LET'S GO TO THE MEETINGS

DIRECTORS took strict measures to cut down absences at staff and directors' meetings early this week.

IT WAS pointed out that two consecutive absences from the meetings will automatically terminate the worker and the only reason which can be given for his termination will be on "unsatisfactory" basis.

TAKING the staff meeting, first of all, it is held only twice a month, every other Tuesday mornings. Every member of the Rec staff should bear in mind that these staff meetings are held for his benefit. Leadership training officer, Kumeo Yoshinari, arranges to have a speaker at each gathering to address on some phase of recreational work. Important announcements are also made.

IN THE directors' meetings, very important matters are discussed and it is imperative that the directors be present. The directors meet on every Monday afternoon.

EVERY STAFF member should make it his duty to be present at the meetings from now on so that unpleasant penalty will not have to be imposed. LET'S ALL DO OUR PART!

OUR JAPANESE REFUGEES

By Galen M. Fisher

The uprooting of 60,000 Americans of Japanese parent-age from our western seaboard is for them an ordeal of per-sonal suffering. It is also a test of their ability to rise above resentment and to main-tain faith in their America and ours. For white Americans, it is a testing by fire of devotion to the letter and spirit of the federal Consti-tution, and of their ability to hold justice and national unity above antipathy toward persons of Japanese race. For white Christians, it is a challenge to demonstrate that Christian brotherhood trans-cends blood and skin color.

The presidential proclama-tion of February 20, 1942, authorized the secretary of war and the military command-ers designated by him "to prescribe military areas. . . from which any or all persons may be excluded." Martial law was not invoked, but presumably the Supreme Court would validate the proclama-tion on the ground that it was within the powers of the President as commander-in-chief of the armed forces in time of war and national emergency. However, the fifth and the fourteenth amendments to the Constitution specifically provided that neither the nation nor the states shall "deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law." The presidential proclamation could have been executed without violating this provi-sion. There have been no hearings nor other "due process of law" for the Japanese evacuees.

One must sympathize with the army, especially after the grievous losses at Pearl Harbor. Their task of the de-fense of the Pacific coast is huge and difficult. But the army had no right in law to order the compulsory evacua-tion of 60,000 American citi-zens, on the basis of their racial character, without any pretense of judicial hear-ings. Its action smacks of branding a racial group as "second-class citizens" and sets a dangerous precedent. Someone will at once ask: "Did not the proof of fifth column activity by Japanese-American citizens in Hawaii on Decem-ber 7 give the army ample warrant for taking drastic steps? Must it not protect the country against a possible body-blow even at the cost of suspending normal constitutional rights?"

NO SABOTAGE IN HONOLULU

The irony of this argument was thrown into glaring relief on March 20, when the mainland press carried this startling cablegram, sent on March 14 by Honolulu Chief of Police Gabrielson to the Tolan Congressional Defense Migration Committee: "Pursuant request Delegate King, advise you there were no acts of sabotage in city and county of Honolulu December 7, nor have there been any reported to police department since that date. Police department had charge of traffic on Pearl Harbor road from Pearl Harbor to Honolulu shortly after bombing started with several officers on duty there. There was no deliberate blocking of traffic during December 7 or following that date by unauthorized persons."

The president of the Honolulu chamber of commerce and the chairman of the Honolulu Citizens Council wired jointly to Delegate King this additional information, refutation of an equally false rumor: "Upon consultation with chief of police and heads of army and navy informed that to date there has been no single instance of Japanese truckdrivers or other truckdrivers running machines into U.S. planes on the ground, of Japanese or others disabling automobiles of army and navy officers, or of Japanese or others throwing furniture into the streets to blockade army and navy officers."

These telegrams raise uncomfortable questions: Why did not the Roberts report include such a declaration? Why did the secretary of war and the commander of the Fourth Army, who ordered the evacuation, allow the universally accepted rumors of Japanese fifth column activity at Pearl Harbor to go without denial, unless they likewise were in the dark, which seems incredible? Did the censorship at Honolulu prevent the truth refuting this damaging charge from getting to the mainland public by either wire or post? And finally, why did not more of us supposedly propaganda-proof citizens take the rumors with many grains of salt and insist on impartial proof?

IF THE TRUTH HAD BEEN KNOWN

The pity of it all is that the whole situation as to evacuation might have been radically changed if the truth had been generally known. One of the main arguments given by the army for removing all persons of Japanese race from the coast was to protect them from the grave danger of mob violence. That danger was real. It arose in part from well-founded reports that Japanese official espionage had been going in both Hawaii and the mainland. But it arose even more from popular swallowing of the now discredited rumors of sabotage by civilian Japanese at Honolulu and Pearl Harbor. In defense of the army, it may properly be said that it is not their business to deny false rumors or to guide public opinion. But if the army is thus absolved from blame, then all the greater blame attaches to those federal civilian authorities who, if they knew the truth about the alleged sabotage, did not promptly make it known and thus allay the anti-Japanese hysteria which swept over the Pacific coast and went far to give the army a plausible justification for indiscriminate evacuation.

But the chain of evil causation goes much farther back. It includes the long record of anti-Oriental discrimination, especially in California. We and our fathers have sown dragons' teeth for sixty years. I am not denying that Chinese and Japanese immigration should have been controlled, but it should have been done equitable, as by the application of the quota to them as to all other peoples. As Carey McWilliams recently said in the NEW REPUBLIC: "After the passage of the immigration act of 1924, a statesmanlike policy would have made it possible for all resident Japanese to become citizens (and the same observation also applies to the Chinese and Filipinos). Having permitted these people to enter the country, we should have made the best of the situation by making it possible for those who were then residing here to become American citizens if they so desired."

As in a Greek tragedy, the sad denouement which has now come upon us is the nemesis of a chain of evil deeds.

High officials in Washington have recently complained that the limited number of protests against indiscriminate evacuation that had reached them from California had been drowned out by the raucous chorus in favor of it. Consequently they say they were forced to yield against their own better judgment. Unfortunately, there is truth in this complaint. To be sure, vigorous appeals for "selective evacuation," at least for citizen Japanese, were made by groups of eminent white citizens, notably by the Committee on National Security and Fair Play, headed by Former Assistant Secretary of State Henry F. Grady, General David P. Barrows and prominent representatives of education, labor, religion, industry and law. Chester Rowell, California's most noted columnist, repeatedly argued for selective evacuation of both alien and citizen Japanese.

WHY PROTESTS WERE NO LOUDER

But it is also true that the mass of intelligent people in the churches and outside kept still, not because they favored indiscriminate evacuation, but apparently because they could hardly conceive that the authorities would adopt it. In support of their confidence in a temperate policy they had the precedent of Hawaii where, despite all the then accepted rumors of fifth columnists and the preponderance of the Japanese population, neither the army nor white civilians had made any move toward placing all Japanese in concentration camps, and only a fraction of one per cent had been interned. Furthermore, pronouncements appealing for fair play and democratic treatment of all Japanese residents had been made by the President, Attorney General Biddle, Governor Olson and other high officials. What wonder that hosts of liberty-loving citizens hardly dreamed that the army would actually yield to the clamor of the extremists!

Alas! they guessed wrong. The extremists, led by Japanese baiters like Hearst, by irresponsible radio commentators and by politicians bent on catering to mass prejudices, were joined by business interests eager to crowd out Japanese rivals, as well as by honest patriots who believed every Japanese was a fifth columnist. The demand for unconditional and immediate evacuation was no doubt congenial to the military mind, which must reduce risks and wants to wash its hands of civilian problems. It is accustomed to handle men as mechanical units, rather than as bundles of democratic self-determination. So on the very day-March 3-that the Committee on National Security and Fair Play issued its release warning that "the indiscriminate removal of citizens of alien parentage might convert predominantly loyal or harmless citizens into desperate fifth columnists," General DeWitt issued his "Proclamation No. 1," and the supplementary orders for sweeping evacuation.

The die was cast. Yet even then, influential groups persisted in urging General DeWitt to appoint hearing boards as a means of differentiating between loyal and disloyal or suspicious citizen Japanese. They argued that expulsion of any citizen bloc on the basis of racial origin would violate the principles for which America professes to be fighting, would drive loyal American citizens of Japanese descent to desperation and disloyalty and would play into the hands of Japan by giving her authentic support for her claim to be the protector of all colored races against the persecuting and arrogant white nations.

What of the effect of the total evacuation order on the Japanese? The older generation, for the most part, have suffered in stoical silence. Although all of them have lived in America for from twenty to fifty years, and many have longed to become citizens, our naturalization laws have denied them that privilege and mean-minded Americans have strewn their path with thorns. That there were potential fifth columnists among them is hardly open to doubt, as the arrest of over 2,000 by the FBI attests, although no widespread plot has been uncovered. It would not be strange if most of the Japan-born still felt a strong attachment to their fatherland. Yet theirs seems to be a divided loyalty, for thousands have been proud to see their American sons enter our armed forces.

The Nisei, citizens born, have shown divers reactions. Some have felt humiliated and despondent at having their loyalty impugned. Others have resolved to accept evacuation as their peculiar sacrifice for their country and to emulate the American pioneers who wrested success from adversity.

ATROCITIES COMMITTED AGAINST JAPANESE

Since December 7 there have been all too many atrocities committed against innocent Japanese by bullies or misguided pseudo-patriots. The curtains and blinds of Japanese homes are generally drawn. Uncertainty and gloom are the dominant mood. The prospect of evacuation is blighting careers, reducing prosperous families to poverty, forcing abandonment of farms and businesses into which has gone the unstinted toil of decades. For very many of them all this suffering is entirely vicarious, on behalf of a Japan whose policies they condemn. It would be easy to compile a volume of heart-rending stories. It must suffice to tell only one.

Hideo Murata was an alien Japanese who had lived in the town of Pismo Beach, near San Luis Obispo, for twenty years. As a veteran of the A.E.F. in the First World War he had been given an "Honorary Citizenship Certificate from Monterey County," signed by the county supervisors. This he kept as his most treasured possession. On the certificate were engraved these words:

"Monterey County presents this testimony of heartfelt gratitude. . . her honor and respect for your loyal and splendid service to the country in the Great World War. Our flag was assailed and you gallantly took up its defense." When Murata heard reports that he was to be evacuated he was incredulous, so he sought light from his old friend the sheriff. To his dismay, the sheriff said that no exceptions were to be allowed. Murata thereupon went to a local hotel, paid for his room in advance, and next morning was found lying dead in his bed. He had taken strychnine. In his pocket they found the certificate, with its official seal.

The crowd demanded evacuation, and got it. But few people foresaw the confusion that the action would produce and no one did anything about it in advance. I would be the first to pay tribute to the conscientiousness and high-mindedness of all the army officers and the federal officials whom I have recently been meeting, but this business of tearing 100,000 people from their homes and resettling them is complex and vast. It is not properly a military problem but one in social engineering and political dynamics. In fact, military training unfits more than it fits men to solve it. It must therefore be a relief to the army, as it is to the rest of us, that the administration of the moving and resettlement of the evacuees has been given to civilian officials from the social security, agriculture and justice departments.

Looking back over the confusion of the last few weeks, I presume the army would agree with the social engineer that the cart got before the horse. It was a case of leap first and then look. Possible it was inescapable under war conditions. Certainly it caused grief to the Japanese victims and chagrin to many citizens. Some of the Japanese in panic sold their property to sharks for a song. When the army, with the best of intentions, said that it favored voluntary resettlement, some Japanese rushed eastward only to run afoul of exclusion sentiment and threats of bodily harm. If the proclamation of evacuation could have been deferred until the blueprint of the resettlement program, including the custody of property, had been drawn, it would have prevented endless trouble and hardship. Failure to do this has weakened the confidence of the Japanese in the justice and efficiency of our government.

VOLUNTARY EFFORTS FAIL

With characteristic self-reliance, the Japanese have eagerly supported all sorts of proposals for resettlement "on their own." Several hundred of the Christians have backed a scheme for establishing a cooperative farm colony which has been zealously promoted by a number of Christian Nisei graduates in agriculture, medicine and economics. But despite all their efforts and the encouragement of federal agricultural officials, they have thus far failed to find any large suitable site. Either water has been lacking, or vital military plants were near, or the white inhabitants objected to Japanese settlers. Utah seemed to offer the most eligible sites but even there protests against a "Japanese invasion" arose.

One of the worst fiascos happened in southern California. The Maryknoll fathers conceived the excellent idea of compiling an occupational census of adult Japanese to be used as an aid to intelligent resettlement. Some 23,000 persons signed up--practically the entire adult population. I understand that the fathers had given no assurance of immediate placement, but quite naturally many of the signers were ready to grasp at any straw and accepted roseate rumors as solid fact. When the truth became known that the fathers had no definite plans for employment or resettlement, the jolt was severe. Hope turned to cynicism. Another factor that has depressed the spirit of the Japanese in southern California is that they now realize how much of the recent furor for total evacuation was worked up by ambitious politicians, notably by one man who wanted to make the anti-Japanese agitation a stepladder to the governorship.

The experience of the past few weeks with schemes for voluntary resettlement makes it evident that government must solve the problem. It is to be hoped that the spirit of voluntarism will be given as free play as possible, and that private agencies such as the American Friends Service Committee will be asked to cooperate. But the securing of land and the devising of ways to give useful employment to the hands and heads of so many thousands is something only government can do.

WHAT THE CHURCHES CAN DO

Far from leaving it all to Uncle Sam, there are two things that the churches in the interior states can do, and they should lose no time in starting. They can find work for a few Japanese Christians in their own communities and they can assure such Japanese as may come to live awhile among them of fair and friendly treatment. There are perhaps 4,000 Japanese Christian families. Even if only a fourth of them were to find work, that would raise the morale of all the others. The procedure is simple.

A central executive committee has been formed at Berkeley by representatives of all the Protestant churches having work among the Japanese. It offers to act as a clearinghouse between the Christians who want new homes and work, and the national boards and local white churches to the eastward who are to find openings. This committee is the agent of the Commission on Aliens and Prisoners-of-war created by Federal and Home Missions councils in New York. Local churches who find openings for Japanese should send information as to nature of work, name and address of employer, wages, living arrangements and sponsoring committee in the church to chairman of the executive committee, Dr. F. Herron Smith, 2816 Hillegass Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branch regional committees are being formed at Los Angeles, Seattle and Portland, Oregon. Churches that are instrumental in placing a few Japanese in their towns need feel no anxiety lest the newcomers become a burden on the community. The Japanese hold an enviable record for absence of dependency and of juvenile delinquency.

It is planned by the federal resettlement authorities to establish eight reception centers for evacuees in places just east of the prohibited areas. The evacuees will be moved community by community, so that the Japanese churches may continue to function as units under their pastors.

This evacuation is unprecedented in American history in the numbers involved and in the fact that the evacuees are all of one race. It is fraught with two-edged difficulty and significance. It may hinder or help national unity during the war. It may aggravate rather than reduce the problems of interracial assimilation after the war. It therefore behooves private citizens no less than public officials to follow every stage of the resettlement process with a cooperative hand but a critical eye. In it all, the churches may find unexpected opportunities for service.

BROWNIES THUMP HINODETTES, 53-14

Well-oiled machine of the Brownies functioned mechanically to thump the underdog Hinodette sextette to the rhythmic tune of 53-14, Sunday, in the local pavilion. Grace Manji, left-handed pushshot artist, hit the hoop with precision accuracy to ring up 14 points for the championship-bound Brownies. Other Brownies plunking the melon into the net, at will, were Clara Sawada, June Manji, Terry Ogata, Clara Harada, and Lillian Tomita, who scored 12, 9, 8, 7, and 3 points respectively. The mighty six-pronged attack of the victorious outfit penetrated the defensive wall of the Hinodettes continuously from the opening gun, raking in 19 points in the first half to 8, and continuing the slaughter by pouring in 34 counters in the latter half of the contest. Lillian Manji, Atsuko Tate, Mitsy Sawada, and Kiyo Tate, teamed up to form an impregnable defensive network, holding down the Hinodettes to a mere 6 points in the last period. Brownies were minus the services of their ace guard, Mary Nakashima. Etsuko Mikawa took high-point honors for the losers with 6 digits.

SEAGULLS EDGE MUSTANGS 35-23

WREX BUMPS PACERS 41-26

With only five seconds remaining in the game and the score all tied at 33 to 33, G. Goto, towering center of the Seagulls, tapped in the winning bucket for a close win over the hustling Mustang quintet. The game was close all the way with the lead changing fifteen times. The two teams matched bucket for bucket all through the game and the largest lead that was enjoyed by the Seagulls at one time amounted to only five points. The score at half time was 18 to 18. In the last half with five seconds remaining and the score tied at 33 to 33 T. Kiyama fouled B. Hayashida. The crucial free throw was missed but through the conglomeration under the basket G. Goto tipped the cascade in for the winning margin. The Mustangs brought the ball down fast but to no avail as the whistle blew to end the game, 35 to 33. G. Goto was high with 17 points and B. Hayashida with 10 for the winners, while I. Nishimura, of the Mustangs, swished the net for 15 markers.

WREX 41, PACERS 26

In the first game, the powerful Wrex remained undefeated when they swamped the Pacer five, 41 to 26. The Pacer boys took a momentary lead in the beginning and it looked like a close game. The Wrex team playing without their Captain, F. Yamamoto, looked lost and the first half ended 15 to 13, Wrex leading. But in the second half Fred Harada went on a scoring rampage scoring 16 of his total 20 points thus demolishing the Pacer ranks which collapsed. A. Kageyama contributed 7 points to the winners and Y. Negi was high for the losers with 8 points. No games next Sunday.
