Dear Member,

Because we value your membership so highly, I want to give you this advance notice about your renewal, along with a suggestion.

Although you still have a little time left on your current membership, there are several reasons why renewing now is a good idea.

First, of course, you'll avoid any risk of having your membership lapse. Just send back the enclosed form today and you won't have to be concerned with, "Did I or didn't I renew my AARP?"

Your subscriptions to Modern Maturity and the News Bulletin will continue uninterrupted. You can go right on ordering from the Pharmacy Service. You'll still enjoy AARP discounts at hotel, motel, bus travel and car rental companies. And the other benefits will be there for you to take advantage of: the AARP group health insurance program...investment opportunities...motoring plan...travel service...car and homeowners insurance.

Those are enough reasons to renew, but there are more. Reminder letters like this, for example. You surely don't want to read more of them and we'd just as soon put the time, and the cost of paper and postage, to better use.

So sending your renewal now saves us both time and money. Furthermore, you'll be renewing your commitment to a better way of life for older Americans. With your continued support we can be more effective when we speak to lawmakers about tax reform, housing, health costs and other vital issues.

All in all it's a good idea to renew your AARP membership now. The form enclosed is for that purpose.

Just check the length of membership you want. (Note the savings for a 3-year or 10-year membership.) Then return the form with your payment in the envelope provided.

Many thanks for your prompt reply.

Sincerely,
