IMAI, TSUNEKISHI	nn	1898	Cliff House "Night-time" famous image of 3rd Cliff House light effect (not lightning)		4 variants QUOTE: A Japanese boy noticing the approach of lightning and thunder storm took last		plus car for the Cliff House at 10:30 p.m. The night was dark. He took up his position with his		postcard camera on the beach, and patiently waiting until 2:00 a.m. was able by leaving his camera open to obtain this picture, the "flashlight" being Nature's own - bright strokes of lightning at the moment. The patience of the "Oriental" together with his keen perception of the opportunity, give us this photographic rarity, thunder storms and lightning being rare occurrences in the "glorious climate of California". ----Copyrighted by T. Imai, 1898
