

MS.100 Article Clippings (Vertical Files) Collection , circa 1880 - present

Subject Index

Note: The Subject Index predominately lists main subject headings and, if assigned, primary sub-headings. For larger subject sections, secondary and tertiary sub-headings may have been added to a subject, but not shown on the index. Common secondary and tertiary sub-headings include "Climate", "Description and Travel", "Antiquities", "History", or a specific name of a place, person, thing or event. For example, "Adobe Houses – California -- Los Angeles --- Avila Adobe House". Please see library staff for more assistance regarding materials with secondary or tertiary sub-headings.

Given that each Article or group of Articles can only be assigned one main subject heading and set of sub-headings, a researcher may need to look in more than one area of the collection
