

Among pressure groups communicating with Congressman Anderson the Grower-Shipper Vegetable Association was represented by seven letters, all advocating evacuation. The American Legion sent six, Boards of Supervisors and Chambers of Commerce three each, and Russell Avery's Pacific League two. The Western Growers Protective Association was heard from three times, the Native Sons of the Golden West once.

Mr. F. B. Sun, Secretary
Filipino Labor Supply Association, Inc.
c/o Caballeros de Mas Along, Inc.
116 Weller Street
Los Angeles, California

My dear Mr. Sun:

The Filipinos and the Americans, not to mention other nationalities, are now faced with the necessity of successfully prosecuting the war against the Axis, and especially the Japanese. We are sure that you and your associates fully realize that every act in each of our lives is either for or against our present main objective.

We know how all of you feel, and when we say all, we include the officials of your organizations and the prominent men of your country, down to the lowliest worker in whatever job he may have. All true Americans feel just like you do, and that is, that we want the Japanese taken out of our midst as completely as possible.

The question is, how can this be best accomplished?

In any action that we contemplate, we must take into consideration the laws of our country. These laws must be complied with, but let us not forget that they can be changed, and during emergencies many times are completely abrogated.

Most Americans and most, if not all Filipinos are refusing to do business with Japanese on any basis. Leases are being cancelled, deals with shippers cancelled, shippers are refusing to buy from Japanese or sell to them, and generally in the case of your Filipino workers, they are refusing to work with Japanese. All of which action apparently is justified, but does not accomplish what we are after.

Those Japanese nationals and American born Japanese, who are loyal to the United States must be taken into consideration, but who is there among us who can tell which are loyal and which are not. Therefore, for the protection of the loyal Japanese, and for the protection of American citizens, especially those on the Pacific Coast, all Japanese, regardless of nationality, should be placed somewhere in the interior of the United States, either interned or equally effective supervision so that they would be powerless to take any action against American lives or property.

This war has been full of surprises, of most unusual and unexpected action. Anything seems possible. While we have utmost confidence in our Army, Navy and Air Force, we have a tremendous coast line to guard, and in the event that even a small surprise landing party were successful, at any point along the Coast, those enemy Japanese; now at large in our midst, could and undoubtedly would join forces with the invaders and cause tremendous loss of lives and property, which could be avoided if they were all interned or empounded where they would be powerless.

It would be far better to injure those Japanese who are loyal to the United States than to find out too late that we made the mistake of not interning the Japanese.

It is suggested that if it meets with your approval in your deliberations at your Convention, that you frame resolutions along the lines outlined in this letter and send them to your representatives in Washington and other parts of the United States, to the President of the United States, to the President of the Phillipine Islands, to all of the congressmen and senators in Washington from California, Arizona, and any other states from which your people have come and are now in Convention. Also send similar resolutions to the Governors of the interested states, senators, assemblymen, and perhaps a similar resolution could be sent to Lieutenant General John L. DeWitt, Commander of the Fourth Army, Presidio of San Francisco.

May we suggest again that you do not take any action which might be in violation of our laws.

We bespeak a most successful Convention for you, and assure you of our heartiest support of all constructive activities directed by yourselves in the future.

Sincerely yours,

Congressman John Z. Anderson
House office Building
Washington, D.C.

Dear Jack:

Enclosed is a copy of a letter we have just sent to a convention of an organization of Filipinos throughout the state, it may include several states. The letter is almost self-explanatory, but does not show the real reason for the letter, which is to stop, if possible, a general boycott, which we do not feel would be productive of good and might defeat our immediate objective, which is the complete removal of Japanese from California.

We are not going to try to tell you what to do about this. We know that you know better than we do, and we also know you are going to take the necessary action to make California safe for Americans.

Believe me, when I say that this letter and the letter to the Filipinos in Convention is not prompted in any way with the thought of using the present emergency as a means of eliminating Japanese competition. We believe, however, for the protection of future generations of Californians and Americans, no Japanese even though he be born in America, should be permitted to own land. Why? Because who is there to tell which if any Japanese are at all loyal to the United States, but who instead are undoubtedly loyal to Japan. We may go so far as to say fanatically loyal to Japan, and we believe you will find that the history of any piece of land that has passed into the hands of the Japanese, has never again been transferred into the hands of any White.

We feel sure that you will agree that if the laws of our land are such that Japanese, American born, can own land; eventually there will be sufficiently large number of American born to secure an increasingly large number of acres, until finally our entire state would be in the same category as we now find Guadalupe.

These people, you know, do not think like we do, nor do we think like they do. They cannot be assimilated. They will not blend with our people, and since that is true, they should be restricted forever from owning any land or property in our country.

I cannot give you the source, but it is more than a rumor, Jack, that in the Imperial Valley, a group of Filipinos met and were drawing names of individual Japanese out of a box to be "taken care of" by those drawing the name. This action was stopped, only by the prompt and intelligent interference of one of our law enforcement officers.

Congressman J.Z. Anderson

January 16, 1942

What do you suppose is going to happen, Jack, when the casualty lists from the Phillipine Islands start coming into the Filipinos in the United States, and the letters that will come along with them or follow them, telling of the atrocities and the death of brothers, sisters, mothers, and fathers, etc. It will be a tremendous surprise to all those who know Filipinos and Japanese, and you are among them, if some definite action is not immediately taken, as soon as the extent of the devastation in the Phillipine Islands becomes known to the Filipinos here.

To avoid that very thing, as well as for definite safety measures as outlined in our letter to the Filipinos, all Japanese should be empounded or interned, restricted, confined or have something done with them, that will make them absolutely powerless and take them out of the reach of those who might seek to destroy them for revenge.

Undoubtedly, J. Edgar Hoover and his assistants and his officers do have a pretty good idea of the California situation, but they would absolutely have to be super-men could they pick and separate all the Japanese, both American born and foreign born, who could be depended on to be loyal to the United States and those who could not.

Feeling is running higher and higher here, more especially among the Filipinos than the Americans, but it would not take very much of a "match" to start a terrific conflagration.

I am fully aware that the American born Japanese has just as much rights under the Constitution as I have or you have, but certainly something can be done to remove the threat that hangs over our heads and also, to protect that same Japanese who has American citizens' rights.

What can we do to help you to get fast action through the Congress, if necessary, to interne all Japanese?

With best personal regards,

Sincerely yours,

Hon. J. Z. Anderson
House of Representatives
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:

On the assumption that where there is much "smoke" there must be some "fire", I am taking the liberty of addressing you on a matter which, if recent publicity is true, is of grave importance, not only to California, but to the nation as a whole. It is in reference to the actual status of alien Japanese in California.

It may be of interest to you to know that just recently there has been some quiet but persistent effort made by a number of organizations in California to arouse interest to find out the actual situation existing on the Pacific Coast, as far as Japanese aliens are concerned. I thought you are entitled to this information, because it is my opinion that the civilian population should not usurp any of the powers of Government in these matters in times like those through which we are passing. However, I can understand the anxiety on the part of a great number of people constantly living under the shadow of a possible attack by our enemies, in view of recent publicity which has been rather widespread.

It is about those public statements that I wanted to write you, inquiring as to their authenticity and what has been done in regard to the situation presented. In making that request, I am asking no fact that would have any military significance. I am fully aware of the great danger in disclosing any of our policies. The publicity which I refer to, and which has caused some speculation among Californians is, first, an article by Stanley High, in the January, 1942, number of the Readers Digest, the first sentence of the opening paragraph being as follows:

"Japan is ready, in case of war, to hit us hard -- from the inside."

He then goes on to cite in detail some very disturbing facts, which, if true and not corrected, would be a real cause for concern in the event of an attack on the Pacific Coast by either Japan or any of our Axis enemies.

On last Friday evening, John B. Hughes, the well-known news commentator, in the course of a broadcast, pointed out the fact that Canada and Mexico had already taken steps to immobilize alien Japanese who were located close to the Coast lines, even though in the case of Canada it had meant the disruption of the fishing industry.

Hon. J.Z. Anderson

January 21, 1942

He commented on the fact that there seemed to be a good deal of complacency in California in reference to the alien Japanese situation.

On Tuesday, January 18, 1942, our local paper, the Mercury Herald, carried a front page article entitled, "LOYALTY OF JAP-AMERICANS QUESTIONED BY LEGISLATORS." In that article the statement was made that one of the Senators "had previously charged an organized movement was being made to pack State civil service lists with Japanese," and in his opinion "at least 50 per cent of these so-called loyal American citizens were not loyal at all." It has been recently stated, although my knowledge of the fact is purely hearsay, that one of the officers of the State Highway Patrol had made the assertion that the civil service lists had gotten to the point where it would be necessary to hire Japanese having civil service preference in that very essential and vital service. The inference in the article was that some on that list were not loyal to the United States.

If those statements are true, then loyal American citizens of California should be assured that proper action is being taken to safeguard the residents in this area. If the statements are not true, they should be corrected or denied. If accepted by any great part of the public, they may very easily lead to a racial situation that will be highly dangerous, especially in view of the great many Filipinos whom we also have in our midst.

Are we safe in assuming that with the facts known as stated by Stanley High in his article in the Readers Digest the Federal Government is fully cognizant of the inherent dangers and is doing what is necessary to minimize them?

Here and there we hear and see a so-called "business as usual" attitude, which might influence those charged with the responsibility of safeguarding our interests to become lax in their duty. The employment of large numbers of alien Japanese in the fruit, vegetable and fish industries in California should not be allowed to influence our judgment in meeting any real menace. Certainly no one who is a sincere adherent of the democratic principle of protecting the Constitutional rights of property or life of all persons, regardless of nationality, color, and creed, wants to promote any arbitrary or unjust protective measures against our loyal aliens. We must be very careful that we do not allow that spirit of justice to become tinged with too much sentiment.

We must be realistic, and realism should impress us with the fact, as Walter Winchell recently said, that we should be more concerned with the lives and safety of our own boys who are fighting for the Constitution, than for the legal claims of our enemies, even though these are made under the Constitution. I think we can all be in accord with that sentiment, and still be just to those aliens within our borders who find themselves in the unfortunate predicament in which they have been placed by the actions of their own Government.

January 21, 1942

After all is said and done, the thinking people of California feel that if there are any borderline cases of questionable loyalty which for the present at least result in seeming injustice to those within our borders who are aliens, the burden should be carried by them rather than allowing any legal rights to jeopardize our national safety.

The loyal Americans of California recognize ~~a~~ the tremendous responsibility that has been placed upon our leaders and upon our representatives in Congress. We are absolutely in accord with the policies and everything that is being done to preserve our heritage as free Americans. The matters about which I have written are really not directly tied to the great effort that is now being made to produce implements of warfare. I think the main concern in California is to see that if we have within our borders those who might be ~~Japs~~ tempted to turn against us in case of an attack, whether they be Japanese, Italians, or Germans, safeguards be worked out to sterilize the ability which they may have to render assistance to those with whom we are at war.

I realize the fact that what I have written to you are probably all matters within your knowledge. If the situation is recognized and being dealt with, you may just ignore this letter. I recognize and subscribe to the policy that the average citizen is not entitled to any information, if it would be any help to our enemies. I, like many others, am willing to forego the privilege of knowing what is going on, but would appreciate the assurance that the situation stated is realized and being dealt with.

With kindest personal regards, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Don Cavallaro (signed)

January 22, 1942

Congressman John Z. Anderson
House of Representatives
Washington, D.C.

Dear Jack:

I notice by this morning's San Francisco Examiner that Congressman Leland M. Ford of Santa Monica being thoroughly alarmed over the seriousness of the Japanese situation on the Pacific Coast, announced yesterday that he would urge government officials to move all Japanese, native born and alien, to concentration camps.

Washington is too far removed from California to fully realize the potential danger of 96,000 Japanese in our midst. Particularly when it is not far-fetched or beyond the realm of possibility that at least 25,000 of these Japanese, in the event of invasion, by exchanging civilian clothing for uniforms are full fledged members of the Japanese armed forces.

At present Japanese are allowed to go about and conduct their business as loyal American citizens. Are they allowing our nationals in the Philippines and Japan to do this? Certainly not. But with usual American complacency and the "It can't happen here" attitude, we allow these yellow termites to keep burrowing and preparing for "Der Tag" when the Japanese, as they have proclaimed, will dictate peace terms to the United States of America from our capitol in Washington.

As a Californian and red-blooded American citizen, isn't it time that serious representations be made by you to our government, of which you are a part, to curtail Japanese activities on the Pacific Coast?

I suggest:

1. That all Japanese, whether national or native born, be required to register, producing birth certificates, and all those who cannot produce American birth certificates, ~~and~~ immediately be placed in concentration camps at least 300 miles West of the Pacific Coast line.
2. That all American born Japanese be required to report to local police authorities at least once a week.
3. That no Japanese be permitted to leave the community where residing without a police permit, and no Japanese be permitted to work in defense industries.

4. That all Japanese be requested to move inland at least 300 miles, and no Japanese be permitted within 300 miles of the Pacific Coast line under death penalty.

5. That the possession of firearms or ammunition of any kind by Japanese be prohibited under death penalty.

6. That all Japanese funds and properties be immediately frozen and placed under control of alien custodian. Financial interests, notably banks (who have funds loaned to Japanese) and canneries have by insidious propaganda been able to influence and soften the original Treasury restrictions on Japanese funds and properties to a point where today the Japanese operate just as if we were not at war with their government. Their representation that the removal of Japanese from California would cause a serious dislocation of food supplies is false. Although in some sections they control a large portion of the vegetable industry, their so-called domination of the industry in California actually amounts to less than 10% of the total.

I am enclosing herewith some excerpts from "News & Views by John B. Hughes", broadcasts of January 5 to 16, inclusive. They should prove interesting, instructive, and the basis of necessary action to remove all Japanese from the vital coastal section of California.

We must fight fire with fire. We are dealing with an unscrupulous, treacherous, blood-thirsty enemy whose only desire is the conquest of the Pacific Coast of the United States as well as the subjugation of the entire United States.

Sincerely yours,

S. V. Christiernson (s)
