THIS DAY DEDICATED IN MEMORY OF A BUDDHIST NISEI SOLDIER

MANABU YUKUDA
Timely Topics

One of the profound and remarkable changes this war has affected in this world's contemporary fighting generation is shown in the attitude of young sailors, soldiers, and marines toward religion. It is clearly evident that men of our fighting forces are instinctively searching for spiritual strength as they bravely face death.

They boys who have acquired spiritual interest and who go out against impossible odds, who look at death squarely in the face, who fight courageously against equally courageous foes, are not suffering from any complexes of fear, either physical or psychological. There are no hysterical outbursts among the boys. Their reaching for spiritual strength and mental comfort has been instinctive and calm.

In this all-out conflict, when this whole world is engaged in a life and death struggle to preserve its very existence and the way of life, the young manhood is taking a longer and a more serious look at fundamentals of human life. The movement is said to be spontaneous. No campaign has been launched to bring these boys under the influence of religious and moral teachers.

Coming close to home, there are thousands of young men of Japanese ancestry who may be marching into the fire of deadly weapons, become the targets of frightening drive-bombers, and all other murderous machines. They will be under same kind of a fire and be subject to same kind of sufferings, physical and psychological, of that of our fellow Americans of Caucasian extract.

They will be going out to fight against frightening odds and stare into the future beyond this frightful thing called death. I have come to the conclusion that these boys will need, and should demand equal amount of spiritual consolation which is granted the other American soldiers. However, it is a known fact that over 80 percent of the Japanese Americans in the U.S. Army are Buddhists, many of them very earnest followers of the teachings of Buddha.

Already, many of our fellow Japanese Americans have made the supreme sacrifice for his country. This stark reality has been driven home into the minds of the Poston residents when Sargeant James Shiranizu, formerly Salinas, California, was killed in action on January 11th in the bloody battle of Italy. We are now feeling the affects of this second World War in our own back yard for Sargeant Shiranizu has shown to us the fact that this war is a life and death struggle for the Niseis as well as for any other group of people on this earth.

Therefore, I believe that we should seriously consider the importance of religious education in these times of stress.

NEHAN-YE

Some 2500 years ago, Gautama-Sakyamuni died at the ripe old age of eighty in the town of Kucinagara, on February 15th, 483 B.C. And so it is on this day that all the Buddhist followers of all sects commemorate the anniversary of the death of Buddha. It is known as Nehan-ye.

Gautama Buddha lived the life of an ordinary man, discarding the narrow distinctions of castes, rank and wealth. He was a son, husband, father, and devoted friend. In some of the legends, the Buddha is represented as having voluntarily endured infinite trials through numberless ages and births, that he might deliver mankind, foregoing the right to enter Nirvana, and casting himself again and again into the stream of human life and destiny for the sole purpose of teaching the Way of Liberation from sorrow and suffering. Lay-disciples can always take the Buddha as his model so that the recollection of his heroic and saintly life may assist Him to be a hero and a saint as well.

The following is taken from the GOSPEL OF BUDDHA, "The Buddha's Final Entering Into Nirvana":

Now the Blessed One addressed the venerable Ananda, and said: "It may be, Ananda, that in some of you the thought may arise, 'The word of the Master is ended, we have no teacher more!' But it is not thus, Ananda that you should regard it. It is true that no more shall I receive a body, for all future sorrow has now forever passed away. But though this body will be dissolved, the Tathagata remains. The truth and the rules of the order which I have set forth and laid down for you all, let them, after I am gone, be a teacher unto you. When I am gone, Ananda, let the order, if it should so wish, abolish all the lesser and minor precepts."

Then the Blessed One addressed the brethren, and said: "There may be some doubt or misgiving in the mind of a brother as to the Buddha, or the truth, or the path. Do not have to reproach yourselves afterwards with the thought, 'We did not inquire of the Blessed One when we were face with him.'"

And the brethren remained silent. Then the venerable Ananda said to the Blessed One: "Verily, I believe that in this whole assembly of the brethren there is not one brother who has any doubt or misgiving as to the Buddha, or the truth, or the path! For even the most backward, Ananda, of all these brethren has become converted, and is assured of final salvation."

Then the Blessed One addressed the brethren and said: "If ye now know the Dharma, the cause of all suffering, and the path of salvation, O disciples, will ye then say: 'We respect the Master, and out of reverence for the Master do we thus speak?'"

The brethren replied: "That we sh-

THE PARABLE =

"THE TWO RIVERS AND THE WHITE PATH" BY REV. N. TSUNODA

One of the most famous of parables in the Shin Sect Teachings is that of the Two Rivers and the White Path (Niga Byakudo). It is found in a commentary called the Sanzen-gi, written by the Chinese Buddhist scholar, San-Tao. (Zendo Daishi). This is a commentary on the Amitayur-Dhyana-Sutra (Awan-muryoju-kyo), and in this commentary is the famous parable which expresses the faith of the Shin Sect. Roughly translated it is as follows:

"A man is travelling westward on a road, when suddenly he is confronted by two rivers directly in front of him in the middle of the road. On the southern side is a river of fire. On the northern side is a river of water. The depth of each of these rivers is immeasurable and they extend to the north and south as far as eye can see. In the middle of these rivers of fire and water there is a white path, its width being only four or five inches. The length of this white path, extending from the east shore to the west shore is 100 feet. The sprays of the water and the tongues of flame intermingle and wet and scorch the path incessantly. This man is all alone; a flock of ferocious animals seeing that he is alone trail him with the intent of killing him and devouring him. The man, afraid of death, starts to run toward the west, but sees the rivers of fire and water.

He thinks to himself: 'This river has no ending either to the north or to the south. In the middle there is only a little white path but this path is very small and narrow. The distance between the two banks is very short, but how shall I get there. There is no doubt that the day of my death has arrived. If I turn around the wild animals are waiting to devour me. If I turn to the north or south the wild animals will still pursue me and still kill me. If I go straight forward in a westward direction and take the white path, again I shall lose my life by falling into the rivers of fire and water'.

"Thus he is terrified. Then he thinks again: 'If I return I shall die, if I remain here I shall die, if I go ahead I shall die. Whatever I do there is no chance of escape from death. If I am going to die whatever I do, I shall go forward. This path exists. I shall cross by this path.'

"When he makes this determination in his mind a person's voice from the eastern shores encouraging him is heard. 'Make up your mind and go forward on the white path. Go. You will escape the dangers of death. If you remain you will die.'

"Again from the western shore a person appears and calls: 'Be of one mind and come across at once. I shall protect you. Do not be afraid of falling into the dangers of fire and water.'

"This man (the traveller) hearing

And the Holy One continued: "Of those beings who live in ignorance, shut up and confined, as it were in an egg, I have first broken the eggshell of ignorance and alone in the universe obtained the most exalted, universal Buddhahood. Thus, O disciples, is it not even that which ye have yourselves known, yourselves seen, yourselves realized?"

Ananda and the brethren said: "It is, O Lord." Once more the Blessed One began to speak: "Behold now, brethren," said he, "I exhort you, saying, "Decay is inherent in all component things, but the truth will remain forever." RELIABLE PRESCRIPTIONS

YBA NITES

With the draft and relocation bug setting most of the Busseis into a first degree trance, it's no wonder there's no time for love, weep, or religion. You just go 'round 'n 'round and nobody knows where you're going to stop till you land in the Army. For these guys we suggest some block to sponsor a social at 310 mess hall, and have our Rev. Tsunoda tell them how to rely on faith. It's a very good medicine.

GIRLIES

If you like kids and want to teach them, we suggest the most practical course in child care, the Sunday School Teachers. Anyway, we would appreciate if you can help.

MIMEOGRAPH MACHINE WANTED

All members, please be on the lookout for a automatic-fed machine worth around $75 and up, used or otherwise which the church can buy. It will make it easier to publish this BUSSEI REVIEW, if we had one. Please inform us, relocators.

the person from this side encouraging him to go forward and hearing the person from the other shore calling him, makes up his mind and without any doubts in his mind whatsoever starts to cross over on the path. Then the wild animals on the eastern shore call to him saying, 'Return, this path is dangerous, You cannot possibly traverse it, There is no doubt that you will die. We do not harbor any evil intentions and will not harm you.' The man hears the voices of the animals but does not pay any attention to them. With one mind he crosses over the path, and lo, he reaches the western shores and escaping all dangers, meets a good friend and they lived in happiness ever after.

This is a parable. The eastern bank represents this earth. The western shore represents the Land of Bliss, Land of Paradise. Wild animals represent the greed of man, the river of fire represents anger that arises in the minds of man. The person on the eastern bank represents Shakamuni Buddha, who, although He himself is no longer on this earth, still lives on in his Teachings, and the person on the western shore represents Amida Buddha."

This parable, so famous in the Teachings of the Shin Sect, expresses the Buddhist faith in a manner which we can all understand and appreciate. Although we sentient beings are groping in the dark, not being able to control our minds, from which arises ignorance, anger,

Then the Mallas of Kusinara gave orders to their attendants, saying, "Gather together perfumes and garlands, and all the music in Kusinara!" There they passed the day in paying honor and reverence to the remains of the Blessed One, with hymns, and music, and with garlands and with perfumes, and in making canopies of their garments, and preparing decorative wreaths to hang thereon. And they burned the remains of the Blessed One as they would do to the body of a king of kings.

When the burning ceremonies were over, Devaputta said to the multitudes that were assembled round the pyre:

"Behold, O brethren, the earthly remains of the Blessed One have been dissolved, but the truth which he has taught us lives in our minds and cleanses us from all error:

"Let us, then, go out into the world, as compassionate and merciful as our great master, and preach to all living beings the four noble truths and the eightfold path of righteousness, so that all mankind may attain to a final salvation, taking refuge in the Buddha, the Dharma, and the Sangha."

GIRLS' DAY

KEEP YOUR DREAMS ALIVE

MANABU FURUDA

Relocation has made Poston a much smaller community than the original Japanese city which sprang up in this wilderness two years ago. Many more young people will bid farewell to a town where only Japanese face adorn the street corners, the schools, and the homes.

We have sent many eager and ambitious youths into the outside world with which we have lost contact. We have said farewell to many of our Bussei friends. Parting is sad, but it is part of life. Whenever we are separated from the loved ones, we have the consolation of knowing that someday we may meet again.

To those who are relocating I want to say, "Please keep your dreams alive". I believe that every human being must be full of hopes and full of dreams. No matter how dark and fearful the future may seem. Behind the threatening darkness of the storm clouds, the sun is always shining, eagerly fighting its way out. The "light of the world" has not disappeared from the universe yet. It is waiting for the appropriate time when it can show its benevolent face to this darkened world.

Yes, at the present, we have lost sight of this life-giving planet, which is no necessary to the welfare of this human world. However, we must admit that the sun is always shining.

Without exaggeration it can be said that people who have lost sight of their dreams and their hopes made up the greatest single tragedy in this world. When we have ceased to dream, when we have stopped hoping, then we plunge into the agonies of earthly hell where no hope and no future exist.

Perhaps our hope and our dreams may never be fulfilled; our dreams may even be shattered to pieces. But, our courage and our earnestness will make us "real people" with spirits of undying faith.

We have been pushed into these unfortunate circumstances, but we must not accept this as a defeat. These circumstances bring out the weaknesses of human beings and we try to escape responsibilities.

I firmly believe that there is nothing finer on this earth than those who seem to be unlucky, but yet, keep on living with hopes and dreams and with determination to stand up their feet again.

What lies ahead of us none of us can foretell. It may be one of disappointment, one of frustration, and one of defeat. Certainly, things will not be easy for any of us. But now, we must dream of the world when peace and freedom is ones once more. Furthermore, we must face the stark realities of life, because upon tomorrow's young people rests the hope for a new world of freedom, justice, and decency. Tomorrow, the world which is tired and worn out by war, will seek our vision, our spirit, and our power to restore light to a world which was once dark and sad. (Cont. on Page 4) (Delivered at funeral of Sgt.

TRIBUTE

Shiramizu, Camp II, Feb. 19.)

By Rev. N. Tsunoda

We are here gathered to pay our last respects and tribute to the memory of Sergeant James Kiyoshi Shiramizu, who laid down his life with the 100th Battalion, which spearheaded the attack on the Italian mainland.

To those loved ones whom Sergeant Shiramizu leaves behind, his aged father and mother, his widow and his orphan, his brothers and sisters—we bow our heads together with them, our hearts go out to them in their hour of deepest grief.

Until now, we have been reading of the casualty lists issued by the War and Navy Departments, but it was difficult for us to understand fully the significance of those names and addresses sent to the families of those American soldiers who died on the field of battle. Sergeant Shiramizu's sacrifice has brought home to us in a manner which we cannot forget the tremendous sacrifices in human lives, the grief, anguish, and heartaches of those who have lost their loved ones. The war is being brought closer and closer to us as the thousands of our boys—our sons, husbands, brothers, and friends—are now in the midst of the struggle, and we join with other families throughout the United States, Europe, and Asia who have sent their loved ones to fight for what they believe is right.

The cover picture of this issue depicts a girl, probably in her teens, washing her baby doll's clothes. Even the camp life have not altered the natural instinct of this or any other girl for the practice of "mama". Her tender care for the health and neatness of the doll, expresses in itself the ultimate desire of every girl to become someday like her own dear mother. Although she may not know it, she is molding her life to what she was born. With her desire to play with dolls, and extend to it her infant compassion and love as if it had contracted a slight cold, the beginning of the Motherly Love or Buddha Love become radiantly warm. She expresses her Buddha Nature from her childhood till she is a grandmother and beyond with Infinite Love and Compassion, just as Amida Buddha taught us, whether you are young or old; and it is to this end that all girls must strive.

Sergeant Shiramizu died fighting for the principles and ideals for which America stands—freedom of speech, thought, and press; freedom of religion, the ideal that all men regardless of race, color, or creed be given an equal opportunity to share in the tribulations and the rewards of democracy.

These ideals, the preservation for which men are dying all over the world, are something which once having been won by one generation cannot be taken for granted by the following generation. They must be fought for and guarded most jealously by each successive generation. As General John J. Pershing declared, "The price of liberty is eternal vigilance."

If Sergeant Shiramizu could speak to us today, I wonder if he would not speak to us in the words of Lieutenant John MacCræe, who wrote the following lines a few days before dying in action on the fields of Flanders in World War I:

"Take up our quarrel with the foe,
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow

In Flander's Fields."

I recall the words of a great American President, Abraham Lincoln, when he dedicated the National Cemetery at Gettysburg, five months after the bloody battle had been fought and thousands had laid down their lives. He said, in part: "It is for us the living rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to here dedicated to the great task remaining before us--that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion--that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain."

I know that many more Bussei friends will be leaving here, each one going his own way to seek a place in this war-conscious world. Someday, when this world has seen the light of peace once more, I hope our roads may cross again. Until then let us treasure the hour that we have spent together in the churches and always cherish the joys and blessings of many beautiful friendship, which have taken root here under the desert sun of Southern Arizona.

May Lord Buddha always be with you and may you always live in the blessings of the Namu Amida Butsu. Also, please keep your dreams alive.

WRITE TO US

What are you doing? Who are your leaders? Give us some worthy news about your YBA and its activities. If all the chapters, free zone and centers cooperate and send to the BUSSEI REVIEW a regular news-report every two weeks, we can exchange information through this means of a central clearing house, and thereby create a closer brotherhood of all Busseis. Please appoint someone in your chapter to report the news regularly. Even a short item is appreciated, if it is newsworthy.

Sergeant Shiramizu, all of us present here at this service firmly do resolve that you shall not have died in vain. We promise you and your comrades-in-arms that your fight shall be our fight.

TAX STATUS OF COAST CHURCHES PENDING

The following is a report from the Headquarters of the Buddhist Churches of America, Rec. Hall #2, Topaz, Utah, February 25th, 1944 by Deputy Bishop Rev. Z. Okayama:

One of the main things that have been confronting us to this day was the matter concerning the church buildings left in California. The topic of course, will be in regards to the tax assessment of the church buildings, in most cases no longer actively used as houses of worship. We, as the Buddhist Churches of America, have been contacting the War Relocation Authority Evacuee Property officers and other authorities in this regard. We have received to this date several letters about the tax status. According to the State Board of Assessor's opinion, places of worship that had not been used for that purpose for an year should be assessed. Presently, we are waiting for Attorney General Kenny to issue an opinion, declaring that the church properties continue to be exempted from taxation so long as they are not used for other purposes.

It was the suggestion of the WRA that, pending the issuance of an opinion from the Attorney General, the officials of the various churches protest the payment, in writing in order to keep the record clear. In order to prevent the possible penalties for failure in paying the taxes, it is suggested that payment be made accordint to the status.

MISSIONARY SPIRIT WANE, SAYS REV. LATIMER

Despite the unusual "like-California" rain, which had drenched Poston for four days, a small but determined group of Busseis braved the adverse weather to hear Rev. Latimer, a Buddhist minister of the Shingon Sect, speak on the interesting topic of the future of Buddhism in America, on Wed. Feb. 23rd. The regular YBA Nite was purposely extended a day in order that Rev. Latimer can be heard.

He regreted that the present Buddhist followers have lost the very nature of the purpose in which Gotama Buddha found the Truth, and urges the revival of the missionary movement if Buddhism is to become a great religion in America. He bases the acceptibility of the religion on the fact that its teachings are in harmony with science and does not contradict scientific principles; rather it has been proven scientifically true and thus the intelligent and learned will seek salvation in a religion that will not contradict their modern beliefs in science. He thereby gave one of the reasons for being converted from Catholicism to Buddhism and another that there exists no authority like God above human beings, but that all man have equally the necessary Buddha-Nature only to be polished to become a Buddha himself.

The balance of the evening was turned to question and answer, and in closing 309 promised to combine with Roku III for the next YBA Nite.

DON'T FORGET TO BRING A FRIEND

LETTER RECEIVED

Following letter was received from the Rohwer YBA Executive Secretary, Kenneth Saga, February 25th:

In behalf of the Rohwer YBA and most sincerely from myself, I express my sincere appreciation for the many issues of the "Bussei Review" that you have kindly mailed us in the past.

Papers such as your periodicals, are a great value to us. In the absence of a national headquarters, we look to the news-paper as goodwill ambassador bringing us the current ideas and activities of Busseis throughout America. We regret that we do not publish a paper of our own that we can exchange with the young Buddhist in Poston, but we are working to see the day when we, too, can pride in a sheet of Rohwer Bussei News.

What a wonderful medium for exchanging ideas and coordinating Bussei activities!

Thanks again for your most interesting paper, and I hope that you will continue favoring us with the pleasure of reading the "Bussei Review".

under protest so that a refund of the tax may be obtained in the event that it is decided by the authority that it will not lose its exempt status.

When a tax notice arrives, here is a suggestion that we offer if and when you make payment. This is the form which we advise you to use:

"We attach hereto check in the amount of $ _____ in payment of 1st half 1943-1944 City (County) Tax for church property located _____ since the property has never been used for other than religious services. And it is therefore tax exempt. It is understood that this payment is made under protest pending decision to be rendered by the Attorney General on tax status of such church properties. It is further understood that the payment is made in good faith in order to avoid penalty."

We find it to our advantage if all matters pertaining to church buildings be taken care of by the Buddhist Churches of America, as we feel more empowered, being this the headquarters. If you have any problems in regards to the church buildings in California, please write to us in detail so that we may be able to assist you to the fullest extent.

Another thing which we hope you will take action on is in regards to the various churches whose finances are frozen. We suggest you discuss this matter with the Project Attorney in your center and file applications of claim. We feel very confident your Project Attorney will do his utmost in helping you clear the church finances.

THE SPRING
IN POSTON

The Meaning and Significance of Higan By Rev. Isunoda

The Higan Festival is celebrated twice each year by Buddhists, the Spring Higan and the Autumn Higan. The former is centered around the Vernal Equinox, the day in Spring when the length of the day is equal to the length of the night, when the sun rises from a due eastward direction and sets due westward; the autumn Higan falls on the corresponding day in the fall. According to the Gregorian Calendar they fall in the months of March and September, respectively. Undoubtedly this period of the year was chosen by Buddhists to perform their religious services because the weather at this time is the mildest, being neither too hot nor too cold.

Higan comes from the Sanscrit word, Paramita, which means "to reach the other shore". In the "Honyaku Myogi Shu", a Chinese Buddhist commentary giving the definitions of Sanscrit terms, Paramita is described as follows: "The other shore is Nirvana, this shore is the world of birth and death and the moving stream between these two shores is the passion, lust, and anger of sentient beings." In other words, Higan or Paramita means to go from this world of birth and death to the ideal state of Nirvana. The world in which we live is an abode of sorrow and pain. Birth is suffering, decay and change is suffering, sickness is suffering, death is suffering. To part from loved ones is suffering, to long for and not being able to attain what one longs for is suffering.

Life that is not free from desire and passion is a life of suffering and pain. This the Buddha called the First Noble Truth, the Truth of Suffering. However, the Buddha was not a pessimist. He pointed out the true conditions of the world we live in. And what is more important He showed us the way that we may overcome this strong undertow of passion and desire which is pulling us into the dark waters of birth and death; He showed us the way by which we may reach the other shore, the ultimate Nirvana.

The Lord Buddha taught us the way by which we may cross the stream and reach the other shore of Nirvana in the Three Sacred Sutras, the Larger Sukhavati-vyuha, the Amitayur-dhyana-Sutra, and the Smaller Scriptures all sentient beings on this earth are assured eternal salvation by being reborn into the Pure Land of Amida's Western Paradise through absolute faith and reliance on the All-Compassionate Mercy of Amida Buddha. At the instant moment we put our faith in Him, we become one with Him; we are given assurance that after our life on this earth ceases those who have faith in Him will leave this shore of birth and death and attain the other shore of ultimate peace, Nirvana.

At the commemoration of the Higan Service this year, may we worship

"This World of Hatred" by M. Fukuda

"We can live happily if we do not hate those who hate us. Even if we live among those who hate us, let us dwell free from hatred."

Above is a passage from the Dhammapada or the "path of virtue" left for us by Lord Buddha. This is one of the most difficult thing for us to practice in life. Have you ever tried loving anyone who hated you? It is only a saint who can actually respect, admire, and love those who hate him.

However, this idealistic statement should not be discarded and thrown into the winds and forgotten. It contains the essence, the most essential factor in the promotion of Brotherhood among the people of our community. It becomes more and more essential in a place like the relocation centers.

What is hatred? It is defined in Webster's dictionary as a "great dislike" or not liking anything or anyone. Why do we hate anyone? I haven't a clear-cut answer to this question, but I believe that there is a definite and a deep-rooted reason for disliking a person.

Hatred is complicated. It is more confusing and more deep-rooted than any other human sentiments. Here are some of the reasons which I wish to list as the cause for disliking a person.

(1) We dislike a person who has advantages over us.

(2) Jealousy is a beginning of another form of hatred.

(3) If the ideas disagree we begin to hate each other.

(4) We hate persons for their weaknesses.

(5) We hate persons for their thoughts, their speeches, their appearances, their actions, and numerous other things.

(6) We hate them for their strong character.

(7) We hate persons unjustly and unreasonably.

Hatred is deep-rooted. Fortunately these feelings of dislike do not often result in acts of violence, but they poison life with feelings of hatred and anger becoming deeply entrenched in the minds of the people.

We argue and quarrel over trifling affairs to our own harm and our own suffering. Thus our lives become only dreary rounds of unhappiness.

Lord Buddha has said greed, foolishness, and hatred is due to ignorance. Ignorance leads to misunderstanding and misunderstanding leads to jealousy, and jealousy leads to hatred. Human mind is so strange.

Hatred and anger: these two poisoned darts originate within the minds and infect it with deadly poison. If people are infected with these poisons, they will lie, cheat, chatter, abuse by word and then will actualize their words by killing, stealing, and committing adultery.

It is an ironical truth that closer one gets to the battle fronts, the finer the moral quality of the people one meets. It is said that the soldiers in the line seldom betray their lower nature: petty jealousies, selfishness, and cowardice are traits which are reserved for civilian group at home for whom the soldiers are dying.

People of America were told before the present war that each and every man would be given the privilege of serving his country in its hours of crisis. But as soon as the bombs had fallen on Pearl Harbor, the politicians went to work with their petty ideas, the industrialists began clamoring for contracts plus enormous profits, laborers began shouting for a share in the booty, coffee drinkers began hoarding coffee, automobile owners rushed to the store tires, and anyone who thought that the issue was not whether this country was to survive or not, but whether there wasn't some way to beat the other fellow and grab everything that came their way.

Millions of people are gripped together in a grim struggle to live, while millions and millions at home are complacently singing,

"Just around the corner

There's rainbow in the sky...."

Fight for survival is a grim business. We must realize it; but instead, our minds are allowed to become quite ignorant of such a fact. Instead of having better understanding among men in such a time of crisis, they go on being selfish and unsympathetic, hating, cheating and fighting with friends, neighbors and the public. We overestimate the camp two news

Rev. Fujimura is now stationed at Camp II Buddhist Church. He arrived here on Saturday, March 11. His arrival has added much spiritual joy in the hearts of the Buddhists. His home is located in 214-9-D.

Camp II YBA election was held on Sunday morning and the installation ceremonies followed on Sunday evening. Candlelight service and entertainments were open to the adults as well as for the YBA members.

Preparation is under way for a gigantic Hana Matsuri Celebration to be held during the week beginning April 20th. A one week program is being scheduled by the YBA and the church.

value of everything else.

Religion makes us see our shortcomings; we see ourselves just as we are. We discover our own selfishness, our silly pride, our fears, our blunders. We develop a sense of moral obligations. Thus we begin our journey towards the better ways of life.

Our hatred and anger will be lessened to a greater degree. We may not be able to abolish them, but if we listen to good teachings and do a more considerate and careful thinking we can come a step closer to the ideals expressed in the Dhammapada---"Love those who hate us and there will be no hate".

gala hana matsuri membership drive

A gala Hana Matsuri program is planned by both the YBA and the Buddhist Church of Unit III on April 7 and 8 and 9 (Fri., Sat., and Sun.) coinciding on the Birthday of Gotama Sakyamuni, April 8th.

The large amphitheatre of the Poston Square Garden will be the scene of the Hana Matsuri Celebration with services and festive entertainment for the occasion. It is planned to have the Church sponsor the service, while the YBA take charge of the entertainment, with the two vice presidents act as co-chairman in planning the program. The Sunday School will be asked to present plays and musical numbers at the outdoor festival on Sat. April 8th.

On Sunday, April 9, the YBA will sponsor the Young Peoples' special Hana Matsuri service from 10 AM at the 322 Buddhist Church. The Roku II with Mary Shimozono will be in charge of the program. Efforts are made to obtain a guest speaker from either Camp I or Camp II.

For the members of the YBA, exclusively, the Hana Matsuri Social was decided to precede the outdoor services, and set tentatively for Friday, April 7 at the 310 Mess Hall. This social is planned to climax the YBA membership drive.

All YBA members are requested to help prepare the stage and clean-up after the program for the social as well as the amphitheatre. Benches, pianos, and flowers must be set on the stage, while the mess hall must be cleared.

Starting Sunday, March 19, all the block representatives to the YBA Board of Directors have begun a camp-wide membership drive. Their respective blocks are being canvassed and every person is asked to aid them in order to end the drive as soon as possible.

Although in the past, all members received their membership cards free of charge, this year's fee is fifteen cents, which will partially pay for the YBA's operation. In order that an accurate record of all Busseis in camp, and by which all future activities will be decided, it was necessary that paid membership be instituted. It has been decided that it was only fair to be of service to those members who support the YBA. This does not mean that non-paid Busseis are barred, but on the contrary, they are urged to attend our religious services and would welcome them to be members (continued on page 7)

exe. sec. wanted

Realizing the importance and need of an executive secretary, the YBA has asked the members to find someone capable to work in behalf of the YBA. The job will begin from next month.

A committee of three and Rev. Tsunoda and Mas Honda will determine all applications and recommendations and will contact the person best fitted to the position. The committee are from each Roku.

fourth round of church plan meet yba nites undecided at topaz center

With only 317 remaining, the end of the third round of the YBA Nites will come to a close on March 28. Various suggestions were made at the YBA Board of Directors meeting, to improve the YBA Nites and continue it into the fourth round, but it was finally decided to be tabled until after the membership drive and the reorganization of the block system of representation, which if it is successfully formed will sponsor intra-club socials, sports, service et cetera and replace the YBA Nites.

three busseis fill vacancies

At the last Board of Directors meeting held on Tuesday, March 14, at the Church office, three Busseis were added to the cabinet to fill the vacancies caused by relocation and resignation.

Toru Ikeda was elected 2nd Vice President in place of Frank Doi who left for New York recently.

Bill Tsuji was unanimously elected to be the treasurer, while his former position of Ass't Treasurer was filled by Yutaka Takanishi of 326. The treasury was formerly held by Henry Hosaka who has transferred to Crystal City with his family.

Accepting Misao Nakamura's resignation, Doris Fujimoto, 330, was elected to take her place, and Grace Hosaka, 322, became Ass't Music Chairman.

Extending an invitation to all centers and free zone churches, the Headquarters of the Buddhist Churches of America have requested that one reverend, one issei and one YBA member be present at the first war-time conference of its organization to be held on April 28 and 29 at Relocation Center, Topaz, Utah.

Numerous topics were listed, not specific but in general, such as the Buddhist movement in the free zone, incorporation, Nisei ministry education, publications, coast church minister's pay in the centers, and others.

At present Rev. Tsunoda has been appointed by the YBA, with one or two alternates in case he cannot make the trip.

Dear Sirs,

I wish to thank you for sending me the well-arranged and skillfully edited publication of your Organization.

It is apparent by this publication that Buddhist are still carrying on the torch of Faith in the Buddha, Dharma, and Sangha, and I am mighty proud and receive tremendous inspiration and courage to see you young people incessantly working for the building of the firm foundation in the institution of religious belief.

We need more of your ability and earnestness and from your continuous appeal to the fellow Bussels reveals the fact that some are striving towards this attainment and others shall we say the multitude, relaxing nonchalantly, still this dream of ours which is a bumpy road obstructed with difficulty something remote to them.

Your appeals are sincere but, no matter how minor your groups that is Our group; we must strive on, with strong Faith, in harmony in the Eightfold Path. Failures cannot from "Outline Of Buddhism".

Chief among the leading minds of the sixth century before Christ, towers the intellect of Siddartha Gautama afterwards known as The Buddha. The word Buddha-by the way is a title and means the Knower or the Fully Enlightened One. The task of this man was the founding of a world religion which might be embraced by all men irrespective of caste, color, or race.

That the Buddha was an actual living being, there is no doubt, and we know when and where he lived. The old reports in the scriptures are corroborated, by other contemporaneous writings, even by those of adversaries. There exist also, rock inscriptions, whose antiquity and authenticity cannot be doubted, recording some of the principle teachings.

The Buddha was born in a grove in a grove Lumbini Park in the suburbs of the city of Kapilavasthu not far from Benares in India. His Father Buddhodana and His Mother Mahamaya were probably royalties, although some claim that his father was a chieftain rather than a king. Be that as it may, he has come down to be historically as a prince. His birthplace has been traced and verified by a pillar or column erected by the great Emperor Asoka about 250 B. C. on which is engraved in the writings and language of the day: "Here the Buddha, The Sage of the Sakyas was born."

Things To Know About 'Wesak Day'

Wesak Day is the day on which our Lord Buddha appeared on this earth as the son of King Siddhoda and Queen Maya, rulers of the Sakya Clan in Northern India.

According to calculations based on the Gregorian Calendar the date of His Birth falls on April 8, April being the gentle month of soft rains and flowers.

'Kanbutsu'

The rite of pouring sweet tea on the figure of the Buddha is called Kanbutsu. When the Buddha was born in the beautiful Lumbini Garden the heavens in great joy let fall a gentle and sweet rain which bathed the body of the little babe. From this event the rite of the Kanbutsu owes its origin. It is the main rite of the Wesak Day Celebration.

'Hana Matsuri'

Hanamatsuri, another name for the Wesak Festival, means literally Flower Festival. This name has been given to this day upon which the Buddha was born due to the fact that the Shrine of the Buddha is decorated with beautiful flowers.

'Hanamido'

The altar in which the figure of the Buddha is enshrined is called the Mido. For the Wesak Festival, as the Mido is decorated with flowers it is called the Hana-Mido.

REPORTS BY BUDDHIST CHURCHES OF AMERICA

COAST CHURCH STATUS ADVISED

We are advising you in regards to the Buddhist Churches which you have left behind on the West Coast. Realizing the fact that we do not know what is in store for the buildings that are left behind, we must comply with the Alien Land Law in every respect. We find it most urgent that each church appoint Board of Directors and empower this Board to act upon any church problems needing immediate attention so that various church problems can be undertaken by said Board. This Board must naturally be a Nisei Board consisting of at least three members and the names of the Board of Directors must be reported to the Secretary of State of the State where the church is located.

This is to be done only in those cases where the church has been incorporated.

We realize, too, that many of the Buddhist Churches did not have a Nisei Board of Directors, and that since evacuation the Board Members have been scattered about; and hence, it has been made difficult to conduct meetings to thrash out the problems of the church.

This being the case, we found it rather advisable that if the majority of the members of the certain church are concentrated in one sector or a center; the Board of Director be appointed from that group so that in an emergency case they may take whatever action deemed necessary.

If, too, though the majority of the members are in one center but find that the reverend for the said group is not there, it would be wise to select the Board of Directors and send names to the reverend for his approval. With many matters in regards to the church building coming into our office, we find it is necessary that you send to us at your earliest convenience, a list of the members of the Board of Directors of your church, so that we may give you our fullest assistance in ironing out whatever difficulty you may have.

RELIGIOUS LITERATURE & CHURCH SUPPLIES

After much research, the Buddhist Churches of America has finally undertaken the task of making available in the very near future the various church supplies. Rev. T. Kashima has been selected to head this department. This department has been divided into two sections, namely, the literary department and the supplies department. The literary department has been compiling materials and data in efforts to publish an English booklet on Buddhism. The supplies department is gathering materials and in the very near future will distribute at a nominal cost, a beautifully mounted pocket-sized image of Amida (Go-ho-

Shakamuni Buddha & Amida Buddha

by Rev. Z. Kawasaki

In the Shin Sect there are two views in regard to Amida Buddha and Shakamuni Buddha—that they are different and that they are the same.

Shakamuni Buddha was born in India 2500 years ago as a prince of a nation. He is a historical personality. Amida Buddha is not a historical personality, never having been born, never having died, but is one who from innumerable kalpas past built His Pure Land and is at the present time teaching the Dharma for the sake of all sentient beings. In other words, He is the Buddha who becomes the object of religious worship. In the Sutras various descriptions are given of Amida Buddha, but in all cases He exists from a religious basis, we cannot recognize Him from the standpoint of history or geography.

Thus, when we say that Amida Buddha and Shakamuni Buddha are altogether different the following may be said: "Among the countless Buddhas in the universe both Shakamuni Buddha and Amida Buddha exist. Shakamuni Buddha was born in India 2500 years ago.

Then there is the view that Shakamuni Buddha and Amida Buddha are one and the same. This view is that Amida Buddha taking compassion on all sentient beings took on human form and appeared on earth as Shakamuni Buddha.

St. Shinran declared that Amida Buddha and Shakamuni Buddha are the

same. This, because He was born in this world to teach mankind the Original Vow of Amida, when He preached the Larger Sukhavati Vyuha He did so as Amida Buddha.

Thus, very simply we may say that from the historical standpoint Shakamuni Buddha was one who was born in India and thus is different from Amida Buddha, but from the standpoint of religious faith Amida Buddha appeared on this earth as Shakamuni Buddha for the sake of all mankind.

In the Shin Sect these two Buddhas are regarded as one; thus the Larger Sukhavati Vyuha is not considered the Teaching of Shakamuni Buddha but the Teachings of Amida Buddha. Accordingly in the Shin Sect Shakamuni Buddha is not the object of worship. Furthermore,

Happiness follows sorrow, and sorrow follows happiness; but soon all of us will no longer discriminate between happiness and sorrow because we will be able to realize the freedom of the mind and spirit in the truth of the Sangha.

Such an attitude is reserved only for a weakling and coward. A true Buddhist we must train ourselves so that after we have shed tears we can smile again, and after we have cried we can laugh once more. We must train ourselves so that we can recall that fact that there are many many more people who are in a much more miserable state than we are.

Why do we live? Why do I live? This is my answer:

I live because I was given right to live by my past Karma. I live even though I suffer because I believe that suffering is an part of my life due to my past deeds.

I live because I want to see how far I can progress in this world and I shall not stop living until my time is up.

I live because I want to help my fellow traveller on the road to Eternal Peace and I believe that others will help one if I should do one on the wrong path.

I live because I have faith in life. I live because I have faith in the people around me even though they seem to be bad. Above all, I live because I have faith in the Divine Name of the Namu Amida Butsu.

This is why I live and I hope this is why you live.

YBA DELEGATES

REV. TSUNODA & MAS. HONDA

It was disclosed at the last Tuesday's meeting that Rev. Tsunoda and Masami Honda have applied for short term leave to attend the Buddhist Church of America conference in behalf of the YBA. Their proposed itinerary is to leave next Tuesday, April 11th for Denver and then to Topaz, providing clearance can be obtained in time for Reverend who expressed surprise, like many of us, to be on the stop list. It is hoped that he can go, but in case he cannot attend Masami Honda will be delegate to this confab.

NEW YBA PROGRAM

ACCEPTED

At the Cabinet and Board of Directors meeting held on Tuesday, April 4, a plan to formulate a respective Block YBA was presented to the body by the appointed committee lead by Tom Tanaka; it was accepted unanimously. This plan was centered in the idea that a new system of YBA program be carried out in order to create more interest and cooperation.

During its discussion it was explained that blocks with few Busseis should go ahead and form their own block YBA and then participate in the YBA activities jointly with their neighboring YBA. For blocks with married and older Busseis are asked for their cooperation within their respective block. It was also

DENSON YBA PREPARES FOR DISBANDMENT

The Denson Buddhist Bulletin, a monthly church publication of the Jerome Relocation Project, Denson, Arkansas, disclosed in its March issue of the inevitable dissolution of the Denson YBA. The Jerome Center is the first center to meet the fate of diminished population caused by relocation. The Bulletin says:

"As a shocking blow to the Denson YBA came the untimely announcement from Washington on February 22 that the Jerome Project would be officially closed by June 30, necessitating inevitable disbandment of the now active Bussei organization.

The matter was the subject of grave discussion on March 3 at the first regular meeting of the Board of Directors and Representatives called by Chairman Kiyomi Nakamura since the disclosure of the plan.

In preparation for the dissolution of the YBA in time for the first transfer movement of the members, various Bussei activities have been heavily scheduled for the remaining months of April and May.

A gala "Hena Matsuri" festival on the week-end of April 9 will be followed by a Parents' Nite on April 30 and a Bussei Memorial service on May 28.

A farewell "blow-out" will probably climax all activities for the season.

Wesak Day Celebrated In Europe, England

Since Buddhism is not only confined to the East, but found spreading itself throughout the World, especially picking up velocity in Europe, England and America, Wesak Day is celebrated wherever Buddhist are found. Publications from England namely the BUDDHISM IN ENGLAND has revealed the great strides made by various Buddhist organizations and the report of various European Wesak Day news.

Although found in an old issue of 1943, it says:

"Since we announced the formation of the Hamburg Society in May, 1932 we had heard no news of its activi-

The Sakyas, the people over whom Suddhodana, the Buddha's father, reigned, lived on the borders of Nepal; they were a branch of the great family of which the Germanic and Slav peoples in Europe are also members. Hence the titles Sakya-muni, wise man of the Sakyas, and Sakya-sinha, lion of the Sakyas.

Seven days after the Buddha's birth his mother died and her sister Pajapati, Suddhodana's second wife, took care of him. She later became the first woman member of his order.

In due time the name Siddartha, meaning the "All Successful One," was given him; his family name being Gautama, he is known to many as the Prince Siddartha Gautama.

ties until the 4th of this month when we were delighted to receive a report of its first "Wesak Festival" from one of its members, Herr Wilhelm R. Richter, who says Buddhism is "in the air" in Germany, and had this meeting been advertised no doubt the attendance would have been doubled or trebled.

And it goes on, "On the evening of the 28th May of this year, Vesakh Uposatha was for the first time celebrated in Hamburg; seventy-eight persons assembling in the hall of the Anthroposophical Society to take part there in. Some of these came from several local Buddhist Centres but many of them were isolated students".

In another report, "The Festival of Wesak was celebrated at Cambridge on Sunday afternoon, May 27th, at a meeting convened by the Ven. P. Vajiranyana Thera at the house of the Maharajah Kunar of Dharampur".

Still in another, "The Full Moon of Vaisakha fell this year on the 28th day of May. At eight o'clock that evening the Buddhist in and around London, including a few visitors from the provinces, met at the Caxton Hall, London."

Wesak Day undoubtedly is commemorated today as it has been when this report was published, although in a much restricted manner due to the present circumstances. It seems they follow the lunar calendar instead of our so-called solar calendar.

Life

by Manabu Fukuda

Have you ever stopped to think that most of a young people of Bussei age groups have already spent anywhere from $\frac{1}{3}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ of the normal human life? I became alarmed when I realize that I have used up $\frac{1}{2}$ of the average human life and I often wonder, "what have I done or accomplished during the past quarter of a century or more?" I do not know what your answer may be, but mine is, "nothing".

Sometimes we should sit down and ponder over the past and see what we have accomplished in the way of good deeds or worthwhile tasks. I feel that it is quite necessary that we take an inventory of our activities for a certain period of time. Not only must we investigate our physical activities, but we must also consider our mental and spiritual conditions as well.

When we realize that we have actually wasted half of our lives, we should begin to realize about ourselves. While we are here in Poston and have more time than money let us meditate a little and look over the pages of our personal biographies.

Don't you think it would be interesting and worthwhile to write our autobiographies? I think most of us would be reluctant and ashamed to permit anyone to read our past lives if we honestly describe our youthful lives detail, and would be surprised to learn how little we performed the things that we had to and how much effort we wasted on the things which would have been omitted from our lives.

We shall be amazed at the fact that some of us merely live to eat and sleep as we stay on this earth as human beings. We are very unimportant when we think of ourselves just in terms of mere physical existence, eating, sleeping, laughing, crying, joking, fretting, grieving, rejoicing, and finally dissolving into dust. If that is all, why did we ever come into this world. Surely, we must have other reasons than to just idle away the time while suffering various tragedies of human life.

Sometimes I can not understand why all these tragedies of the present war have to come trooping together so mercilessly and so devastatingly upon the lives of the human beings. However, I can realize that during the course of life we must learn to take these bitter pills which may bring us to better world in the future. I feel fortunate for being given these bitter experiences in life for these things shall become good medicines of the soul.

My past life's experiences have taught me that I must be brave. Brave, not in the sense of physical hardship, but brave in meeting all heart aches of life. The tragedies and the sufferings have proven to be that life is not picnic nor a

Softly blew the breezes
On that Summer morn,
In Lumbini's garden,
Where the Lord was born.

All for worship came,

REV. TSUNODA LEAVES POSTON

Our advisor, around whom the YBA has become the most influential and worthy organization in Poston III, has decided to leave us in order that he can be of greater service where Buddhism is greatly impaired by the lack of an English-speaking reverend.

Rev. Tsunoda has given us a new light to the spirit of Amida Buddha in his English sermons. His youthful, good-natured personality has bridged the gap between reverend and Busseis. So, our fight for Buddhism here in camp became a mutual concern.

Now he leaves us. The Truth that all things are impermanent, and that we suffer a complex of the things we want but cannot get, finally comes to reality.

After being fortunate to have him so long, isn't it like parting with your best friend?

GO-EIZO

"Only through the recitation of the Nembutsu we are saved by Amida-Buddha." Our absolute faith in Amida-Buddha, who fulfilled His Vow with austerities and work for myriads of Kalpas, and the countless Merits and Virtues and Wisdom thus attained are treasured up and realized in this Sacred Symbol, "Namu Amida Butsu". It has, therefore, the power to induce us to rely upon it. The Go-eizo is the Holy Figure of Amida Buddha, the object of our worship. Carry it with you; seek comfort in the Name, "Namu Amida Butsu".

ONCE AGAIN

.....Obon is just around the corner. In spite of the countless number of Busseis either already gone or presently relocating, we feel that this year's Obon Odori will be just as gay. So, let's one and all, young and old, join in the tuneful odoris.

THE YOUNG MATRON

.....you see when you walk into the Buddhist Church office is none other than Mrs. Helen Yamakoshi, who has relieved Mrs. Mutsuyo Tsunoda of her duties as typist-secretary. Helen's doing a bang up job, too!

WE EXTEND

.....greetings (and all that goes with it) to our new colleagues Sue and Michi. We know you'll like working (?) for the Bussei Review.

AND THUS

..... we initiate this column (and what a puny one, too.) Yes, my dear friends, we are afraid it's going to be a regular feature of the Bussei Review.

A Buddhist Pens A Letter

by frank doi

It was quite sometime ago that I said goodbye to you and many more of the good friends of Pos-ton. I thought I better stop hybridating and let you know that I still exist in perfect condition. I receive the Bussei Review quite regularly and never before did I realize the full value of the publication as I enjoy the paper now. When I left the Center and the days went by, I was always wondering how I was going to keep track of the Y.B.A. events. But as long as the paper is kept up I think it certainly allows every reader one moment of honest to goodness enjoyment.

Being here practically four months, I am, I hope, able to tell you somethings about this locality. Of course, when one thinks of New York, they have in mind the Metropolis, but let me tell you that there certainly is the hickish side to the state, also. I am in one of the numerous country villages which have been existing since the early pioneer days. There are many points of historical interest as one drives around the country. The people all seem to know each other like brothers and sisters and we were accepted as equally. I am very pleased with the public sentiment here. I don't think one could expect it any better. I was invited to the village Church of Friends almost the day after arriving. Since I am so far from the city, I am not able to take part in any of its activities. The only activity we have here is very similar to the events held by the prominent Bussei couple in Mc-Henry, Ill. (Mr. & Mrs. H. Mayeda). Just a simple grace during meal time. However, sometimes it winds up as a complicated sermon on my part with Mr. Jim Ueta as the victim (if I only knew more about it). I am very glad to learn that a chapter is being set up at Chicago. I hope some day we'll be able to set up one in Poplar Ridge. Please note that I said someday.

Hi Folks!

....Since I'm the one who's to let you in on the dope out--I'll waste none of yours or my time, but go right in to it.

GET-TOGETHER....

....318 YBA and 306 must have a lot in common--they had 2 joint socials recently, and good ole "weenic bakes" seem quite popular too. IN & OUT.....

....Among the Busseis who left camp are Fred Omachi, Mr. & Mrs. H. Yobisu both, respective Block YBA advisors.

....Incidentally I heard that many Busseis out on seasonals returned with empty pockets. Wonder why???

TERRIFIC HEAT.....

....This summer heat is terrific--coolers are really appreciated--especially when one walks to and from work 4 times a day.

ODDS & ENDS.....

....Songbird, Y.N. is working now at Ad. A. office.

....K.Y. and N.M. of Stewards prefers Ad.A to any other, namely, Supervisors and Law Office.

Excerpts from a Soldier's Letter

ED.'S NOTE: The following was taken from a letter to one of our members.

If there is anything which I would like to impress into the minds of the Niseis in the various centers, it is their religion....be it Buddhist or Christianity. Nothing has been more pathetic to see than those Niseis who are soldiers yet are spiritually immature. Young as we are, invariably we measure or value in terms of material things too much and....naturally, we forget that such things as spiritual side of a man's life is also essential in order to maintain a sober mind especially in time of war. War in itself is ugly, horrifying even at its best, regardless what others may say. Also, going to church may seem very sissified in the eyes of the younger set of sophisticates in the centers, but....war and its ugly nakedness of life at its worst will bring realizations that material things are useless in such times. Therefore, please tell my Bussei friends to attend churches so that they will not be one of the many who are spiritually immature!! Busseis in foxholes will tell you that what I have just said is not a laughing matter....soldiers will need it just as much as they need bullets and food and shelter while the bullets whine over their heads!

and one of them is my good friend, Mas Ueta. I had to go to see him but the other two came over to visit us. Niseis are as rare as the gasoline is in the tanks of the autos. One of the fellows was a chaplain from Camp Shelby visiting friends he acquired here while attending the seminary nearby. The other man was from the State of Maine. My, but how they are scattered.

We are doing our best to establish a good record for the Niseis by doing our share of minding our own business. I sincerely hope that each and everyone of the Buddhists, regardless of where you are strive to maintain the already strong going and expanding movement of our YBA

When he was invited to the Denver area, on his return trip from Topaz, Rev. Tsunoda saw the condition of the outside as far as Bussei activity was concerned, and it was during this time that negotiations were successfully concluded, except for minor details which were ironed out after his return to Poston. Moreover, not being fully recovered from his illness, Denver was chosen because of its beneficial climate.

As yet, Reverend has not set any definite date for his departure; the reverend has stated he would like to stay till after the Obon Festival.

Rev. and Mrs. Tsunoda are formerly from San Francisco. They voluntarily evacuated to Reedley, and on August 4, 1942 came to Poston.

GALA OBON FESTIVAL DANCE

IN MEMORIAM

THEY NEVER QUITE LEAVE US

They never quite leave us, our friends who have passed Through the shadows of death to the sunlight above;
 A thousand sweet memories are holding them fast
 To the places they blessed with their presence and love
 The work which they left and the books which they read
 Speak mutely, though still with an eloquence rare,
 And the songs that they sang, the words that they said,
 Yet linger and sigh on the desolate air.
 And oft when alone, and oft in the throng,
 Or when evil allures us, or sin draweth nigh,
 A whisper comes gently, "Nay, do not the wrong,"
 And we feel that our weakness is pitied on nigh.

● EDITORIALS MEMORIAL OBON

The past can't be recovered.
And yet it is not gone;
Love's ties cannot be severed,
Love's blessings will live on.

-Loves Blessings

We prone to forget that we are enjoying the fruits of labor of those who have gone before us. In our selfish nature, little credit ever goes to the other fellow, without whom we could not have succeeded in our lives.

Our deeds must conform with the Love and Mercy of Amida. Get rid of selfishness and lust and extend gratitude to everybody. Live together and enjoy their fellowship; and when they go before us, remember them on O-Bon. For, on this day we live our lives over again with them.

GO FORTH, REV TSUNODA

Go forth, Rev. Tsunoda; we are proud to send forth our best ambassador. And in its sorrow, we are happy that we are serving those who are much less fortunate.

"Trustingly we say, Namu Amida Butsu! Our hearts are heavy, but yours is a Holy Mission. Wherever you go, Reverend, our hope and success will be with you.

IS THIS OUR LAST OBON FESTIVAL IN CAMP?

Everytime we send off our friends, we often wonder if our F-Day is next. Selective Service (continued on page 5)

AS THE DAYS

...go by, more anxious mothers, fathers, wives and friends, will get sad news of their loved ones. Although reported as minor injuries, Noboru Togioka, brother of Hiroshi and Joe of 309 was wounded in Italy. Yes, war has finally come home to the Japanese Americans. If these fighting youths, on the front cannot get back our rights, many will have died in vain.

IT'S HIGH TIME

...somebody noticed the splendid job our Chief Ichiro Okada is doing for the Bussei Review. And it had to take "Gleanings" of Camp II to take notice. You're not so bad yourself so don't feel too envious, M. F. Anyway, thanks for the fine tribute, and keep up your fine work.

● SIGNIFICANCE

Obon - Its Meaning And Origin

by rev. n. s. tsunoda

August 15th is the day on which the whole Buddhist world pauses to pay its respects to the dead, corresponding roughly to Memorial Day of the United States. This religious rite is called the Ura-Bon-E. Ura-Bon comes from the Sanscrit "Ulla-vana", Ura being a transliteration of the Ulla and Bon being a translation of Vana. To hang upside down signifies pain and suffering as it is very painful to be hung in the air with feet tied together. The bowl is a utensil from which all food is partaken and thus symbolizes salvation. Thus the word Ura-Bon or Ullavana means to be saved, to be delivered from pain and suffering.

The O-Bon Festival has its origin in the Ullavana Sutra, which chronicles the story of Moggallana, one of the disciples of the Lord Buddha. Moggallana, who possessed supernatural powers of vision so that he could pierce the veil of darkness and perceive other worlds both past, present, and future, desired to see his dead mother and determine what kind of world she was living in. With his power of vision, he searched all the worlds for her presence, and after a long search, he found her in hell of the starving demons. Through her past Karma, she had been reborn into that hell of suffering and pain. Moggallana, seeing the emaciated face and figure of his mother, offered her food, but when she attempted to partake of that food, it turned into fire. Greatly grieved by this discovery Moggallana asked the Lord Buddha what could be done to save his mother from such a hell. The Buddha told Moggallana to invite the members of the Sangha (Buddhist Brotherhood) to a service and huge feast when they gathered together the middle of the month. This Moggallana did, and through this act his mother was delivered from the hell (continued on page 4)

...here it is August again--our 3rd Aug. in Poston. Also time to commemorate the annual O-bon. Let us all attend the service and participate in the ondo. You needn't be an expert at it, just join the circle and follow the person in front of you.

...the swimming pool is the most popular spot and hour of the day. With their deep sun-tan they really look like natives.

...An incident at a movie recently, Rev. Tsunoda was chasing a dog that was evidently running away with a "lunch". He caught the dog at the west entrance and finally was successful in convincing it that the lunch was his (not the dog's) and returned to his chair--all in smiles...
...we'll all certainly miss Rev. Tsunoda, his friendly way in which he untiringly helped our Y.B.A. Good luck, Rev. and Mrs. Tsunoda. May our paths cross again.

● BIOGRAPHY

Rev. Noboru Shodo Tsunoda

REV. NOBORU SHODO TSUNODA, who hails from Santa Barbara, California, is considered THE BEST nisei reverend by all of the Busseis through out United States.

He was born in Oxnard, California, February 26, 1913 and graduated Franklin Grammar School, Santa Barbara High School, Santa Barbara State College, and majored in science with C.S.F. honors. He also graduated the Buddhist Theological College of Japan.

In April, 1938, he claimed Miss Gutsuyo Taku of San Luis Obispo as his bride. They were married in Kyoto, Japan by The Corenshi Shojo Otani.

Before coming to Boston, he was the executive secretary of the National YBA in San Francisco.

In spite of his ill health, he has done an enormous amount of work in helping the Busseis further their Buddhism in the United States. If it wasn't for his kind help, Buddhism among niseis will not have been as it is today.

Anything from a marble game to football game or a baseball game seems to be his favorite sports, and his favorite "Naniwabushi" is on Knute Rockne.

and relocation have made F-day inevitable for many of us.

So, there probably will not be another O-bon festival to enjoy unless we are fortunate in living near a Buddhist Church again.

This may be our last O-bon festival in camp. Come out and join the festival.

● SACRED TEACHINGS

The Epistle Of Death or of the White Ashes
 translated by rev. n. s. tsunoda

Ed. Note: This is a rough translation of Rennyō Shonin's famous "Hakkatsu No Gbunsho".

As we deeply observe the transient form of man's life, we realize that in this world from the beginning to end what is momentary and passing is the illusory cause of human life.

Thus we have not heard of anyone receiving human form which lasts for ten thousand years. The cause of life ebbs very rapidly. Can a person preserve his body for a hundred years at the present time? Not knowing whether one will go first or whether another will depart first, not knowing whether it will come today or tomorrow, those who depart before are as countless as the drops of dew.

Therefore, in the morning we may have radiant health; in the evening, we may be white ashes. When the winds of uncertainty strike, our eyes are closed forever; when the last breath leaves our body, the healthy color of the face is transformed and we lose the appearance of radiant life; our loved ones may gather around and lament, but to no avail. When such an event occurs, the body is sent into an open field and cremated, leaving only the white ashes. What a sad plight.

Thus we see that what man cannot control is the passing away of the young or old alike. Therefore, we should all look to our future life and with faith in Amida Buddha repeat the Holy Name.

ED. NOTE: The above "Gobunsho" is found in your "Little red book" or the red Gatha Book on page 90 in the Japanese language. This is printed here so that we can read and understand the true significance of life as we celebrate Obon.
