ORGANIZATIONAL HISTORY

Hapa Issues Forum (HIF), a non-profit community organization, was founded in 1992 by three University of California, Berkeley students; Eric Akira Tate, Steven Masami Ropp, and Greg Mayeda. It was formed to address the mixed race Asian experience in America by providing a voice for people of partial Asian or Pacific Islander ancestry, creating a nonexclusive multiracial community, providing a forum for reasoned dialogue, working with other community organizations to broaden awareness of Hapas, and challenging this nation's rigid notion of race. After fifteen years of community activities and achievements and continually gaining numbers in the Asian multiracial population, the organization disbanded because of the correlating increase in divergent interests and goals.
