. SB 2 (Roberti) would have created a Commission on Pay Equity to study state compensation and classification plans with the aim of identifying and correcting inequities between female-dominated and male-dominated classes of employees.

JOB PRESERVATION

13. AB 1696 (McClintock) would have enabled California printers to better compete with out of state printers by lifting the sales tax from materials printed here and delivered to customers in other states.
