

The Presidential Historical materials of the First Lady's Press Office in the custody of the National Archives and Records Administration under the provisions of Title I of the Presidential Recordings and Materials Preservation Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-526, 88 Stat. 1695) and implementing regulations. In accordance with the Act and agency regulations, archivists reviewed the file group to identify personal and private materials and non-historical items. These items have been returned.

Materials covered by the Act have been archivally processed and are described in this register. Items that are security classified or otherwise restricted under the Act and regulations have been removed and placed in a closed file. A Document Withdrawal Record (GSA Form 7279) with a description of each restricted document has been inserted at the beginning of each folder from which materials have been removed. A Document Control Record marks the original position of the withdrawn item.

Employees of the National Archives will review periodically the unclassified portions of closed materials for the purpose of opening those which no longer require restriction. Certain classified documents may be declassified under authority of Executive Order 13526 in response to a Mandatory Review Request (NA Form 14020) submitted by the researcher.

Organization Note

The First Lady's Press Office was responsible for communications with the press corps regarding the activities of Mrs. Nixon and the First Family. Gerry Van der Heuvel served as the First Lady's Press Secretary from January to October 1969. She was followed by Constance Stuart, who served from October 1969 to the spring of 1973. Upon her departure, her assistant, Helen Smith, took over as Press Secretary until the end of the Nixon administration. The office held bi-weekly press briefings and produced press releases. The office was responsible for organizing press coverage for various events, trips, and activities, as well as fielding requests by members of the press for interviews with the First Family.

Scope and Content Note

The First Lady's Press office contains information relative to the activities of the Press Office staff. These activities included conducting press briefings, disseminating press releases, compiling news summaries, and working with various media outlets to publicize events and promote the image of Mrs. Nixon and members of the First Family.

There were three Press Secretaries during the Nixon administration: Gerry Van der Heuvel, Constance "Connie" Stuart, and Helen Smith. Materials in this collection predominately reflect the Press Office under the direction of Connie Stuart. In addition to her role as Press Secretary, Stuart also served as a staff director. As a result of this dual role, many of the materials deal with administrative matters, scheduling, appointments, correspondence, and the planning of trips and social events. As evidenced in the files, her staff worked closely with various offices throughout the White House and the government. These offices include, but are not limited to, the Department of State and the United States Information Agency, the Visitors Office, the White House Police, the Social Entertainments Office, and the Chief Usher's Office.

This collection is comprised of eight series: the Chronological Files series, the Events series, the Subject Files series, the Press Briefings series, the Press Releases series, the Staff Files series, the Miscellaneous Files series, and the Audiovisual Materials Files series. The Events series is broken down into several subseries: the Trips Files, the Christmas Files, the Church Services Files, the Dinner Files, the Evenings at the White House Files, the Inauguration Files, the Prince Charles and Princess Anne Visit Files, and the Wedding Files. The Miscellaneous Files series is broken down into Background Information, Press Coverage, and Publications. The types of materials in this collection include press releases, press briefing transcripts, memoranda, notes, reports, telegrams, and speeches, among others. These files also include a very large volume of newspaper clippings and magazine articles that were kept by the office.

In order to gain a better understanding of this collection, one would benefit from reading the transcript of Connie Stuart's Exit Interview. Related materials can be found in the White House Central Files, Staff Members and Office Files of Sanford Fox, Gwendolyn King, Susan Porter, and Lucy Winchester.

Series Description

Series: Chronological Files

Boxes: 1-73

Spans: 1969-1974

Description: The first series consists of materials relating to the First Family's public appearances during the majority of their time at the White House. The materials include press statements, correspondence between event organizers and members of the East Wing staff, internal memorandum concerning arrangements for events and travel, and newspaper clippings. The series is arranged chronologically by individual, i.e., Mrs. Nixon, Julie, David, Tricia, and Ed.

Series: Events

Boxes: 74-102

Spans: 1966-1974

Description: The Events series contains material related to a variety of activities in which Mrs. Nixon or the First Family took part, including trips taken or the honoring of guests at the White House. The materials contained in these files document the role the Press Office played in publicizing, and in some cases organizing, these events. The Events series is broken down into the eight subseries described below.

- Subseries: Trip Files

Boxes: 74-84

Spans: 1969-1974

Description: This series contains materials related to trips Mrs. Nixon undertook during her tenure as First Lady. Mrs. Nixon accompanied President Nixon on many of his official visits abroad (e.g., China, Russia, and the Middle East), but also embarked on solo trips. While trips taken with the President are documented in this series, the solo trips are the primary focus. The Press Office staff worked to plan press coverage of these trips and also to collect information on how these visits were reported in the media. In addition to the press concerns, Connie Stuart and her staff members worked on other aspects of the trips, such as schedules and scenarios. Notable foreign trips include Mrs. Nixon's June 1970 trip to Peru after the country experienced a devastating earthquake and her January 1972 trip to Africa where she was the President's representative to the inauguration of President Tolbert of Liberia. Notable domestic trips include her visits to various college campuses in March of 1970 to promote the cause of volunteerism and her Legacy of Parks tour in August 1971. Materials such as telegrams, remarks, press releases, newsclippings, news summaries, and reports make up this file series. These materials are arranged alphabetically by the name of the country visited or type of tour.

- Subseries: Christmas Files

Boxes: 85-87, 102

Spans: 1969-1973

Description: The Christmas Files series is predominately focused on media coverage of the First Family and the White House during the holiday season. The majority of materials are press releases, press summaries, and newspaper clippings regarding White House decorations, the arrival of the White House Christmas tree, candlelight tours, and Christmas parties held at the White House for staff members and children. Samples of the White House Christmas card and gifts for staff members can be found in this file series. The materials are arranged chronologically.

- Subseries: Church Services Files

Boxes: 88-89

Spans: 1969-1974

Description: This file series contains information related to Church Services (also referred to as Worship Services) held at the White House. Materials include press releases, memoranda related to press coverage, programs, and biographies of the religious leaders of the services and any performance groups. Materials are arranged chronologically.

- Subseries: Dinner Files

Boxes: 90-96

Spans: 1969-1974

Description: The materials that comprise the Dinner Files series document the visits to the White House of world leaders and other distinguished guests. The materials mainly document the State Dinners held by the Nixon administration; however, dinners and luncheons were held to honor guests such as the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, and members of the administration, such as Secretary William Rogers. The First Lady's Press Office worked to coordinate press coverage of the dinners, as well as the entertainment that followed. Materials include guest lists, work papers related to press coverage, and press releases. Materials are arranged chronologically.

- Subseries: Evenings at the White House Files

Boxes: 97

Spans: 1970-1973

Description: Throughout the course of the Nixon administration, Evenings at the White House were held for President and Mrs. Nixon and their guests. These evenings showcased a variety of talented performers across several genres. Solo entertainers included Johnny Cash, David Frost, Beverly Sills, and Sammy Davis, Jr. There was also a showing of the musical "1776." Materials include press releases and publicity information regarding the entertainers. Materials are arranged chronologically.

- Subseries: Inauguration Files

Boxes: 97-98, 102

Spans: 1972-1973

Description: The Inauguration Files series contains copies of the 1973 Inauguration program and guidebook. These files also contain sketches of Inaugural clothing (gowns, dress, coats, etc.) produced for Mrs. Nixon, Tricia, and Julie by designers such as Adele Simpson and Jeffrey Wren.

- Subseries: Prince Charles and Princess Anne Visit Files

Boxes: 98-99

Spans: 1970

Description: These files contain information related to the visit of Prince Charles and Princess Anne to Washington, D.C. in the summer of 1970. Connie Stuart's staff was responsible for the planning of their stay. A large portion of these files are dedicated to newspaper clippings of outings taken with Tricia, Julie, and David, for example, a picnic at Camp David, sightseeing, and attending a Washington Nationals baseball game. Other materials document the organization of the schedule, the arrangement of press coverage, and the coordination efforts with the British Embassy. Materials are arranged alphabetically.

- Subseries: Wedding Files

Boxes: 99-101

Spans: 1966 - 1971

Description: The Wedding Files contain information related to the weddings of four former Presidential daughters. The files begin with Julie Nixon's December 1968 wedding to David Eisenhower in New York. These files contain materials related to press coverage of the events, as well as press releases documenting details, such as the dresses worn by Julie, Mrs. Nixon, and the bridesmaids. At this time, press relations were handled by Gerry Van der Heuvel. With regard to Tricia's June 1971 White House wedding, this series contains press releases, press information packets, pool report transcripts, and press requests and press coverage from a variety of media outlets. Connie Stuart and staff handled coverage for this wedding. In addition to the weddings of the Nixon daughters, this series contains press releases, pool report transcripts, and newspaper articles regarding the 1966 wedding of Luci Baines Johnson and the 1967 wedding of Lynda Bird Johnson. The Press Secretary for the Lady Bird Johnson was Liz Carpenter.

Series: Subject Files

Boxes: 103-117

Spans: 1969-1974

Description: The Subject Files series contains information on a variety of topics related to Mrs. Nixon, the First Family, and the Nixon administration. Topics range from the rather broad "General" and "Miscellaneous" to extremely specific events, such as a folder reserved for a news story involving a helicopter crashing onto the White House lawn. The files are organized alphabetically (often times by a keyword in the files name) and do not appear to have been used for reference purposes. Rather, the files appear to have been a catch-all for articles, press releases, newspaper clippings, and other such materials on various topics or events. A notable topic in these files would be the redecoration of the White House (material can be found under the headings "Acquisitions," "Redecoration," or "Rooms, White House.") The Subject Files series also is valuable to gain a better understanding of the Press Office's relationship with the "Press Ladies." These files contain requests by press members for interviews with Mrs. Nixon, Julie, or Tricia, and also contain folders dedicated to particular press members, e.g., Helen Thomas and Maxine Chesire.

Series: Press Briefings

Boxes: 118-120

Spans: 1969-1972

Description: Connie Stuart established bi-weekly briefings – one on Monday morning and another on Thursday afternoon – upon her arrival in October 1969. This series contains transcripts of press briefings through 1972 and are arranged in a loose chronological order.

Series: Press Releases

Boxes: 120-122

Spans: 1969-1974

Description: The Press Releases series contains press releases disseminated by the First Lady's Press Office to publicize the activities of the First Lady and members of the First Family. The files contain releases through 1974; however, similar to the Press Briefings series, the organization of the files follows a loose chronological order.

Series: Staff Files

Box: 122

Spans: 1969-1974

Description: This file series primarily contains press releases, short biographies, and newspaper clippings regarding members of Mrs. Nixon's staff in the East Wing of the White House. Staff members include Gwen King, Coral Schmid, Rex Scouten, and even Mrs. Nixon's hairdresser, Rita de Santis.

Series: Miscellaneous Files

Boxes: 123-130

Span: 1969-1974

Description: The Miscellaneous Files series encompass those materials from the First Lady's Press Office files that could not be integrated into other portions of the collection. The materials were grouped into three subseries which are described below.

- Subseries: Background Information
- Boxes: 123-125
- Spans: 1969-1974
- Description: This subseries of Miscellaneous Files contains information that can be attributed to staff members working under Connie Stuart in her role as Staff Director. These files contain lists of activities and projects carried out by the First Lady and the First Family. Other information, such as travel statistics and calendars, can be found in this subseries as well. The materials in this collection are arranged alphabetically by type of information – activities, travel, calendars, et cetera.
- Subseries: Press Coverage
Boxes: 126-130
Spans: 1969-1974
Description: This subseries of the Miscellaneous Files contains press coverage by newspapers, magazines, television, and even radio of Mrs. Nixon and the First Family. Files have been organized as to type of mass media and publication or network (if applicable). Press coverage files begin with materials about Mrs. Nixon and continue with Tricia and Ed, and Julie and David. The majority of materials are newspaper clippings and magazine articles.
- Subseries: Publications
Box: 130
Spans: 1969-1974
Description: The Publications series contains a small collection reports, pamphlets, or brochures related to a variety of topics. Publications include an annual report on the National Multiple Sclerosis Society and a copy of "The Week That Changed the World," a publication regarding Nixon's trip to China.

Series: Audiovisual Files

Boxes: n/a

Spans: 1969-1974

Description: This subseries contains audiovisual material found loose in the First Lady's Press Office files. Included are approximately four and half cubic feet of audio reels, photographs, and negatives related to the First Family and the Nixon administration. Audio reels include White House performances recorded by the White House Communications Agency, speeches, and interview given by Mrs. Nixon, Tricia, or Julie and David. Also included is an audio reel featuring President Nixon's interview by the women of the press corps held in the Oval Office. Photographs document members of the First Family, the White House, Casa Pacifica, weddings, trips, and inaugurations. All material has been transferred to a parallel file in the Audiovisual Collection.
