In 1877, a wharf with a rail line was constructed connecting the Railroad Wharf to a nearby wharf that extended from Beach Hill (Steamship Wharf). This link and Steamship Wharf were demolished in 1882.

Note: I determined the date based on photo archives online. The train station as it appears in negative #2339 is similar to a 1897 picture of the train station from the Monterey Public Library Archives. The next picture I was able to find of the train station was from the year 1948. In this image the station has obviously undergone major restoration/reconstruction.
