donna -- thanks for the bib. It looks fine. Here's a book I have that we should add: Garfinkel, Herbert. When Negroes March: The March on Washington Movement in the Organizational Politics for FEPC. New York: Atheneum, 1973.

Would you believe that through Alibris I located a copy of the Brazeal book? for $5.95! It's probably tattered but all i need is a reading copy.

Yes, go ahead with the Melvyl search for both books and articles. Call numbers would be good. I look forward to seeing what you come up with among primary and unpublished sources. I've been looking through JSTOR and the library's electronic databases, and finding some interesting articles.

dear robert -- how are you? i have a working secondary source bibliography for you, and now am working on primary and unpublished sources. i have read some of the books on the list and we can talk about them if you like.

have you already done a melvyl search on all the topics related to you project. if not, would you like a melvyl list with call numbers so that we can start interlibrary loaning and paging all the documents you need?
let me know, best, donna

dear robert -- i did a quick pass by in the government and social science library to see if they had suggestions about a centralized way of finding whether foia files had been requested. there is a web site under FOIA (google search), and we did a key word search first under "sleeping car porters," and then under "cottrell lauerence dellums." the server took an incredibly long time to respond, and so i decided to try it again. but i thought that might be a quick way to check, i will try again and will check for those files in each collection. best, donna
