Summer Collection Records Log:
How to Use.

The function of the records log is to allow the researcher to quickly determine what types of Committee and Commission documents are available for a given constitutional article and section. Moreover, it aids the researcher by defining the primary characteristic of each such document as to whether it provides analysis, background information or a final draft, for example. Third, it provides a chronological overview of how each section was redrafted, or not, by the Summer Commission. Finally, it provides a basic history of each section, from its first addition to the California Constitution up to the referendum on the final proposed draft.

The first step in using the records log is to consult the sample section reproduced for you below. To read this document, we will start at the EXTREME LEFT HAND SIDE. Here is located this constitutional section's history up through the redrafting effort of the Summer Commission. To the RIGHT, are the listings, and descriptions, of the various types of committee and commission documents which pertain to this section.

Article I "Declaration of Rights";

	Committee Reports	Committee Minutes	Committee Correspondence	Legislative Counsel Reports	Commission Minutes	Commission Reports
Section 1 "Inalienable Rights" (1849 Constitution, Art. I, sect.1; mod. 1879; new sect. adopt. 11-5-1974; part transferred to new Art. IV/ Legislature required to prompt knowledge).	A/3-8/10-69 A/7-14/1-70 Dr/12-19/5-70 Dr/14-22/9-70 Fr/18-26/N	3-1/11-69		A/19-27/6-71	Ac/35/2-70 FD/37/3-70 Ac/44/10-70	M/17/71-5
Section 2 "Purpose of Government" (1849 Constitution, Art. I, sect. 2; mod. 1879; repeal. 11-5-74- incorp. into new sect. 3; new sect. 2 adopt./ liberty of speech and press)	A/2-5/8-69 Dr/9-10/3-70 Dr/11-18/4-70 Fr/14-22/9-70 Fr/18-26/N	1-2/10-69			Ac/35/2-70 Ac/44/10-70	M/17/71-5

Now to understand the basic history of Article I, section 1, let us consult the sample HISTORY BLOCK, reproduced below:

Section 1 "Inalienable Rights" (1849 Constitution,
Art. I, sect.1; mod.
1879; new sect. adopt.
11-5-1974; part transferred to new Art. IV/Legislature required to prompt knowledge).

The historical background information is contained WITHIN the PARENTHESES BELOW the TITLE of section 1, "Inalienable Rights". Reading this information tells us that this section was originally adopted in 1849. subsequently readopted and modified in 1879 (the records of which are available in this library) and that subsequent to the Commission's redrafting efforts, a new revised section 1 was adopted on 4-5-1974. In addition, the information within the history block tells us that in 1974, as well, that part of section 1 was transferred to new Article IV, the part requiring that the Legislature prompt knowledge in the state of California.

Again referring to the sample section of the records log, found on page 0 of this introduction, begin reading to your RIGHT. One will notice that there columns for Committee reports, minutes and correspondence plus Legislative Counsel Reports and for Commission minutes and reports. Reading DOWN AND ACROSS for section 1, one will notice that there are listings for the Article I Committee of 5 reports, 1 minutes (meaning that during one business meeting this section came up and was formally noted) and 1 correspondence. For the Commission there are listings for 3 minutes and 1 report. To further understand the information contained in each category, begin by consulting the sample Committee Reports block below.

Committee
Reports
A/3-8/10-69
A/7-14/1-70
Dr/12-19/5-70
Dr/14-22/9-70
Fr/18-26/N

The first entry in this category reads A/3-8/10-69 . It tells us the following types of information:

A- This is an abbreviation for the word analysis, meaning that this Committee report provides detailed legal information as to various constitutional issues involved in redrafting this section. Acomplete list of the Sumner Collection Records Log abbreviations follows this introduction.

3-8 - This refers to the information contained on the corresponding Sumner DATA CARD (see the master introduction for further details), in its upper right-hand corner. This provides a LOCATIONAL REFERENCE as to where to FIND this data card within the many such records of the Sumner collection. Specifically, the 3-8 means that we are referring to the 3rd Committee report and that the corresponding Sumner data card is number 8 for those describing this committee's report documents.

10-69 - This third piece of information tell us the DATE this report was issued, or that it was October, 1969.

NOTE- occasionally, as in the sample below, one will find instead the letter N, or the abbreviation for NO DATE. This indicates that there was no stipulated data on the corresponding Sumner document and that no approximate data could be arrived at by a close reading of it.

Fr/18-26/N

A few additional pieces of information are necessary to help you in the use of the Sumner Collection Records Log. First, as in the example below, what if there is no abbreviation at the beginning of a documents entry?

Committee
Minutes
3-1/11-69

This simply means that while there is within the specified document a LISTING of this section being acted upon or at least discussed, there is simply too little information to allow for a valid characterization of its contents.

Next, consult the following example of a Commission ~~report~~ entry, concentrating upon the DATE information, at the far right.

Commission
Reports
M/17/71-5

COMMISSION REPORTS employ a DIFFERENT dating system than do other Summer Collection documents, discussed above. The numbers 71-5 indicates that this was the FIFTH Commission report ISSUED in the year 1971. NOTE- some of the Commission reports were issued only ONCE during a particular year; therefore only a SINGLE YEAR NUMBER will be used. Commission MINUTES employ the SAME dating system, month-year, discussed earlier.

COMMISSION REPORTS also use a DIFFERENT LOCATIONAL SYSTEM. The middle number in the above example, 17, is a PAGE NUMBER, and NOT a sequencing number. Specifically, the reference to Commission drafting action on this section can be found on page 17 of the Commission report of 71, number 5.

For COMMISSION MINUTES ONLY, the single digit number, as in the example below, is the ENTRY NUMBER, within the sequence of Commission data cards:

Commission
Minutes
Ac/35/2-70

This method is used because there was only a SINGLE Commission as opposed to the several Article Committees and because more than one such document could be described on a single data card.

REPORTS.....S.C.D.C. 227

SUMNER COLLECTION DATA CARDS
INTRODUCTION

A.

The first step in reading the following copies of the original data cards (now housed on the 2nd floor) is to begin in: EXTREME LEFT HAND CORNER. Please refer to the example below:

---

Art. XII c-9/f) d.3fo.24 9- c.1

Title:

"Stay of PUC Orders Pending Review"- letter from the PUC.

Date:

March 13, 1967.

Organization:

3 pages of text.

Contents:

Discussion and examples of the use of such stay orders by the PUC.

The very first part of each data card serves to define the AUTHORSHIP of that represented document. The particular document can either be:

- A. a COMMITTEE produced document, indicated by the abbreviation Art. and then its number;
- B. a COMMISSION produced document, indicated by the word Commission and then either Minutes or Reports.

In our example above, it is labeled Art. XII, defining it as a COMMITTEE produced document.

B.

Next, reading to YOUR RIGHT, for COMMITTEE documents ONLY, one will next find the abbreviation symbol for that document.

R= REPORTS
M= MINUTES
C= CORRESPONDENCE

Commission documents are defined by the words MINUTES or REPORTS after the word COMMISSION.

C.

Proceeding further to YOUR RIGHT, on BOTH types of data cards, one will next encounter the document's LOCATION. Specially in which filing cabinet, in which drawer and in which folder on the 2nd floor, at the END OF THE SOUTH WALL (or the opposite wall from the glass barrier immediately to your right as you exit off the elevator). The following three abbreviations appear on each and every data card:

f= FILE CABINET, either number 1 (perched up against the south wall, in the CORNER, to the LEFT of the small wooden table) or number 2 (located to the RIGHT of the small wooden table).
NOTE- each each file cabinet is so marked in the small center square of each drawer.

d=DRAWER; there are FOUR (4) drawers per each filing cabinet, marked 1 to 4, for each of the two file cabinets (in other words cabinet 1, has 4 drawers numbered 1 to 4 as does cabinet number 2).

fo=FOLDER, each file folder, per each drawer, of each file cabinet, is sequentially numbered. In addition, the label on each file folder provides a basic description of the contents of that folder.

So in the above example, this particular Committee document is to be found inside of file cabinet NUMBER 1 (i.e., f1), drawer NUMBER 1 (i.e., d1) and folder NUMBER 24 (i.e., fo. 24).

D.

Continuing to read to your RIGHT, one will next find, in the upper right corner, the document NUMBER and the number of data cards used to describe it. In our example, therefore, one finds the letter and numbers 9- c.1. The first number indicates the individual DOCUMENT NUMBER, or in our example, number 9. The c. stands for document CARD, the following number indicates how many such cards are required to complete the description of that document, or in our case card number 1.

E.

Now, lets go BACK to , the LEFT SIDE of the document card example. Reading down, one will next find the following types of information:

1. TITLE: or a description of the document where no formal title was available;
2. DATE: or either the approximate date or none, when simply not available;
3. ORGANIZATION: number of pages plus the type of unique pages such as table of contents, index, etc.;
4. CONTENTS: a brief discription of the document.

F.

Minute record cards, for the COMMITTEES look different, see the example below:

sections approved for redrafting- Article XIII, 21, sentence 1 (possible transfer to Article IV); and 24.

10. May 14, 1970; 3 pages of text; 11 page appendix- Committee drafting recommendations; 2 copies.

Contents: the Committee approved a tentative new section allowing for governmental bodies to lend funds when necessary to alleviate cash shortages of smaller governmental units and departments; approved the draft

---

The TOP LINE INFORMATION is INDENTICAL as for all other data record cards. However, Committee minutes are listed numerically, with one or more meetings listed per each card. In our example, the information BELOW the top line is a carry over from the preceeding card.

Directly below is the number of minute documents available or 10. Then, reading to your RIGHT, one will next find the DATE of the meeting (May 14, 1970). Next, is the description of the document- 3 pages plus an 11 page appendix. Finally, there is a discussion of the primary subject matter of that minutes document or its CONTENTS.

NOTE- if you have any further questions regarding the Sumner Collection Date Cards please consult the master introduction at the beginning of this manual.
