The Industrial Relations ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

THE Industrial Relations Alumni Association is made up of men and women who share an interest in industrial relations and a common educational experience through taking University of California Extension courses in personnel management and labor relations. Although an independent organization, the Association has retained a close relationship with the Institute of Industrial Relations at UCLA.

The Alumni Association was organized in 1947 with the objective of providing opportunities for its members to:

- Continue their study and keep abreast of the latest research and information in industrial relations.
- Exchange experience and information through discussion of mutual problems.
- Maintain an association with the faculty of the University of California and the staff of the Institute of Industrial Relations.
- Meet and participate in discussion with nationally prominent industrial relations leaders who visit Southern California.

The Industrial Relations ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

- Broaden their contacts with other local industrial relations personnel and develop employment opportunities.
- Promote the professional character of industrial relations activity.

Since its inception, the Association has taken an active part in developing programs for the students and graduates of the Industrial Relations Certificate Program.

It holds monthly meetings at which topics of current interest are discussed, usually under the leadership of prominent scholars or practitioners in industrial relations.

The Alumni Association also joins with the Institute of Industrial Relations in sponsoring a number of activities. These include: publication of the IR Newsletter distributed widely to students and graduates of the Certificate Program and to industrial relations leaders in the community; organizing semi-annual dinners at which Certificates are awarded to new graduates of the Program, and other activities.

HOW YOU CAN JOIN THE ASSOCIATION

If you are a student in or a graduate of the Certificate Program in Industrial Relations, you are cordially invited to join the Alumni Association as soon as you become eligible for membership. (See requirements for Regular and Associate Membership on next page.) The Association hopes that you will not regard your work toward the Certificate as an end in itself, but rather as the beginning of a learning experience in a fast-moving field. The Association will assist you in keeping up to date with new developments and in maintaining and expanding the valuable contacts and friendships which you have made during the course of your educational work. An application to join the Association may be obtained by writing or calling the Institute of Industrial Relations, University of California, Los Angeles 24 (272-8911, Ext. 2425)
