May, 1990

Dear Publisher:

Our midyear catalog mailing is enclosed with this letter. Please help us keep things under control by sending new title information as soon as possible.

We've been growing tremendously the past year or so; we now carry over 15,000 titles from more than 1200 publishers, and we do business with more than 3500 bookstores and other retailers. We'd like to discuss several areas of mutual concern that have arisen as we have grown. We hope you will take a few moments to read through this letter; if you have any questions, feel free to call or write.

FAX

If you have a fax, please send or fax us your number. Faxes are extremely useful in this business and we urge you to consider purchasing one, if you have not already. Our fax number is printed above.

SHIPPING/RECEIVING

Many of the shipments we receive suffer from one or more deficiencies that make receiving them more difficult and, therefore, more costly for us. Please review the instructions below and follow them in all shipments to us.

1. Send one packing list with each shipment; clearly mark the box that contains or has the packing list attached. Always reference our original purchase order number(s). Please advise status of titles not shipped (i.e. out of stock, out of print, etc.).
2. Number all boxes in shipment as follows: 1 of 7, 2 of 7, etc. This is especially important for shipments sent via UPS or Book Post.
3. Never pack with newspaper.
4. When you ship multiple titles, mark each box with what is inside; this is absolutely crucial if you have more than one title in a box!
5. Do not ship freight collect! We will charge you back all costs plus a charge for advancing funds.

PURCHASE ORDERS

1. Do not ship anything to us we have not ordered!
2. Always backorder unless we have made specific arrangements with you to cancel and reorder.
3. Advise us at once when there are changes in a title, publication date, price, or when a title we have ordered is cancelled, postponed, or being reprinted. As far as we and our customers are concerned, timely receipt of such information is crucial.
4. Do let us know in advance about any events, reviews, etc. that will affect our ordering patterns.
5. If you cannot fill a purchase order, or any item on it, for whatever reason, please notify us in writing; give complete information as to reason and new date expected to ship. We will advise you if we cancel a purchase order; otherwise, it will remain open in our system until filled.

RETURNS/DAMAGED BOOKS/RECYCLING

We've been hearing some legitimate complaints from bookstores that our returns policies are too strict for them to be able to take chances on carrying small press books in their stores. We are very anxious not to lose our good relationship with booksellers, so we have begun loosening up our returns requirements. The net result to any publisher will be very small, but you may receive back from us a few books now and then that are clearly shopworn. We hope you will join us in considering this a reasonable cost of getting books into the stores. If you have a problem with our returns to you, please call Nancy Brown at once.

A number of publishers have authorized us to dispose of books we receive damaged rather than bearing the expense of having us ship them back. Since we are now able to recycle unsaleable books, we urge you to agree; it saves a great deal of time, boxes and other shipping materials and postage. If you are willing to give us a blanket authorization to recycle your books, please let Nancy know; recycled books will appear as withdrawals on your sales reports.

SHIPTO/BILLTO

Once again, we have outgrown our current building. We are planning to move this summer, hopefully no later than August. We will let you know as soon as everything is firm. Meanwhile, please update your record of our mailing address - our P.O. box number was changed by the local post office.

Dear Folks: We have been hearing about you from bookstores and would be interested in discussing the possibilities of distributing your books. We don't know more than that you have produced a book and are offering it to bookstores, so whatever information you can supply us with would be appreciated. Inland is a small press/small publisher distributor, much like Bookpeople in Berkeley, though newer and smaller and limited to small pubs only (no mass market, no "commercial trade houses" like Pando Fouse etc), and perhaps a bit more alternative than B! has become. We are strongest as a distributor of feminist, lesbian and gay publishers, but we are also one of the largest distributors of literary small presses, and we carry spiritual and political books as well; in general a thorough selection of the best small presses and publishers from the US, Canada and England. We work on consignment, issuing monthly sales reports that are payable 90 days from their dates, we need a minimum discount of 52% and prefer 55% (we give free ad space in our catalogs in return for the extra discount) and publisher pays freight to us. These terms are pretty standard at this point, ours being slightly more favorable to the publisher than most small press distributors. Anyway, we sell very well throughout the east, midwest and Canada and we think we would be able to do well by you. If you're interested, please let me know as soon as possible, as we have catalog deadlines approaching soon. Call or write if you have questions, etc. Many thanks

Dear Robert: Thanks again for calling; we're pleased to be carrying your press and hope that we will be able to help you out some in the selling of this and future books. Enclosed are the distribution agreement and information about advertising. We do not require that you advertise, but we strongly recommend it as a useful way of letting stores know about your books. We send the catalogs to anywhere from 1200-2500 stores. A supplement is also enclosed. We do a much larger complete catalog twice a year. All books you publish will be listed in our complete catalogs, and as appropriate in supplements, depending on subject.

Hopefully we'll need to reorder your book soon. Keep us informed about reviews and publicity, particularly here on the East Coast.

Sorry about the typing job on the agreement, this machine evidently needs cleaning and my typing skills aren't that great to begin with.

Best wishes for the holiday season.

*Yours
David Wilk*

CATALOG INFORMATION AND ADVERTISING POLICIES 1985

SPACE

Publishers whose discount to us is 55% receive free ad space as follows during 1985.

One  $\frac{1}{2}$ -page ad in each complete catalog or one full page ad in either complete catalog.

One  $\frac{1}{2}$ -page ad or two  $\frac{1}{4}$ -page ads in supplements if books are appropriate (i.e., new titles are published or we publish a subject supplement into which your book fits).

Additional space can be purchased at low rates. See our schedule and rate sheet. Ads may be upgraded for the cost of the difference between free space due and space wanted.

We encourage publishers whose discount to us is 52% to purchase ad space. Our rates appear on the 1985 catalog schedule. Make your reservations now!

AD POLICIES

As you know we've grown alot. We're now carrying over 500 publishers; our staff is still small and time is always precious, so we'll appreciate your help as we put together our catalogs and supplements. Accordingly, we ask you to please note the following:

1. Unused space from previous years will not be carried forward.
2. We make ad space available to you, but you must meet our deadlines.
3. We need to know your advertising (and publishing) plans in advance. We will not always automatically run ads you may expect us to run, (but we may re-run older ads if we do not hear from you) so please let us know what you want us to do. We need to hear from you at least once, if not more often during the year. Otherwise, we cannot guarantee that your free space will be available!
4. Do not send ads for "old" books for New Titles Supplements.
5. Do include your publisher name in ads you send us, but do not include your address.
6. Ads will not be returned. If you need your mechanical, send us a PMT or stat.
7. Do not advertise books we have not ordered from you (or cloth editions we don't stock). If it happens that your ad is our first notice of a title, let us know that fact when you send the ad.
8. Send new ads from time to time. If we feel your ad has become "stale" we will no longer run it. It may also be a good idea to send us a few "stock" ads that we can run as space is available, or when you may not be able to meet our deadlines.
9. We reserve the right to not run any ad that does not meet our requirements or policies.

SPECIFICATIONS

All ads should be camera-ready. See our schedule sheet for dimensions.

Please note the following:

1. Send clean, well-produced ads. Do not send photocopies.
2. Send negatives only if you include a positive print for paste-up purposes.
3. Box your ad to set it off. We must charge you if we box it for you.
4. Please send ads to our dimensions whenever possible. We always list width first, depth second. If we cannot reduce or enlarge an ad to fit our space reasonably well, we will not run it, or we will charge you the cost of the graphic work we must perform.
5. We have to paste-up alot of ads - time is always short, so please use light or medium weight board for paste-up.
6. Re-screening, half-tones we must make, additional line shots, typesetting or any other work needed to run your ads will be charged back to you at prevailing rates.
7. We can make ads for you, if you send copy or book information; we charge $35 per hour plus any material and typesetting costs needed. We need advance notice if you want us to create an ad or make major changes on an existing ad.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Deadline dates are for receipt of ads and new title information. Space reservations must be made two weeks in advance of deadline in order to be guaranteed. Titles not ordered by us cannot be listed in the catalog, so please get new title information to us as early as possible.

Call us at 203/467-4257 whenever you have advertising or catalog matters to discuss. Please do not use the WATS line; we keep it open for orders so we can sell your books. Maureen Owen is in charge of catalog production and space reservations and will be happy to work with you.

Make use of our catalogs as often as you can. Ads sell books!

New and Recommended Titles

Since this is our last catalog until January, effectively, it is our Holiday Season Announcement Catalog, but the terrible truth is that it's only September and we don't want to think about December at all, no matter how nice the holidays are, no matter how important the holiday season is to the book business. We like Summers and everything about them, except perhaps the humidity that plagues us here in the stuffy Northeast. And we like Falls too, for all the obvious reasons, as most people do. The disjunction of doing a calendar catalog in July was certainly strange, and now this!

So, in preparation for our busiest time of year, we have filled our warehouse to the walls with new books and many, many calendars (we suggest that any of you who may not have received our previously issued calendar catalog please let us know at once, as only recently added calendars are included here, and we have many more we want you to know about). We would like to remind you that our warehouse is always open for you to come in and pick your own order. We know that many of the publishers we carry are not that well known, lacking sufficient resources to afford to have their books shown to you regularly, if at all, and we are certain that once you see some of our lesser known, but highly salable titles you will find them of interest. We think your customers will appreciate your taste, judgment and skill as a buyer when they find these unusual but wonderful items in your store. So please come and see us; notice is not required, but we're always happy to know you're coming so we can make a point of sweeping up, and besides you may need directions to wend your way most efficiently across the Connecticut landscape.

We keep saying it, and we know it's obvious: we're still growing pretty fast. We now carry some 5000 books and calendars (as well as a selection of literary tape cassettes, a fine array of magazines and even the odd record) from well over 500 of the world's finest small presses and publishers. We're proud of what we carry, and we're very grateful to our customers for supporting us, as more and more bookstores have done, by buying so often, so much, and so well. We hope to continue to offer extraordinary service along with our growing stock; not only can we ship you books as fast as anyone (and, thanks so often to UPS, have them reach you quickly), but we try to give you useful information about our books, in our catalogs and over the telephone. We don't always know the answers instantaneously, and we may sometimes be harried and frazzled, but we will always try to get you the information you need as quickly as we can. We believe that accurate and up-to-date stock information is often as useful to you as having the book itself, so we will continue to do our best.

We have a lot more customers now too, but we still intend to know you and your stores as well as possible. We are happy to let you know about new titles in any subject or from a particular publisher. We are able to offer just about every backorder option you can think of, and unless you tell us differently, we will never bombard you with a myriad of one book shipments; we always wait to make a shipment that will not kill your profit with postage charges. Let us know when you call what your preferences are.

In preparation for the busy times ahead, we do ask that when you call us you have your order ready. We usually only need quantity and title. We can almost always give you a pretty accurate idea of our stock status on any title you might ask about. We still guarantee that UPS orders called in before noon will go out the same day, but as the holidays approach, we do suggest that earlier ordering is better. We'll generally be open a bit earlier and later in the month or so before Christmas, though we will not have formal extended hours, and we will not be open on Saturdays. We will have an Open House on a Sunday in November to be announced. We will be open and will ship on Friday, December 21, but we will be closed December 24.

You may be talking to new employees when you call us, and we hope you'll enjoy meeting them over the phone. We want to thank all of our customers for their continued support and to wish you all the best for the months to come.

What follows is a very small selection of titles we felt warranted our recommendation. These are by no means all we would like to have offered; if only we had time to write about all of them! We also hope you will look closely at our Gift Book Checklist; there are many extraordinary books listed that will not be found on your competitor's shelves. Offering the different and unusual does have its own rewards!

THE ABSENCE OF THE DEAD... IS THEIR WAY OF APPEARING, Mary Winfrey Trautmann, Cleis Press, $8.95, 0-939416-04-2. This is a very difficult and painful book to read as well as to review, but it is well worth the effort. It is the story of a mother's participation in her daughter's struggle with leukemia. As May Sarton says, "Because it is a work of art, it forces us to connect with our own depths and to recognize in a quite extraordinary way how we are all held in the mysteries of nature itself, and its powers of renewal that may indeed transcend death..."

THE BOOK OF ORACLES, Kardec, Minisa Publishers, $14.95, 0-914833-00-6. We just can't help liking this little book a lot. It is clothbound, letterpress, comes in shrink wrap with a little round metal tin for the two oracular Tibetan dice that are included. The oracles in this book include Fate, Ambition, Power and many, many others. Another natural gift idea.

CALYX: A Journal of Art and Literature by Women, Vol. 8, #2, Spring 1984, $4.50. This issue is titled "Bearing Witness/Sobreviviendo, an Anthology of Writing and Art by Native American/Latina Women." This issue of Calyx is based on the voices of Latina and Native women's power to give witness to their survival. It crosses the borders of language and culture and speaks to us all. The words and images herein are not to be missed.

DAY OF THE MUSKIE, Patricia Welch, Faber and Faber, $11.95 cloth, 0-571125-25-5. A beautifully designed book, stunningly illustrated with full page paintings by the author. The typeface is handsome, the story is wonderful, and the moral therein is refreshingly timeless.

FOLKTALES OF STRONG WOMEN, Doug Lipman, Yellow Moon Press, $9.95 (cassette tape). In contrast to so many folktales in which women are presented as evil, weak, passive or simply not there at all, this selection of five tales presents images of women who take command of their own lives. We should note that Yellow Moon's cassette package is about the size of a trade paper book, which makes it suitable for any bookstore.

INTERNATIONAL FEMINISM: NETWORKING AGAINST SEXUAL SLAVERY, Report of the Global Feminist Workshop to Organize Against Traffic in Women, edited by Kathleen Barry, Charlotte Bunch, Shirley Castley, International Women's Tribune Center, $6.00 (no ISBN). The testimony contained within this book is frightening and eye-opening. It serves as a means of calling attention to the sexual oppression and violence against women in all parts of the world, and helps to focus political action and attention to these issues in a useful and meaningful way.

JAPAN COLOR, Ikko Tanaka and Kazuko Koike, Chronicle Books, $14.95, 0-87701-305-5. More than one hundred color photographs of Japanese textiles, architecture, furniture, art, and pottery grouped by color to demonstrate its cultural significance. Photographs and accompanying essays explore the relationship between color and feeling in all aspects of Japanese design. Unbelievably gorgeous!

JAPAN COLOR

LET'S TALK ABOUT... S-E-X: A Read and Discuss Guide for People 9 to 12 and Their Parents, Sam Gitchel and Lorri Fisher, Planned Parenthood of Fresno, $4.95, 0-9610122-0-X. Many books give "the facts" about sex and puberty. But facts are often not enough. Here's a book to help parents and children really talk. "A first-rate approach to fostering communication between parents and their pre-teen children... an ideal starting point for the average parent who wants to communicate about sexuality."—Sol Gordon, Ph.D., Dir., Institute for Family Research and Education; author of THE TEENAGE SURVIVAL BOOK.

LETTER IN A KLEIN BOTTLE, photographs by John Menapace, Jargon Society (#97), $25.00, Clothbound, 0-912330-56-2. Duotone production of an extraordinarily high quality matches the quality of Menapace's photographs; we strongly believe that this photographer is one of the finest working in America today and deserves far wider recognition for his achievements. The geometrical, composed quality of the photographs provide a new way of looking at the landscapes and cityscapes on which Menapace focuses his attention. The subtlety is extraordinary, working outward from the frame of the camera's lens. We think you and your customers will be astonished by the images in this wonderful book.

"A LOT OF HUMAN BEINGS HAVE BEEN BORN BUMS" Twenty Years of the Words of Senator No, Senator Jesse Helms, selected and edited by Grace Nordhoff, North Carolina Independent, $3.95, 0-916975-00-2. The election is very near as we write this, and the prospect of this gentlemen becoming re-elected to the Senate (with the likelihood that he will become Chairman of the Foreign Policy Committee) is more than a little sobering. We do not mean to politic here, but then you ought to take a look at this little book. Good for a few chuckles, and then a whole lot of quaking in your boots. A strong countertop item.

LOVE'S SWEET RETURN: *The Harlequin Story, Margaret Ann Jensen, The Women's Press (Canada), $9.95, 0-88961-086-X. Over 120 formula romance novels are churned out every month. It's big business and Margaret Jensen examines this phenomenon of romance fiction by focusing specifically on the very successful Canadian-based Harlequin Enterprises. This book offers startling new insights into a major component of popular culture today.

THE LUCKY PIECE, Francelia Butler, Van Vactor & Goodheart, $14.95 cloth, 0-941324-06-0. Through the eyes of Susan, a five-year old, the author brings to life the social world of a small midwestern town, including its spiteful, petty intrigue. Susan proves to be a survivor in this gripping story of a family's double life. "What takes one in, deceptively, as a lovely easy-reading tale, proves to illuminate the psychological shadows of the heart."—James Hillman

NEGRO: AN ANTHOLOGY, collected and edited by Nancy Cunard, Ungar, $19.95, 0-8044-6095-7. An absolutely extraordinary and thoroughly wonderful book, this is a facsimile of an anthology published in 1934. It includes an incredible array of writers of that era, all addressing various aspects of black culture: among them, Langston Hughes, Zora Neale Hurston, Ezra Pound, Samuel Beckett, Sterling Brown, Josephine Herbst, Michael Gold, W. E. B. DuBois, William Carlos Williams and Jomo Kenyatta are only the best known. This is a major collection, huge in format as well as in impact, and it is an important part of Modernist history, illuminating, acute. A very valuable job of publishing on the part of Ungar, just a great book at a great price!

NEW ORLEANS MY DARLING: A Selective Budget Guide for the Young & Intrepid, Barbara and Sandra Heller, Lost Roads Publishers, $4.95, 0-918786-29-0. We are aware that the expected rush to New Orleans for its World Fair has not exactly been overwhelming, and we're sure that there are plenty of other books beckoning the prospective traveller to this exotic city, but we'd like to recommend this book anyway. It's style is attractively funky, which is what is missing from most of the other books about New Orleans, and there are plenty of folks out there who will appreciate an honest approach to the city that helps them get around and see a lot of places without spending a modest inheritance.

THE ODYSSEY OF A FILM-MAKER; *Robert Flaherty's Story, Frances Hubbard Flaherty, Threshold Books, $8.00, 0-9399660-14-8. Flaherty was an amazing film-maker; he is most famous for "Nanook of the North." "It is simple, as a Zen koan is simple, yet it explores not only the history of cinema, but aesthetics and the philosophy of art as well." (from the preface)

POEMS, Roque Dalton, translated by Richard Schaaf, Curbstone Press, $7.50, 0-915306-43-3. "Finally, there is an edition of Roque Dalton's writing in English—in American—that lets us understand the importance of this great poet. POEMS is a major contribution to our understanding of Latin and Central American literature, and to the continental struggle for freedom. These poems are alive and urgent: they are necessary reading."—June Jordan

SHOWDOWN AND OTHER STORIES, Michael Brondoli, North Point Press, $12.50, 0-86547-152-5. We think this is one of the finest story collections to come our way in quite some time. We are biased by having spent some time in the North Carolina these stories are written from, but background in that place is not necessary for the enjoyment of these wonderful stories. Keeping the characters straight can be a bit of a problem, but the language is beautifully set down, and these are true stories, warm and wise.

THE SUPERNATURAL DESSERT COOKBOOK: A Book of Unreal Desserts, Lois Fishkin and Susan DiMarco, Creative Arts Book Company, $6.95, 0-916870-61-8. How many times have you sampled a "natural" dessert only to find to your utter dismay that it didn't taste like chocolate or any other dessert you had ever experienced? Here finally is a collection of delectable recipes that redeems the reputation of natural desserts. Wholesome ingredients become other-worldly delights.

TAKE HANDS, Honor Moore, Susan Griffin, Margie Adams, and Janet Marlow, Watershed Tapes, $7.95. A mix of poetry and music against nuclear war. We are pleased, as we hope others will be, that the women's peace movement has brought together singers and poets once again, to create a very moving production. We hope this will be a popular and powerful piece of work. Professional production, well packaged. Proceeds to benefit the peace movement.

TAROT UNIVERSAL DALI, Dali, Jewel Art and Mint, $72.00, deck (boxed). Salvador Dali has transformed with his exceptional art and his marvelous talent the 78 golden plates of "The fabulous Book of Thot" into as many artistic marvels, each one of them duly signed by the hand of this unmatched, internationally famous painter, reproduced in this insuperable collection which constitutes THE UNIVERSAL TAROT OF SALVADOR DALI. Owning this collection means being the owner of a jewel of contemporary painting. A rare deck indeed.

THE UNPOSSESSED, Tess Slesinger, Feminist Press, $8.95, 0-935312-21-8. Originally published in 1934, this is simply a wonderful novel by a wonderful writer who definitely deserves, and who hopefully will gain, a much wider audience. Slesinger was great with characters. This story just pushes forward with tremendous energy. An excellent book to recommend to many different types of readers.

WE ARE THE WEB: The Women's Encampment for a Future of Peace and Justice, Romulus, New York 1983, photographs by Catherine Allport, The Artemis Project, $10.00 (no ISBN). A finely produced, moving collection of photographs and texts from and of the wimmin (and the local protestors against them) of the Seneca Peace Encampment. This book really does capture and convey a sense of what the Peace encampments mean. We think this is an important book that a lot of your customers will appreciate.

WILDERNESS MAN: The Strange Story of Grey Owl, Lovat Dickson, Macmillan of Canada, $7.95, 0-7715-9867-X. This is an odd story in many ways; Grey Owl was in fact an Englishman named Belaney who had gone to Canada to live as an Indian woodsman, which he did for many years. He married an Iroquois woman and wrote many books about his experiences using the persona of Grey Owl and never admitting his true background. The validity of his beliefs and experiences cannot be doubted, despite the fact that his entire life was a construction. This book is written by his English publisher and is very nicely done.

WOMEN OF THE WEST, Cathy Luchetti in collaboration with Carol Olwell, Antelope Island Press, $17.00 (paper edition), 0-917946-02-2. A stunning, exciting, massive book, full of stirring, powerful and wonderful photographs with an excellent text as well. It is the gift season after all, and while this is not a brand new book, and it is about another part of the country, it sure is attractive and will likely attract a lot of attention in your store.

Women of the West

YOURS IN STRUGGLE, Elly Bulkin, Minnie Bruce Pratt, Barbara Smith, Long Haul Press, $7.95, 0-9602284-3-8. Acknowledging differences of identity and background—Ashkenazi Jew, white Christian-raised Southerner, and Afro-American—Bulkin, Pratt and Smith have begun an important dialogue concerning the “complicated connections and disconnections between Black and Jewish women, racism and anti-Semitism.” This book is particularly timely given the recent issues brought forward in Democratic electoral politics, and gives a much more feminist, honest, probing and moving analysis of the problem than anything we’ve come across so far. This book expresses the essence of what the Rainbow Coalition might be.

The Sons of the Wind

Edited by D.M. Dooling
Introduction by Vivian One Feather

THE SONS OF THE WIND is the mythology of the Lakota Sioux, the epic account of how it all began: how the times and the directions were established by the sons of Tate, the Wind; the love story of Okaga, the South Wind, and Woepe, the daughter of the Great Spirit; and the appearance on earth of the Real People. It is the first presentation of these stories from the Walker manuscripts as a continuous narrative in a form accessible to all lovers of myth and poetry.

"An eloquent and accessible rendering of the mighty creation myth of the Lakota people, which ranks among the most stirring in earth literature."

—PETER MATTHIESSEN

"THE SONS OF THE WIND makes clear the marvelous range and subtlety of the Lakota imagination. D.M. Dooling's faithful version of the origin myth is splendid work. It unfolds like a novel."

Dorothy Maclean

Here is the book many people have been longing for — a short handbook of New Age spirituality.

From a Quaker, Sufi, Findhorn author it describes in well-ordered progression the transformation of the individual from a person centered in self to a life-oriented being.

It presents the sense of wonder as basic to spiritual growth. To help the reader cultivate this sense it offers techniques — including visualizations, checklist, attunement, awareness exercises, meditations.

Pregnancy as Healing

Holistic Philosophy for Prenatal Care

By LEWIS MEHL, M.D., Ph.D.
and GAYLE PETERSON, M.S.S.W.

$12.95 paper

photography and illustrations

Contents include:

- Defining holistic prenatal care
- Past and present medical beliefs: reductionism versus holism
- Addressing emotions during prenatal care
- Multi-modality visualization technique for labor and birth
- Cesarean prevention and vaginal birth after cesarean
- and more.

From Chapter One:

The biomedical rendering of prenatal services has fallen painfully short of the family's needs in making and bringing forth human life in our century. Consumers, struggling to expand medical horizons, have succeeded in broadening environmental alternatives in childbirth, without impacting basic philosophy of medical practice.

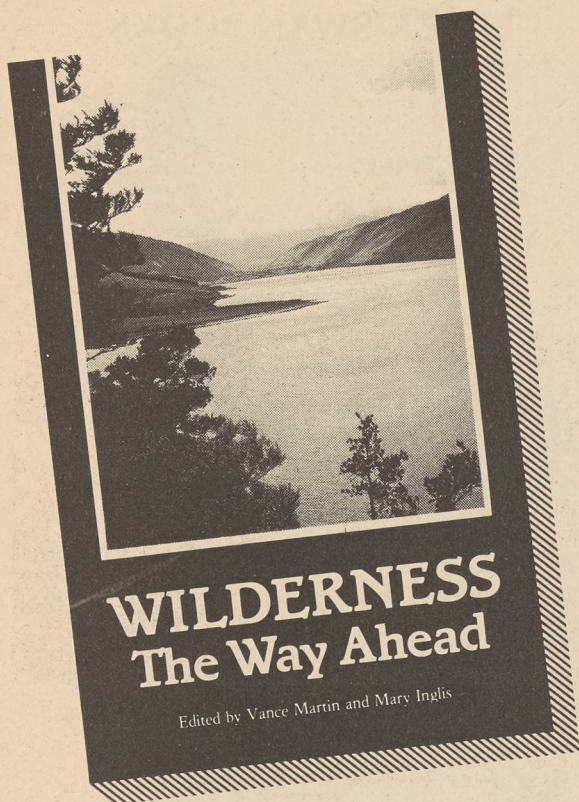

Pregnancy as Healing addresses the human task of making family, and the challenges inherent in bringing forth life today. The holistic model of prenatal care answers an overwhelming need to address quality of life in medical theory and application. This book sets forth a philosophy of medicine which unites the emotional and spiritual aspects of life with the intimately physical experience of human childbearing.

Pregnancy as Healing may serve as a useful manual to the medical practitioner interested in facilitating normal birthing and decreasing the need for medical technology. It is also of interest to anyone seeking rediscovery of pregnancy as process, instead of product.

Pregnancy as Healing takes the reader through the practical application of holistic philosophy. It is the first book to definitively describe the postulates of a holistic model, and expand theory into practice.

WILDERNESS • The Way Ahead

Why is wilderness such an important issue today?

What responsibilities do we have to our environment?

How can we balance the needs of individuals, society and the Earth itself in order to assure that wild places will remain a functioning and valuable part of our planet?

The 3rd World Wilderness Congress convened in Scotland in 1983 to discuss these and many more questions. This book presents the edited proceedings of this Congress in an informative and highly readable style. Contributors from around the world include Sir Laurens van der Post, Ian Player, José Lutzenberger, Felipe Benavides, Prof. C.A. Meier, Carolyn Tawangyawma, Dr. Morton Boyd, Dr. John Hendee and the Hon. Barry Cohen. Edited by Vance Martin and Mary Inglis. Copiously illustrated in color and black and white.

"The consequences of being a lesbian in this society are severe. The consequences of associating with or supporting lesbians are also severe. But turning on each other, denying and betraying, blaming and fighting is much more destructive to the Women's Movement than any amount of bad publicity or lack of funding. Working together to create a society where no woman is oppressed is our process and our goal."

Stepping Out of Line is a workshop manual and resource guide. It challenges readers to confront their feelings about lesbianism, both individually and collectively, and provides them with a method of doing so.

MURDER IN THE COLLECTIVE is a classic whodunit, with an engagingly ironic narrator, a fascinating cast of characters, and enough twists and turns in the plot to satisfy the most avid mystery fan. But coming from the pen of a noted feminist fiction writer (AMBITIOUS WOMEN, WALKING ON THE MOON), the novel also grapples with a number of political and social issues: international sisterhood, racism and alcoholism.

Engrossing as a mystery and moving as a story of a woman's awakening to the many connections, intimate and global, between women. Hard to put down!

— Barbara Ehrenreich

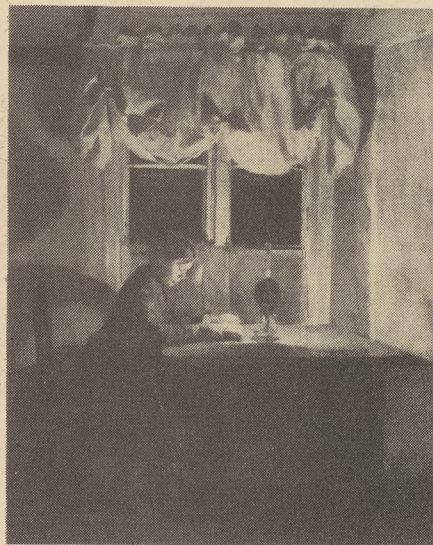

Murder in the Collective is a gripping story that reminds us in concrete and compelling terms of the real, everyday complexities of sex, race, and class. In the midst of this finely-tuned political exploration there is murder, mystery, and much discovery. Or should I say that in the midst of this exciting murder mystery there is finely-tuned political discovery. Both ways, it adds up to provocative and enjoyable reading.

Edited by Katherine Hanson

Norway's tradition of storytelling comes alive in this important anthology of women's fiction, most of which has never before appeared in English. From magical folktales and impassioned stories by the contemporaries of Eliot and Sand, to the work of today's exciting young writers, AN EVERYDAY STORY captures the essence of many generations of women — mother, daughter, grandmother, sister. An enchanting and provocative contribution to the growing body of international women's literature in translation.

Sara's daughter told us that on such evenings, when they had nothing to eat, their mother told them fairy tales and they forgot their hunger. . . . Oh, this daughter must often have gone hungry, for she knew a great many tales. . . .

Rainbow Roun Mah Shoulder

Linda Brown Bragg

This novel, the odyssey of a black woman healer, who lived in the first half of the 20th century, won the North Carolina Cultural Arts Coalition-Carolina Wren $500 prize for the best book written in North Carolina by a minority writer, during 1983.

"What you feel is both thorn and berry, as that is the nature of life," says a New Orleans priest on the first page. The heroine of Rainbow, Rebecca Florice, takes us with her through her life in a way that evokes subtly, yet both powerfully and bearably, all that the black part of our nation has lived through, mostly in silence. Bragg writes out of the tradition of Zora Neal Hurston, leaving no stone of real human experience untouched; none, unenlightened. As a result, Rainbow, does much more than add to our "up close" understanding of the "black experience." It deepens our awareness of what it is to be human."

Quest for The Lost City

A TRUE-LIFE ADVENTURE
BY DANA & GINGER LAMB

WITH A FOREWORD BY DOROTHY MITCHUM

Explorers, adventurers, anthropologists, survivalists—Dana and Ginger Lamb set out from Tucson, Arizona, in 1937 with $10.16 in their pockets in the general direction of the distant, unexplored jungles of Chiapas and Guatemala. Traveling by foot, horseback, canoe, and burro-powered Model-T Ford, the Lambs trekked down the west coast of Mexico, traversing the Sonora Desert and thousands of miles of mountains, rivers, and jungle. After years of sometimes harrowing adventure, they found their lost city. Along the way, they met bandits (who became their friends), hunters, hermits, and a lost tribe of Mayans. QUEST FOR THE LOST CITY, the story of a youthful dream which came true because of faith, expert knowledge, and guts, is an adventure unmatched in modern times.

"An adventure classic. The Lambs know how to squeeze the last drop of juice from life and the far places."

—John W. Vandercook
WRITER, EXPLORER

"If you want adventure, here is the most liberal dose of it you are likely to find within the covers of a single volume. It would be difficult to think of any type of danger or daring achievement which is not compassed within the tale."

JAYELL ENTERPRISES, INC.

Set mainly in Detroit, My First Year Out tells about Al, a young man who makes a complete break with the Roman Catholic Church and enters the gay world of the late 1960s. Four of the people he meets play a big part in initiating him in the ways of a hidden subculture as it existed at that time:

Ben, the gay activist who brings him out;

Wallace, the married man who introduces him to Detroit's gay life;

Jim, the emotionally scarred manipulator who claims to offer friendship and help; and

Bob, the hairdresser who ought to be all wrong for him but is nonetheless very appealing.

These four connected stories present a realistic, unsentimental portrait of gay experience. They are authentic yet timeless in depicting the first steps of the young toward freedom and growth.

The author is a lifelong resident of Detroit. Coming out to the Detroit police in 1974 changed the course of his life completely. Litigation is still pending.

For the Serious Seeker of Self-knowledge,

Atma Books proudly announces the publication of THE SUPREME SELF: A Modern Upanishad, by Swami Abhayananda. It is at once the dramatic personal story of one man's experience of the Self and a modern testament of affirmation for that universal and perennial 'Philosophy of Unity' expounded by the genuine mystics and seers of every religious tradition since time began.

Swami Abhayananda tells of his solitary search and subsequent Self-realization, and unravels for us the mysteries of Destiny, Free-will, and the relationship of the planets to the human psyche in a timeless universe where "all things move together of one accord." Reinforced by the accumulated wisdom of renowned saints, sages and modern physicists, he establishes once and for all the irrefutable fact of man's divine nature, and reaffirms the power of grace and devotion in the lives of those who seek 'the vision of God'—the liberating knowledge of the Supreme Self.
