BANQUET

The annual Senior Banquet marked the entering of the final phase of High School life for the "Duces." This gala affair was held in Mess 7 on May 4, festivities beginning about 7:30 p.m.

With white candles glowing against blue decorations, soft music filling the air, and faces intently watching the proceedings, a cool atmosphere was created. After everyone found his place and was seated, M.C. Murakami officially started the affair. After the first course, President Roy Muto spoke a few words of welcome and then introduced Lillian Wakatsuki, who sang "Say A Prayer." After everyone had had his fill of chicken, salad, and "what-have-you," the guest of honor, Dr. John H. Provinse, head of the Community Management Division of the W. R. A., was introduced by our Project Director, Mr. R. P. Merritt. Following that, the "No-Shames" of the campus presented "Guess Who," a quiz program about the faculty. After desert, tables were cleared and dancing was enjoyed by all.

The guests present were Dr. Provinse, Mr. and Mrs. Fox, Miss Potts, George

MOVIES

On April 21 and 22, the Annual Staff sponsored a double feature movie for the people of Manzanar at an admission fee of 25 cents. To accommodate the children, the pictures were shown at a matinee on Sunday afternoon, April 22, for 10 cents.

"Quarterback," was a hilarious football comedy, starring Wayne Morris. The audience was rolling into the aisles with laughter. This may be slightly exaggerating it, but it certainly was funny.

The second feature, "Geronimo," was a wild and woolly story of a great Apache Indian Chief. Geronimo was played by Chief Thundercloud. The story was full of action, with Indians plundering the pioneers, destroying settlements and wagon trains, and waging war against the United States Army. When Geronimo took on the United States Army, he met his equal, for he was defeated and captured in a decisive battle.

The movies proved successful, for the people enjoyed both films. The first night was packed with an appreciable number coming Sunday night and to the matinee. The total amount of money collected was about 465 dollars.

SCHOOLS' WEEK

Climaxing Public Schools' Week was the Open House held on our campus last Friday evening, April 27, at this time visitors were permitted to see the students in their classes.

Homeroom began at 6:45 p.m. and third and seventh periods (35 minutes each) followed. At 8:30 the Student Body and the visitors assembled at the auditorium for an assembly presented by the Student Body. The program commenced with the audience joining in community singing.

Public Schools' Week is a nation-wide celebration held to promote better relations between the school and the parents.

"Looking Backwards"

Watch for it! It's the thing! The "hit" of the year! Another of Louie Frizzell's rendition.

Yes! It looks as if Louie Frizzell if headed for another great achievement. This time he will present the choir on May 18 in "Looking Backwards," a musical program.

"Looking Backwards" will be the last public appearance of the choir in the history of Manzanar. Heading the program will be selection by the members of the original cast of "Load and Clear," which was presented in June, 1944. There will also be selections from three choir concerts-----"Music Night," June, 1943; "Christmas Concert," December 1943; "Christmas Concert," December 1944 plus new numbers

Dear Diary

May 4, 1945

Dear Diary,

I got up bright and early around a quarter of seven. I got dressed. Ate breakfast. Quarter to eight started for school. My first and second periods were all right. But third period I have English with Mrs. Oltmans, and because I didn't prepare my lesson, I was trembling in my chair with my fingers crossed, just hoping she wouldn't call on me. What do you know, she called on me. I received a minus for the day's recitation. Went to bed at ten.

May 5, 1945

Dear Diary,

I got up at six o'clock, dressed and ate breakfast. Quarter to eight went to work. In the afternoon, I sort of fooled around trying to study my dear ole physics. After dinner went to sleep at eleven.

May 6, 1945

Dear Diary,

Got up at seven. Dressed and went to breakfast. At ten went to church(15-16). Sermon quite interesting. Studied physics 'Til six. Went to Drama Class party at Mr. Frizzell's home. Ate a lot. Party ended about eleven. Some of us kids stayed and studied physics until twelve. Well, here's hoping I pass the test, after all that studying. I was already half asleep when I got in bed.

Editorial

It is not a habit with me to hit people's faults and criticize them, but a topic was brought up in one of the classes which, I think, should be called to the attention of the Student Body.

The evacuation was an unfortunate event from many angles. One of these unfortunate results is the indifferent attitude towards almost everything shown by the students and population of the center as a whole. This is not a dogmatic statement and should not be taken as such.

Coming down to the point, it is true that a great many students of the Secondary School have tried and have made the best of very unnatural conditions, but it is also a fact that there are number of others who have adopted the "don't care attitude."

In a few short weeks, school here will be over. Most of you will be in school again this fall in normal American communities. People are going to judge you at your face-value. It will be your attitude towards everything that will determine the degree of your assimilation. For your own sake, "Don't be indifferent."

Snooping...

One warm day I was walking between some classes and peeked in the open doors;

I saw Yuki Shiba, asleep
 in her seventh period Social Problems class. Is it because you didn't get enough sleep the night before, Yuki?

Coming around the corner of Barrach Three, I saw Shorty (Paul Whiteman, the second) trying to lead the class in the song, "America, the Beautiful." Not bad, Shorty, keep up the good work.

In another class I overheard Rokuro K. reciting his favorite poem, "Kubla Khan."

It was quite a sight
 when I passed by the girls'
 gym, 'cause there I saw Ta-
 maru, Ryo, Junko, Chimiyo, Setsu M., Taye I., Mas H., Muts, Clara, Miyeko, Edith,
 and Irene M., all doing bending exercises. What-cha all worried about?

Coming towards the Study
 Hall during fifth period,
 I got a glimpse of G. Ha-zama in a slight dizz. He probably was thinking of a certain M. M.

Looking into the Typing Class, my eyes caught a view of Mitose Kuramoto trying hard to find the letters, F-R-A-N-C-I-S.

Just as I was about to turn to my left to go to the Study Hall again, I saw M. Ogi agitating in his Latin class.

Finally coming around to Study Hall, I saw littleee
 Bobby Hoshiko busy studying something at the information desk. But his mind was probably on that funny book which was in his back pocket.

FRESHMEN'S PROM

A Freshmen's Prom was held on April 28, 1945, at Ballroom 16. Some "slide" dancing was seen when Miss Day and Mr. Rogers glided along the floor. Others seen dancing were Misako and Yasuhiko, Atsuko and Jackson, Shizuko and Nori, Hideko and Seiji, Mary and George.

Sho Matsuno was the lucky
 "guy" who won the raffle;
 the lucky "gal" was Ayako Nishi.

Prizes were awarded to the best dancers -- Masako
 Hata and Michio Motoyasu;
 Angela Suzuki and Susumu
 Tanimura.

Refreshments were served ten o'clock and then, after a few more dances, "good-nights" were exchanged.

Gay Sunday Night

If you're wondering what all that noise was in Block
 One, one Sunday, April 29, here's a little light on the matter. The Drama Class felt that something should be done to celebrate the recent successful presentation of the Senior Class Play. So, inviting all those who had extended a helping hand, the Class had a party at Mr. Frizzell's home.

There were games, dancing, and food galore for those kids-who-love-to-eat! All in all, it was a wonderful party-----all the kids went home tired, but they will always remember the swell time they had.

MORONISTIA

Did you hear about the moron who wouldn't on his ration book because he was afraid to sit on the points.

KALLUM KATA Allusions

One afternoon as I was walking down the street, I met a little birdie, mighty sweet, gave me dose of poisona1 stuff, which went something like this.....

Why is it that Sumi N. takes an interest in banks? Especially the "Sumi-Toma" Bank.

Kiku K. seems to be interested in a certain person (male) who lives in Block 17. Let's not keep it a secret, Kiku.

Harutoshi Nojima has a heart that beats in pretty good rhythm every time his "Ideal" Emiko Kono comes around the corner.

Mary T. enjoys a little stroll in the evening, especially when she has company S.S. walking with her.

Have you noticed the Alan Ladd smile on Nob K.'s face when he gets a sight of A. N.

Saturday and Sunday night I saw some mighty cool couples walking in..... Mas-Virgie, Yoshiko O.-Cabby, Mary-Chuckie, Shirley-Kats, and so-on.

Ka Osumi's heart seems to be throbbing for K. N. (Cont'd from page 1) Shiba, Archie Miyatake, and Mrs. Hayes.

The class wishes to thank Mrs. White, Mrs. Dykes, Mrs. Christensen, the Junior boys and the cooking class for making the Banquet a success.

The price will be...nothing. Admission will be by ticket only; so don't forget to get your tickets to "Looking Backwards," May 18!

- Peter A:--"Miyoo ro-shee!"
- Jack H:"A.T.'s my cousin!"
- Take M:-----"Ah--ya!"

Everything's Jake

A Californian man took down his telephone receiver and, while waiting for a chance to call the operator, he heard this conversation on a party line:

"Hello."

"Hello."

"That you Jake?"

"Yep, this is Jake."

"It don't sound like Jake."

"Well, this is Jake speaking all right."

"Are you sure this is Jake?"

"Sure, this is Jake!"

"Well, listen Jake, this is Henry. Lind me five dollars."

"All-right. I'll tell him when he comes in."

HENNERY

A candidate for Congress from a certain New England state was never shy about telling the voters why they should send him to Washington.

"I'm a practical farmer," he said boastfully, in the course of an address to an agricultural group. "I can plow, reap, milk cows, shoe a horse-----in fact, I should like for someone to tell me one thing about a farm which I cannot do."

Then, in the impressive silence, a voice asked from the back of the hall:

"Can you lay an egg?"

SPORTS' REVIEW

With three weeks left in school, let us turn back to some of our highlights in sports. The Big Pine football game was the initiation of our school sports. In the preliminary game, the Junior High lads walked over their opponents with a score of 26 to 0. Kawamura was the star of the game, while Shikame was the hit show. In the main event, our Senior High boys trounce the Big Pine "Giants" with a score of 33 to 0. This time it was Isozaki and the Sakamoto brothers who kept the team on their feet.

Enthusied with this game, the Sophomores challenged the Juniors. Because the elders had more experience, they came out ahead, 33 to 0. The Juniors, determined to beat the Seniors, had a battle on the gridiron to find out the stronger team. After the final gun was fired, the dust cleared, revealing the Seniors on the winning end of a 19 to 0 score.

With the football season ended, basketball was next on the list. Bishop sent us an invitation to play them; so our boys practiced hard and soon were ready. On the last day the game was cancelled by Bishop. To replace this game the Seniors and the (cont'd next col.)

Juniors collided on a cold January day. The game was a thriller despite the coldness. The Senior team was on top when the final whistle was blown, 22 to 15. Kawahara was the star for the victors, while Hori and Honda shared the spotlight for the losers.

Volleyball was next. Five teams registered to compete for the championship of the Intramural League. Although the league isn't completed, the standing show that the Cougar Babes in on top.

DYNAMITE

One bright sunny day in the very rural town of L.A. We now see this girl in that famous school of Manzanar Hi. She has begun to shine, for she has shown herself to be one of the sportiest sports gal around here.

We are honoring her in this column, because she can not only play well but play fair and square. She has made the All Stars every term. Her favorite sport is baseball and she certainly swings a mean bat.

Well, if you haven't guessed by this time whom we mean, it is none other than that bat-slinging Ruby Oshio.

GIRLS GYM CLASSES

"Will the class please come to order. Hey, come on kids, let's get in line! PLEEZ" Those are the ever famous words of Teddy Hayashi in period seven gym. About a half hour later petite Yuri Yamazaki comes tripping down the stairs with the squad cards. Yuri always was a flash, wasn't she?

Speaking of Yuri, have you seen her windmill chucking? Gee, it's really something. The other day was Yours Truly was scouting around, many unusual things were seen.

Emy Araki was trying to be catchers. Overlooking a few sprains and bruises, I'd say she was pretty "hot stuff".

Aileen Iramizu makes the saying, "Good things come in small packages," come true. She's plenty smart, but she can really send that ball out there.

If anyone is looking for a professional pig tail, just call for Meiko Kami.

"UPSWEEP"

Since it's hot nowadays all the girls seem to be wearing their hair French braided upsweep or pachook as the boys call it. This is some of their opinions: Mitsuru, Pretty good : Tank, Waste rime: Tets, Can't describe it : Sab, It's okay, Kanya Katano, It looks like a pompadour: Minoru, It looks like cool head!

"JIMMINY CRICKETS"

Why does cute, little Naomi Inouye like saying, "Jimminy Crickets! Is it because it kinda sounds like the name of a certain J. N. in block 17?

A. W. O. L.

All the girls seem so desperate these days ; I bet it's because they lost their favorite (Yukuo S.) Well, boys you better watch out ! Wolfesses on the loose !

WATCH OUT !

Mitsuru seems to be sticking a^{round} Mr. Frizzel's place 7th period. Maybe a certain M. N. is in there. Shinichi, you better not let him take her away!

IN THE MOOD

Why is Reiko Arai not in the mood these days? Is it because a boy in block 18 (J. W.) went away?

KING AND QUEEN

Jimmy Shika mi should be known as the king. Guess why?

LUCKY 6

Miss Smith seems to be happy every 6th period on Thursday. Could it be because Mr. Greenlee goes there?

DOT AND FLO

How come Dorothy T. and Florence W. seem to get along these days. Does Florence's cousin have something to do with it? (S. A.)

TAKE-YOUR-PICK

It seems as though Minoru H. can't make up his mind to which girl is his slick chick. Between A. T. and H. K. Giving competition over H. K. to Kanya huh, Mino!

BUZZIN' AROUND

While buzzin' around in 3rd. period gym we see the girls' playing against the boys' in a hot game of volleyball. Two games were played. The first game was in favor of the girls', 15-2. The girls were really hot -- no competition from the boys'. All kinds of set ups. "At a way, girls, "keep it up! The second game was in favor of the boys', 9-4. The boys team was made up of Dickson Uragami, Thomas-Kawamura, Hiro Shono, and "Peanut" Shimizu.

This made it a tie. One game won and one game lost by the girls'. At least it shows that the girls' are mighty powerful. It also makes up for the baseball game.

Latest things that the boys' see in girls' gym are ---- WOW! Believe it or not "Daikon Ashi's" flying through the air. They're actually tumbling. These women are really getting rugged!!

0

Sgt. Jones had a razor blade which he swung at the Nazi. The Nazi said "Ha ha, you missed me." Then Sgt. Jones said, "Missed nothing, just try to turn your head!"

0

Sgt. Jones: (acting as a doctor) Sorry we can't take you into the army, you're flat feet and probably can't walk five miles.

John: Whatcha talking about? I walked fifteen miles to get here.

INTERVIEWING

Miss Arlin Hooper hails from a prominent family of the state of Wisconsin. One of her ancestors risked his life to sign the Declaration of Independence and if you happen to see his name, William Hooper, well, I guess you'd know.

Miss Hooper graduated from Milwaukee State Teacher's College and taught Elementary School before coming to Lanzanah. Her favorite sport is horseback riding and likes to knit as a hobby.

After coming to Lanzanah, she enlisted in the Navy and was discharged because of heart trouble.

She also had the thrill of any girl's dream to meet John Payne (Eum! Wonder if she met anymore handsome actors?).

MR. SMITH

Mr. Smith's 8th grade Gym Class played the 8th grade girl a game of baseball on May 3, 1945. It was a lopsided game in favor of the mighty boys pickup team. Seems as if all the boys who played are the ones Mr. Smith dislikes. The score was 14-2. Better luck next time girls!

INVENTIONS

Private: General, I've just discovered a secret weapon. I guaranteed it will end the war in an instant.

General: Yes? Well, Tell us about it.

Private: "It's very simple, just was a white flag."

INTERVIEW

I had my interview with Mr. Carney and these are my results;

Mr. Joseph Walter Carney is his name, and his profession is being in charge of the payrolls. He takes care of all expenditures and the other part of the office takes care of the bookkeeping.

In his office there are three appointed personals included in his office besides himself, also working there are nine evacutee girls.

His appearance was as follows, blonde hair, blue green eyes with glasses and long lashes, tall and very friendly. His manners were polite, humorous, and very courteous. He was very pleased with our idea of the newspaper.

INTERVIEW WITH MRS. CUSHION

Anyone who has left Manzanar for a short term or definite leaves or anything else concerning with leaving have met Mrs. Ruth Cushion and so will our parents, friends and ourselves in the near future.

Born in Independence, Mrs. Cushion came to take the job of a leave office on December 1, 1942 and is planning to go to New York after Manzanar has closed and plans to take a job similar to the one now.

Mrs. Cushion, who has been in every state of the Union prefers California, the best of them all, maybe because of the weather.

Mrs. Cushion said that she believes that everything the Student Council has done is satisfactory to her and thinks that the children of Manzanar are wonderful.

She also said that no one was of greater help to her when she was helping people relocate, than Chief Gilky, who was always willing to give a helping hand to her. And also Mr. Merrit is doing his very best in conducting and handling the affairs of the camp in the most possible way he can.

Mrs. Cushion stated that her stay in Manzanar will be a memory which will always be her outstanding point in her life.

EDITORIAL

Well, I guess we finally got the first issue of "Teen Talk" out on Thursday, April 26, 1945. We really hope that you enjoyed it as much as the staff enjoyed working on it.

We, the people of Miss Smith's Social Studies eighth grade would really like every one's full cooperation in turning out our next edition. So don't forget to bring any good news that might interest all of us, it will be a lot of help to us. Also, hand in any criticisms you have about it. We would like to try our best to please as many as we can.

CHIEF HAILSTORM VISITS MANZANAR

Chief Hailstorm, of the Cherokee tribe visited Manzanar recently and gave a performance for the elementary, Junior and Senior High School students. He talked very plain English when announcing his program. One of his selections was a Love song. Another was a medicine dance in which he chose a boy from the audience to help him. There were many other selections. He showed a few weapons which warriors of his tribe used when they were at war. He also explained the meaning of the war paint on his face and taught us a few of the Indian words.

SAN FRANCISCO CONFERENCE

San Francisco, April 29, the four leaders of the new world: Stettinius, Molotov, Eden and Soong are almost as familiar to you as are the leaders who are absent, Truman, Chiang Kai Shek, Churchill and Stalin.

They hope that peace will come to the world and are planning how it might be worked out.

Truman even went to the church to pray for Divine help.

RHYTHM REVIEW

The "rhythm Review" program held Friday night, April 27, in the auditorium by the elementary school students seemed to be enjoyed very much by the parents who attended. The 7th and 8th grades were invited to attend the program Thursday afternoon. The Rhythm Review program consisted of about fourteen numbers which included dances, singing, and skits.

OPEN HOUSE NIGHT

For open house 7th period, Miss Smith's 8th grade Social Studies class tried to make the program as entertaining as possible. For the first part of the program four people gave a report on their notebooks on famous men. Following that there was a quiz game in which the leader, Katherine Kamei, would give a clue on some leading Americans. If the class could not guess the person from this clue, she gave two more clues by which to guess the identity of the famous individual. The concluding part of the program contained recordings of some Stephen Foster melodies, a few western ballads, and some patriotic songs as sung by Fred Waring's Glee Club.

SOPHOMORE BANQUET

Sophomores held a super duper prom on Saturday, May 5. There were wonderful decorations. Flowers and candles were also placed at each table. There were eight program dances and one waltz contest of which Speedy Shiba and Toshi Akemoto won first prize. Second prize was won by Harutoshi Nojima and Taya Iwasaki. Door prizes were won by Bobby Miyatake and Lillian Kimura. The dinner was served in courses, chicken being the main course and pie a la mode dessert.

Guests of honor were: Mr. and Mrs. Rollin C. Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Campbells, Miss Miss Rude, Mrs. Dava ll, Miss Oltmans, and Mr. Frizzell.

Mr. Frizzell sang "Candy", Lillian Wakatsuki sang "Let's Take The Long Way Home", Kiyoko Wakita sang "I'm Beginning To See The Light".

Betty Yamada was chosen "Miss Ideal".

DITCH DAY

Selecting Picnic Grounds No. 2 for the site of their "Ditch Day" outing, the Duces, on May 14, passed another memorable milestone.

Gathering at the North Gate early Monday morning, the Seniors started their trek. Also present to make the trip were the class advisors, Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. White, with Mrs. Oltmans, Messrs. Greenlee and Frizzell.

The activities started off slowly with card games, volley-ball, softball and some tumbling by Mr. A. Nielsen. With the approach of noon, lunches began appearing. Some Boy Scouts present were seen putting their cooking skills to use. After lunch, an aggressive aquatic game was started between a certain faction of the boys and the "Funsters."

(cont'd on page 8)

With this issue of The Spot, the journalistic efforts of Manzanar High School comes to an end all activities of our school. Our teachers will be leaving for new positions, our students will be departing for various parts of the country, our equipment and rooms will be turned over for other uses and all that will remain will be the memories that once were part of our everyday school life.

However, we shall continue to keep all school records here at Manzanar, to issue transcripts, and to answer requests for advice and help from our former students in their new communities. Before schools elsewhere open in the fall I know that all of you will have become adjusted to your new surroundings, and that you will be able to continue with your program in a more effective way than as though you had

The remainder of the program will be as follows:

Catholic Church; Recessional "Victorious Legions March" by Manzanar Orchestra.

Upon the completion of the exercise a reception sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association, will be held in the Auditorium. The parents of the Seniors are urged to attend this function. Climaxing the evening will be a dance given in honor of the new graduates. Only those possessing a ticket will be able to gain admittance to the dance.

BACCALAUREATE SER.

The Baccalaureate Services for the graduating Seniors of the Manzanar High School was held in the Community Auditorium at 7:30 p.m., Sunday, May 27. Participating in the services were the three Manzanar Churches.

Representing the Manzanar Catholic Church was Father Leo Steinbach, who addressed the graduates in English, while the Reverend Shinjo Nagatomi of the Buddhist Church spoke in Japanese. Rev. Seiga Sakai of the Manzanar Protestant Church gave the invocation and benediction.

The program for the evening was as follows: prelude; processional; Invocation; hymn, "America the Beautiful;" reading, "Renascence" by Rose Tamai; vocal solo; sermon by Father Steinbach; hymn, "God of Our Fathers" by High School Choir; address in Japanese by Reverend Nagatomi; an instrumental solo; hymn, "America;" benediction; recessional and postlude.

SR. JR. PROM

Silhouettes of swaying palms and dancing figures decorated the walls of the auditorium at the all important Junior-Senior Prom held on the evening of May 12.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Prom Queen, Masako Hori, who was attended by Masako Yuge, Miyo Tachibana, Chinoko Mukai, and Kei Ono. Harumi Ogawa, last year's queen, pinned corsages on the attendants as they came on the stage and then crowned the queen.

As each couple came through the door a spotlight was focused on the pair. The evening of dancing was supplemented with star-studded entertainment and super refreshments. Some of those seen enjoying the evening were: Sumi T., Ken Y; "Marc" Tak; "Burp", Mas; Mas. Y., Kaz, S.; Chinoko, Harry Y; Kei O., Mame M.; Miyo, Tamotsu; Mas H., Akira T.; and many others.

CLASS PROPHECY

The year is 1960, and the locale is in New York City. Walking through Central Park I came across Mr. and Mrs. Tamotsu Nakahara (the former Kathleen Yoshizawa) taking their children out for a walk in the park. A little later, I noticed a fellow stooping down to pick up a cigarette butt and this turned out to be none other than "Chandu" Peter Akahoshi, still up to his old tricks. Getting late so I thought I'd go home to my apartment. I flagged a taxi to the curb and was pleasantly surprised to see the hack was Tosh Morishita. Girl cabbies went out with the war, but Tosh managed to hang on to her job. Although I was a little doubtful about her driving ability I got on. On the corner of 42nd and Broadway, my fears were justified: Tosh took her hands off the steering wheel to powder her nose and "crash". I shakingly got out of the vehicle and peered into the other car. The poor guy was dead -- ~~Yen Akitsugu Saka~~ did live a good life; his fatal mistake was trying to drive in New York City as he did in Manzanar. I saw two big cops running toward us; they turned out to be none other than Kuniaki Sakamoto and detective Ujiaki Niwa. After some argument, they took us to the police station; there I saw Sergeant George Sakamoto and policewoman Kiyoko Nishi putting the third degree on "Baby Face" Yutaka Uyeno. I got tired of this prison life so I got my lawyer, Victor Takemoto (M.A., B.A., K.A., Ph.D., D.D.) to bail me. I thought I'll go see the Cubs who were in town play the Dodgers, but first to get a bite to eat: went into Citro's and was served by waitresses Satoye Hikiji and Yuki Mori. The chef turned out to be none other than Sei Ikebuchi. Which explained my constipation. Still early for the ball game so I thought I'd go shopping for my Mother's Day present.

Went into Sak's Fifth Avenue into the millinery department and came upon a terrific argument being staged over a little squirrel, oh, excuse me, apparently it is nothing but an inanimate hat. What an argument, what cussing, well anyway, the salesgirl finally won out. After witnessing such an occurrence I was a little timid but nevertheless went up and asked for a conservative little hat for my mother. I was stunned to see the pugnacious salesgirl was none other than Kazuko Kadota. After a brief exchange of salutations, I purchased my article and left. On the way to "Flatbush" I bought an Esquire at a drugstore run by Kazuo Naruto and Gene Uematsu. Glancing through the magazine I saw a picture of Kyosuke Ono dressed as neatly as usual in a genuine sharkskin suit modeling men's clothes for Desmonds. Finally got to Ebbets Field, where I saw Uky Shiba selling bleacher tickets with her mouth as wide as ever. Going in to the stadium, I bought a program sheet from Mary Matsuno. Finally got into my seat in the bleachers and observing the field I saw Henry Harada and Rokuro Kurihara putting their college engineering course to use by ~~leveling the field~~. My hunger was again overtaking me so I bought a "red hot" and ale from Nagatoshi Nojima. The teams finally came on the field. The Dodgers were led by shortstop Mas Kusaba. Other players on the daffy squad were catcher Akira Hirami, pitcher Togo Mikuriya, first baseman Kats Marumoto, second baseman Bill Takeita, third baseman Tadashi Mukai, left fielder Ka Osumi, centerfielder Sus Iwasaki and right fielder Nobuyoshi Ishino. Some Manzanites were also represented on the Chicago aggregation. Playing second for the Cubs was Shorty Hashimoto and what's this--waterboy or girl rather for the Cubs, Rosie Honda,---Virgie Kikuda was water girl for the Dodgers still "burping". Calling the balls and strikes from behind the plate was Toshimichi Tomita with Henry Nakano on first base and Sus Ioki on third. Tosh Tomita seemed busy dodging tomatoes and coke bottles being thrown at him by the agitators Yoshio Shishido and Harry Yamashina. The game finally ended in a brawl with managers Roy Muto of the Cubs and Yoshio Otsuka of the Dodgers arguing. Leaving the game, I decided to go "nightclubbing," so off I went to the Stork Club and there I saw Kaz Shimoda, freshly out of Seabrook Farm spending his fifteen year's earning which amounted to exactly $23.95, on a pie a la mode. Also met Tsutomu Toma and Sumi Nomoto, making eyes at each other. I observed at the bar, Stork's nightly customer Mr. Lawrence Honda ordering a "high-ball" from bartender Rosie Tamai. The main event of the evening was the presentation in New York of the pride of the West Coast, the famous Earl Carroll's girls, touring the Empire State. I got myself a table of fairly good vantage point but there were many hungry-looking wolves who beat me to the better tables. To name off some of these: "Blackie" Hideo Sugimoto, "Lulu" Leo Uchida and Thomas Amano. The chorus girls came out in pairs led by "Queenie" Haru Ogawa, and Tamaru Shijo. These were followed in this order: Chimiyo Shioji and Kayoko Sato, Judy Nakao and Masumi Ono, Ruth Yoshida and Junko Yoshimoto, Utako Toji and Shirley Tani, and Chiyo Mano and Yoshiko Yada. A Western Union boy came paging me so I called him over and found him to be Masamichi Kataoka. I asked him about his farm in Sunland but he merely mumbled something about not making enough money and left. Opening the telegram, I found it was a message from a friend in California, urging me to come out to the "Golden State." Without further ado, I went home and chartered a plane for California.

At the airport I met hostesses Lily Ashizawa and Yoshimi Ido of the United Air Ways. My traveling mate was business executive Michael Suzuki and his glamorous secretary Hedy Lamarr who spent most of her time on his lap. He was cooperating too, by golly.

We stopped off at York, Pennsylvania, where we visited the York Barbell Foundries. At the gym, I saw Haruki Murakami attempting a press of a press of 400 lbs. Also hanging around were Ichio Shishido, Arata Ota and Farmer Hoshiyama, all as muscular as ever.

Our next stop was Cincinnati, Ohio where I stopped off long enough to have my headache in my stomach checked over by Dr. Kazuko Yoshimura. In Chicago, I saw Ray Kawahara trying to organize a professional basket ball team without success, the reason of the failure being only two persons signing up. They were Hiroshi Fujii and Joe Fukushima. I went into a pawn shop to get some "spot cash" and there I met proprietor Akira Toda. Got two "bits" on my fifty dollar watch which was a pretty good deal considering with whom I was dealing, noticed Mary Honda also working behind the counter as his secretary. Wonder if she gets paid. Time to leave Chicago---Destination Denver---noticed Mike Suzuki still with the secretary on his lap.

Arrived safely in Denver but no time to visit the city. Some passengers boarded out plane and after a good look I found them to be professional accountant Satoye Okuji, registered nurses Tayo Shimizu and Teruko Sugihara and language instructor Kazuo Shibuya, still slinging the booch, all headed for civil service positions on the West Coast. Talking to one of these girls, we found out a thing or two about Denver. For one thing we came into the knowledge that Tak Maeda went in the photo business as house wife, also that Chieko Tanaka, her sidekick is running a suki-yaki house on Larimer Street. We also found that Himeko Nakashima and Fumi Suzuki were doing some research work on the fine points of English as illustrated many years ago by Mrs. S. Oltmans--ah, such pleasant memories. Our next stop happened to be Salt Lake City. Noticed the Mizumoto twins sunning themselves by the lake. Also tanning their backs were Martha Ban, Nagisa Kawaguchi, Yuri Sanada, Fumi Miki, and Ruby Nakamura. Trying to attract the handsome lifeguards attention were Sato-mi Kuramoto and Ellen Oshio. They also drowned too--Ah, hunger again, went over to the food concession and there I saw Ikuyo Nanchi and Naoko Kono selling hot dogs. Our plane took off finally for Los Angeles. Landing at Burbank Field we hopped a taxi to the Evergreen Hostel, now in its eighteenth year of service. After recuperating for a day, I met film actress, Yuri Yamazaki, who took us on a tour of Hollywood. Visiting the M.G.M. lot, I noticed Ryo Yano in a bathing suit preparing for a shooting of their version of "Bahama Passage." The script girl turned out to be none other than Setsue Ozawa. The official prompter, kibitzing from the side was Shizuko Sakihara. The make-up artist, Velma Sato, was seen slinging cold-cream and lipsticks. At the Warner's lot, we came across "Green Eyes" Midori Yokoyama, and the songbird Kay Shinden rehearsing their numbers. At the special vocal training department, Fred Yamada, Sumiko Masuda, and Marina Maeda were seen taking lessons from instructor Sumako Tanaka. From here to the famous Disney Studios, where artists Nobuhiro Tani, Ken Yamamoto, and Florence Kimura were setting up their background work for the coming Walt Disney movie "Gumbo." We then visited the private office of C.B. Frizzell, now head of the Paramount Studios, and there I saw Marian Uyematsu and Grace Hochi interviewing for a job. Off to the beach to see the bathing beauties. Upon arriving at the beach I was attracted by a large crowd gathering around what seemed to be acrobats. Teddy Hayashi, the pea of the pyramid, was being supported by muscel men Seizo Tanibata, Mits Natsume, and Tak Shinto.

Riding the waves were Skinny Kawauchi, Ray Chomori and Yuzo Matsutsuyu. I, inspired by the man bathers, borrowed an old out of style 1945 bathing suit from Hiroshi Yamashita, who was running a talking suit rent shop and headed for the water. On my way I stepped on Tosh Watanabe who was half buried in the sand. Although I expected to be murdered, I was greeted by a big smile. When I dived into a wave I ended up in the middle of what I thought was a group of mermaids. They turned out to be Gumi Takeuchi, Aiko Miyake and Tosh Kubota. After receiving some embarrassing slaps in the face, I decided to go up to the pier. On the pier I found Joe Ozaki and Kazuyoshi Nagashima having a fishing contest. Joe was ahead with a one and one quarter pound tom-cod.

And so here I am back in Los Angeles, California, right back where I started from many years ago. Sure is a small world: it seems as if I met every person of the S'45 class in traveling from New York to Los Angeles--A stark tragedy is what I say meeting over a hundred and twenty-six queer people in less than a week.

With "Beyond the Horizon" as their theme, thirty-nine seniors held their commencement exercises on January 19, in their auditorium. This marked the fourth graduation to be held at Topaz.

A lengthy discussion setting forth the pros and cons of having an Annual this semester was sent to Terrie Otsubo, chairman of the Annual Committee, and read in each home room.

According to it, Mr. Peasley as well as all the faculty members consulted Mr. Thompson and Mr. Martin believe that it is not to the best interests of the students and school to try to have an annual so late in the semester.

From this issue of March 23, 1945, on the new revised staff will attempt to put out a four page paper every week.

You do not need my best wishes, but you do need to give careful and continued thought now to making your transfer to another school during the summer months. I sincerely hope that each of you shall have the good fortune of an increasingly better educational opportunity as the years roll by, and that you may look back with satisfaction that Manzanar Hi, after all, stacks up with the best of them.

There were many similar private feuds all along the banks of the brook and in the creek itself. On the spot with the camera to cover the results of these clashes, were photographers George Shiba and Archie Miyatake.

Some spent the afternoon quietly under the tress, while still others played volleyball. A group was seen walking back to the picnic grounds with their "catches."

"SOPHOMORONS"

The up and coming Sophomores, with Nori Marumoto as president, passed a year of many successful activities. The first activity on their list was a stag-ette and stag dance which was held on November 25. On December 22, a couples' dance was held with "Holiday Inn" as the theme. A talent show was presented next for the enjoyment of everyone in school.

As a last event the class played a hard-fought game of football with the Juniors.

The second Semester, which was headed by Alice Sakuma, began with much talk of a Sophomore dinner-dance. In order to raise money for this event several activities were held. The first was a hot-dog sale, and the other, a successful raffle-dance. A very exciting picnic-hike, which was fun for many, was sponsored by one of the homerooms.

The highlight and concluding event of the year was the dinner-dance, "Beyond the Blue Horizon." At this dance Betty Yamada was revealed as "Miss Ideal", with Seiko Kato, Masako Kusaba, Taya Iwasaki, and Michiko Yoshimoto as her attendants.

EIGHTH GRADE

The active eighth grade class started the first semester right with the election of their class officers. Under the capable hands of their president, Tom Izuhara, and advisor, Miss Williamson, they had their first big event, a Christmas dance, held on December 15, 1944. The second activity on their calendar for the same semester was a Pre-Valentine Dance, on February 3, 1945.

With their new president, Isamu Yamashita, they had a successful semester with Miss Williamson re-elected as advisor. Other activities were the Spring

PROSPECTORS

The mighty Junior Class started their calendar with a "bang," their first activity being the Junior Debut which was held at Mess Hall 16 on December 2, 1945. It was an evening of fun, dancing, and of course, refreshments. As the football season neared, we saw touchdown in the game with Big Pine, the score 33 to 0. Oh, yes! the Seniors played too.

Noticing that their treasury was rather empty, the Juniors decided to have a Punch Sale at the next football game, which was between the Seniors and Juniors. The Seniors sold tamales but our punch went like "hot dogs," mainly because the hot tamales being so hot, the students needed something to cool them off as well as soothe their throats after yelling so much. The Juniors were mighty, but the Seniors won, the score being 33-0. The game was followed by a dance, the Victory Ball, held at the auditorium. In the course of the ball, the Queen, Kei, a Junior, and her attendants, Ryoko Yano, a Senior, and Alice Sakuma, a Sophomore, were presented.

Following these activities was a Jam Session on February 23, at 7-15, and a Tamale Sale on March 2 by one of the homerooms, to raise money for the prom.

Though the Junior boys lost from the Seniors in the football game, the Junior girls won over the Seniors by one point in a baseball game held on April 27.

Closing the calendar of the Prospectors was the Prom, the most important event of the high school year. After much hard work and preparation, the Prom was held at the auditorium on May 12. Approximately 250 people attended. It was a great success with Hawaiian music filling the air and their theme Aloha.

Frolic and several jam sessions during the semester.

KALLUM

by KATA

Since it's almost the end of the semester, shall we get nosey and see who's cooking on the campus?

I don't know whether this is a style or not, but K. Oshio has a way of saying "no." His way goes like this, "O -NO!". Pretty cool, huh?

Jimmy Shikami seems to be interested in a certain topic, entitled "N.I.". Now what could those initials stand for, Jimmy?

There's something mighty good cooking between Sadako T. and Seiji S. What---- could it be?

Have you noticed Martha Ban get all tongue-tied between the words "tab" and "TAD"?

I wonder why Sumi A. likes her home-room and Social Living classes. Could it be that one and only N.Y.? Could be.

Harutoshi, which girl is it that interests you in the 9th grade? Is it by any chance H.N.?

Have you noticed the two Tro-Babes, Tommy H. and Togo M., lately? They always seem to be in a daze! I wonder what they're day-dreaming about.

Mas Yuge's always saying "Shimota." What does that mean, Mas?

"SCRUBS"

In spite of their inexperience in high school student activities, the Seventh Graders immediately proceeded to organize and plan under the wise counsel of Mrs. Dykes. It seemed as though the male "Scrubs" were a bit shy in starting out in their new school. This was shown in the election of the first semester officers--the cabinet consisted of all girls! Hisaye Kubota was an excellent president regardless of the absence of masculine

"FROSH"

The Ninth Graders began the year under the capable leadership of Mrs. Abel. Immediately after the opening of school, class officers and student council representatives were elected and plans for the semester were considered. The home rooms also functioned smoothly under the competent leadership of the elected officers. The class as a whole, although inactive for a short time, came to life in the happy season of Christmas and for their first main event, a Christmas party was held. Various committees working under the president, Yoshikazu Sakuma, made the party a success.

The second semester also started out with the election of new officers. This time the cabinet proposed many plans, promising the class a more eventful semester. During the month of March, the class put on a sale, the profit of which was given to the Annual. Sports were not left out as shown by the enthusiastic athletes, who participated in inter-class baseball and volleyball. At the close of the year the mighty Ninth Graders held their unforgettable Freshman Prom, which was their concluding event.

strength. In addition to the class officers, student council representatives and home room officers were elected. In December during the Christmas season the Seventh Graders had a very happy and successful party, thanks to the hard work of their committees.

The second semester began with the election of new class officers; this time a few boys were elected. With the new president, Jimmy Shikami, new activities were planned. For their last concluding event held in May, the class had a "wienie" bake. The class as a whole showed excellent cooperation and good spirit.

SENIORS DEFEATED

After many postponements the Senior-Junior baseball game finally started with a bang. Naturally, the mighty Seniors got their "ups" first, but were soon found out in the field by a one-two-three out.

After allowing the Juniors eight righteous runs in a shaky first inning, "Posture" Yamazaki settled down to work and allowed the Junior girls but a few scattered hits, while the Senior hitters, led by Rose Tamai, banged out some hits and runs.

Then came seventh inning with a tie score--ten to ten. With everyone on his toes, the score remained tie until the ninth inning when, with the bases loaded, Kumi Kato slugged a homer over the right fielder's head to put the game away for the Juniors.

Steadiness and efficiency was displayed by both the Seniors and the Juniors.

HALL OF FAME

It is an honor to present to the students of Manzanar High School the Hall of Fame. As you may already know, the Hall of Fame is something that we should consider. These persons whose names appear under this title must be good players, must possess good sportsmanship, must possess personality, and must have done something outstanding in the field of sports. In this last edition, we want to mention Mas Kusaba in baseball and Akira Hiramani in basketball. These boys have convinced us that they are the ones, to have their names under this great title. Let us review their history.

Hailing from San Pedro, California, Mas Kusaba played baseball in this camp for the mighty 7-11 and the championship team, "Sears." He participated in baseball, basketball, and football. He was the captain for the mighty Senior Class football team and thrilled the fans with his smooth running. Although he is good in every field of sports, he has concentrated mostly on baseball. The baseball fans have sometimes called him "Speedy" or "Hawk" because he is so fast on stealing bases and covers his territory without any mistakes. Yes, we are proud to present to you the man with lots of personality and sportsmanship, Mas Kusaba, for the first one in our Hall of Fame.

The second person is Akira Hiramani, who hails from that beautiful section called North Hollywood. "Ack" played for the strong Dusty Nine and also played basketball, baseball, football and volleyball. Akira showed everyone that he, too, was an all-round man in sports. His favorite sport is basketball and he really sparkles in that field. He was the key man for the Dusty Nine and the Senior Class

CUTE!

Mr. Smith, he had a hat.
On a chair he placed his hat,
Not knowing where his hat was at,
On the chair he sat to chat.
Standing up he saw it, flat,
Thinking to himself saying,
"Gee, I'm fat."
(We didn't really mean fat, but we needed something to rhyme with hat.)

basketball team. Akira was the man who brought his team practically all the victories. Although he is quiet, he has an unlimited number of friends.

CAMPUS NOSHAME

SONG OF THE WEEK

Block 7 Latrine
(Tune - Stage Door Cnateen)

I left my soap at block 7 latrine.
I go there often you know what I mean.
I go there wearing my geta to take me
a shower.

I can go sooner or later. It's always rush hour.

I left my soap at block 7 latrine.
I go there morning, noon and night and twice in between.

Cooperatives are really great.
And like it or not I cooperate.
There's no place but block 7 latrine.
