

Container List

1989-162 ~ Workbook ~ Carlton L. Andrus School Papers

05/23/2023

Container Description	Folder	Location	Creator	Date Subjects	Title
1 1) East San Jose School report cards (1897-1898) 2) State Normal School San Jose, Training Department report cards (1900-1903) 3) "Outline of American History" textbook (D.C. Heath & Co., 1904), San Jose High School 4) "Outline of Medieval and Modern European History" textbook (D.C. Heath & Co., 1905), San Jose High School 5) Scrapbook on historical figures, with notes on the Monroe Doctrine, U.S. political parties, and tariffs	1	Storage 1	Andrus, Carlton L., 1888-1963	Students Nineteenth century Report cards Textbooks History	Report cards, early workbooks
1 Handwritten essays for San Jose High School English class between September 1908-January 1909.	2	Storage 1	Andrus, Carlton L., 1888-1963	Students Essays San Jose High School (San Jose, Calif.) High school students	English VI essays
1 Collection of handwritten essays and assignments for English I including book reviews, an autobiography, editorial on newspaper item, exposition on wit and humor, a characterization of Napoleon Bonaparte, autobiographical essay, "What Thanksgiving meant to Bob and I". Andrus' autobiographical essay begins with his birth in Monrovia, California, introduces his other family members and where they came from, their move to San Jose when Carlton was 7 months old (they lived for five years in a house on north Ninth Street until they purchased a house in East San Jose), his elementary school education in East San Jose where illness kept him out of school until he was 8 years old. Andrus attended San Jose State Normal School as well as San Jose High School. In 1904 his father took the family on a six-month trip to the Atlantic Coast, stopping at the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair, Niagara Falls, and other east coast attractions. He resumed high school in 1905 until the 1906 earthquake crippled the school, and he continued his studies at the California School of Mechanical Arts in San Francisco. He returned to the new San Jose High School to graduate in 1909. He also reflects on his summer jobs on ranches, working for businesses in San Francisco and Pacific Grove, and fishing and hunting with his father. Andrus was 21 before he finished high school, and went to work in Inyo County on an aerial tramway. He was forced to return to San Jose when he contracted typhoid fever, and worked at the carpenter trade after six weeks of illness. In May 1910 he says that he started working on a haypress to earn enough money to attend Stanford University, but after five and a half weeks he was forced to undergo an operation for blood poisoning, making it financially impossible to attend. Instead, he ends his essay with the sentence, "Today, September the 12th finds me a student majoring in biology in the University of the Pacific."	3	Storage 1	Andrus, Carlton L., 1888-1963	Stanford University Students Essays Nineteen tens	English class assignments, University of the Pacific
1 Two pages of the same typed verse, with several handwritten corrections. Name and date typed at bottom. Begins, "'Tis fair indeed to see the sun / Burst o'er the eastern mountain tops / And flood the land with warmth and light; / To thrill and bring to life the crops. / In other words to do some good."	4	Storage 1	Andrus, Carlton L., 1888-1963	05/20/1911 Stanford University Students Essays Nineteen tens	"German Examination," University of the Pacific, 1911
1 Physiology II, Physiology IV, Sense Organs, and Histology lecture notes and several assignments.	5	Storage 1	Andrus, Carlton L., 1888-1963	1913 Stanford University Nineteen tens Medical students Medical education	Stanford University lecture notes and assignments

Container Description	Folder	Location	Creator	Date Subjects	Title
2 Histology, Physiology, and Physical Chemistry	1	Storage 1	Andrus, Carlton L., 1888-1963	1914 Stanford University Nineteen tens Medical students Medical education	Stanford University lecture notes and assignments
2 1) "The chemistry of diphtheria antitoxin. A review with some experiments," submitted to the Division of Pharmacology and the School of Medicine of the Leland Stanford Junior University in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Medicine, April 1917 2) Assignment on Diets in Nephritis, February 26, 1917 3) Assignment on Constipation, March 7, 1917	2	Storage 1	Andrus, Carlton L., 1888-1963	1917 Stanford University Nineteen tens Medical students Medical education	Stanford University thesis and coursework
2 Notes on constipation, acute and chronic gastritis, and a workbook for osteology.	3	Storage 1	Andrus, Carlton L., 1888-1963	Stanford University Nineteen tens Medical students Medical education	Stanford University coursework, n.d.
2 Collection of typed dietary guidelines and pamphlets	4	Storage 1	Andrus, Carlton L., 1888-1963	Diet	Assorted dietary guidelines
2 Undated blank forms/schedule for taking patient's medical history, pathology, and symptoms; cover letter addressed "Dear Doctor," explaining the patient fees at the San Francisco clinic.	5	Storage 1	Andrus, Carlton L., 1888-1963	Hospitals Clinics	St. Luke's Hospital Clinical Club Diagnostic Section materials