THE TONY BARRETT COLLECTION # 120.

Register by Lawrence Fargo.

(completed 10 March 78.)

THE TONY BARRETT COLLECTION #120.

This register is so much more than an inventory. 135 boxes and over 600 scripts can easily scare away any user from a collection. To encourage users, to give them a good view of the Tony Barrett Collection, to show them the vast wealth of information stored here, this register itemizes everything. From a small piece of paper (a scrap) to large set designs, all are listed, described, and paginated. Much of the information inside the collection itself is shown -- like names, titles, purposes, dates.

Have you ever wondered: Who produced Peter Gunn? Who directed Burke's Law? What ideas were re-worked in a particular episode? Who wrote an episode for The Mod Squad? What difficulties does a writer face when writing a script for a certain producer? What are the best methods for transforming an idea into a finished script? Memos, letters, bills, and fan mail -- they are here also, each described as to subject and as to length. Thus the register saves the user time, provides him information, and directs his search.

TWO EXAMPLES:

- #3: - script. FEAR IS A BUCKING HORSE. The Mod Squad. by TB. 68p.
 (final draft, 11.19.68) memo. Prod.: TB & Harve Bennett. pencil comments.
- scraps. legal pad. ink. re: plotting, characters, setting, etc. (7p.)

Two items bisected (what is being said?):

First item.

#3 = number of a folder in a box.

- = symbol preceding an item.

script = declares what the item is; other possible descriptions are:
 scrap, scraps, memo, production report, etc.

FEAR IS A . . . = names the scripts' episode title.

The Mod Squad. = names the TV series.

by TB = who wrote the episodes' script? TB (short for Tony Barrett; look at list of abbreviations).

(final draft, . . .) = date of the script named.

Memo = what condition is the script in? It could be an original, or carbon, or memo. Each of these demark the stage of development a script undergoes before production. Memo is the final stage, though additional or changed pages are possible.

Prod.: TB & Harve Bennett = this is the name of the series producers.
 Prod.: is short for producer.

pencil comments = a producer could make comments about the script for more changes or for the director's assistance.

68p. = names the scripts' pagination.

Second item.

- = names or precedes an item.

scraps = declares what type of item this is. Scrap means an item torn from a piece of paper, none of its edges are cut or straight. TB uses these for quick notes and plotting his stories.

(p. 2 -- items bisected)

ink. = what was written on each piece of paper? Ink, typewriting, pencil, all are possible. This item is written in ink.

legal pad. = what kind of paper is this scrap? Another way to tell it apart from another scrap. Typing paper, white writing paper, yellow paper, etc., all these are possible. Legal pad is yellow paper, lined, and mounted on a cardboard. Look at list of abbreviations.

re: = short for in reference to, or referring to. This describes what an item discusses.

plotting, characters, . . . = these follow "re:" and describe the subject discussed.

(7p.) = this numbers the scraps (pagination).

TONY BARRETT COLLECTION # 120. LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS.

TB	A substitute for Tony Barrett.
scraps	Most writers like TB wrote his ideas or random thoughts down on a piece of paper. Instead of mounting them on a story board (a cork board hanging on the wall), he arranged them on a table or desk surface. This way he could experiment with ideas or moves or scenes or characters without typing or writing entire pages.
xerox	Knowing whether an item is xeroxed or not is important. This is a stage in finalizing a script into production. Or if a production report is xeroxed then someone else has the original copy. Xerox is a "casual" second copy as opposed to a memeo copy.
carbon	Before xerox machines carbon was the only copy. But TB continued to use them with draft scripts. This was his working copy. This version was not always the final script. Nothing was sacred about it.
by	This register makes no attempt at duplicating the proper format making-up a catalogue card. If a script says "teleplay by" or "written by", this register shortens the writing credit down to "by."
re:	Means "in reference to." Thus another short-cut at getting to the meaning of an item as quickly and incisively as possible.
2nd copy two copies	Each item is a copy. Any additional copies are put: "plus 2nd copy" or "two copies." A 2nd copy means that there is another copy besides the original item. Whereas two copies mean that there are two copies more than the original copy.
newsprint yellow typing paper lined paper legal pad	TB used all these kinds of paper when writing. All were typed and printed on in ink. The stage of his writing production determined the kind of paper he wrote on. For instance, his final scene sequence was always written on legal pad in type. Or a script typed on newsprint meant a rough draft.

ABBREVIATIONS.

poss. = possible.

TB = Tony Barrett

Prod.: = producer

dir.: = director

w/ = with

AS = Aaron Spelling

re: = referring to

WGA = Writers Guild of America

by = names author.

assoc. = associate

Prods. = production (s) ink = handwritten in ink.

typed = typewritten.

pgs = pages.

SB = Steffi Barrett

S & TB = Steffi & Tony Barrett.

Het = Het Mannheim.

bkgrd = background.

story: = names author of story idea,
though not author of script.

LIST OF REPORTS TONY BARRETT MAINTAINED AS A PRODUCER:

1. Daily Production Report = For an hour TV series, each episode has seven days for shooting. This report accounts for each day. It lists scenes and shooting schedule.
2. Shooting Schedule = What is shot on a given day? What scenes? This report lists the scenes. Very flexible to what is happening with the script. Take or add a page to the script and this schedule easily adapts.
3. 72 Hour Estimated Cost Report = The scenes are listed, cast expenses listed, and outside costs listed, this report adds everything up. Rough estimates on an episodes expenses.
4. Call Sheet = Who is acting in a particular episode? This report lists main and minor characters and all extras. Usually made out for each day.
5. Notice Of Tentative Writing Credits = A producer writes the Writers Guild to report who wrote a certain script. The guild, of course, might not agree.
6. Rough Cut Screening Report = An executive at ABC TV fills out this report for the series' producer. The report lists what ABC not not accept on the screen. The executive makes the report from a private screening. Producer must comply with the report's list.
7. Shooting Script Review = After the producer accepts a revised script, he submits it to the network execs. This report is their comments -- i.e. demands, for a producer seldom can change their minds or this reports' list.
8. Screen credits = Who gets credit for producing and appearing in this episode? Staff and cast listed and reported.
9. Advance Shooting Schedule = Producer wants to know shooting schedule, in advance. At the studio or on location, an episode must be planned out. Budget is overriding reason.
10. Show Cost Report = Six to 12 episodes later, a producer must know how much money has been spent. Thus able to plan cost for future shows.
11. Day-out-of-days = Scheduling and budgeting, both are important and reported here. After producing an episode, how much money and time are left for the next show? This report says.

(2p. -- List of reports a producer maintains.)

12. Call Back Morning = What cast members and staff are called in for the next day to finish a scene or start another scene? This reports says it all.
13. Production budget = Where does all the money go? Episodes are broadcast but how was the money spent? This report can project expenditure or past expenses of completed episodes.
