

Collection Scope and Content Summary

The Fred Patten collection on Science Fiction and Animation (Collection 250) contains material created and collected by Fred Patten, best known for his involvement in the Science Fiction fan community and work as an historian in the Anime, Manga, and Furry fandoms. This collection primarily focuses on Science Fiction, Animation, Anime, Manga, Furry fandom, and related genres. Materials include fliers, posters, programs, progress reports, press clippings, audio/video recordings, toys, clothing, and other material.

It should be noted that this collection is not fully processed. Material has been roughly sorted into the nine categorical series listed in the "Collection Contents" section below. Additionally, there is a small portion of this collection that remains completely unprocessed. All newly donated material has been accessioned into the collection and added to Box 2 and Box 130.

Commercially published/produced books and videos have been cataloged and incorporated into the Eaton Collection. This material can be accessed through SCOTTY, the UCR Libraries online public access catalog. For a complete listing of cataloged items access the SCOTTY website and search for the following term by author, Patten Collection (Patten, Fred, 1940-).

Fanzines have also been incorporated into the Eaton Collection and can be accessed through the online fanzine database, <http://library.ucr.edu/?l=fanzine>.
