L Heller, Paul.

An annotated bibliography of Black history.
San Francisco, Human Rights Commission, 1969.

INTRODUCTION TO ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY OF BLACK HISTORY

In compiling this bibliography of Black history I have tried to arrange the books by subject matter in the following way:

- Part 1-Black history up to the Civil War
- Part 2-From the Civil War to Present Time
- Part 3-Complete Histories in one volume or volumes
- Part 4-Biographies of famous Black Men
- Part 5-The African Heritage

This bibliography is a collection of selected bibliographies from various sources. Most of these books can be borrowed from the Main Library or the Mechanics Library. Some of these books can be purchased at Marcus's Book Shop opposite the Civic Center Museum on McAllister Street.

This Bibliography is a collection of books aimed at the High School level and above.

Hughes, Langston, and Meltzer, E. Milton. A PICTORIAL HISTORY OF THE NEGRO IN AMERICA. Highlights contributing factors that have led to the contemporary racial strife in America. Fully illustrated with photographs, drawings, documents, letters, tables, maps etc. Good source for quick information on essential factors of Negro history.

Katz, William Loren, TEACHER'S GUIDE TO AMERICAN NEGRO HISTORY. Chicago, Quadrangle Books, 1968 192pp. Valuable reference guide to American Negro history, divided into chronologically arranged units with careful and pertinent annotations and bibliography listings.

Meltzer, Milton ed. IN THEIR OWN WORDS: A HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN NEGRO. New York, Thomas Crowell Co. (3 vol) Vol.1 (1619-1865) Vol.11 (1865-1916) Vol.111 (1916-1966). Through letters, diaries, journals, speeches, and the testimony of Negroes, the reader gains an authentic picture of a tragic and heroic phase of American history. In these expressions of hope and sorrow, present-day Americans find inspirations as they continue the civil rights struggle.

Ottley, Roi and Weatherby, William J. (ed) The Negro in New York. The New York Public Library, 1967. An informal social history from 1626 when the first 11 Negroes arrived in New Amsterdam through the 1930's in Harlem.

Parsons, Talcott and Clark, Kenneth B. editors. THE NEGRO AMERICAN. Boston Mifflin Company and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, 781 P., Illus, Index, reference. The study presents the collection of 34 contributors, divided into 7 chapters. The papers testify to the interlocking effects of deprivation in education, in housing, in employment, in citizenship and in the entire range of human endeavor by which personality is formed.

Quarles, Benjamin and Sterling, Dorothy, THE NEGRO IN THE MAKING OF AMERICA. New York, Collier Books, 1964. 288pp. Influence of the Negro in the United States from Pre-Revolutionary days to the 1960's.

Redding, Saunders, THE NEGRO. Washington, D.C. Potomac Books, 1967. 101 pages. This comprehensive book is divided into 4 parts and 8 chapters. The purpose of this book is to trace in historical sequence, but in topical outline, one of the major issues in American Life.

Redding, Saunders, THE LONESOME ROAD: THE STORY OF THE NEGRO IN AMERICA, Doubleday, 1958. A popular history of the Negro in America which selects and analyzes the positive contributions of significant Negroes, some of them well-known and some not.

Woodson, Carter, THE NEGRO IN OUR HISTORY, Assoc. Pub. Washington, 1922. Good readable text by Howard University historian, covers the history of the problem.
