Historical/Biographical Note

The Peace and Freedom Party was founded on June 23, 1967 during the 1960's civil rights and anti-Vietnam War movements. By 1968 the group gained national recognition and dedicated their efforts towards achieving their platforms of a socialist, democratic, feminist, and racially equal society. They organized mass groups and rallies to protest and support political candidates to reform US political institutions.

They formed Tenant unions for renters. They organized food co-ops, free health clinics and newsletters for the public and their followers. Additionally, they organized two successful statewide initiative campaigns. One in 1968, lowering the voting age to 18, and another in 1972 to repeal the capital gains tax loophole.

They have also helped numerous political candidates run for office like Robert F. Kennedy and Eldridge Cleaver of the Black Panthers.

Scope and Content

The materials in this collection were created from 1933-1980. The majority of the collection is comprised of writings and publications related to various political and social issues. The first series Writings and Publications contains newsletters produced by the Peace and Freedom Party (PEP) along with numerous other publications. Additionally, there are independent writings from different cohorts on sentiments towards race, economy, war, and U.S. politics. Included in the collection are documents and materials by various committees/associations, along with municipal and state reports, and journals. Lastly, in the series are files containing US political candidate literature and miscellaneous notes during PFP meetings.

Series II: Subject Topical Files are divided into two subseries and containing student organization literature, catalogs, forms, and miscellaneous reports. Series III: Newspapers and Clippings, range from The Los Angeles Times to The Black Panther News.

Series IV contains Informational Handouts such as broadsides, flyers, and pamphlets regarding upcoming events and plans to organize and promote civil liberties and denote the Vietnam War and US drafting. Series V contains correspondence between PFP members and their sentiments, in addition to their planning and organization. The next series contains, Minutes/Agendas, Miscellaneous, and legal related documents, which hold detailed information into the PFP structure and foundation

Additionally, the collection includes maps of Long Beach, Los Angeles and CSULB. There are also posters in the collection promoting upcoming events and anti-war sentiments. Finally, in the last series contains ephemera such as political candidate buttons, business cards, ribbons, and bumper stickers.

Political Candidate Literature, 1969-1972, u.d.; f. Journals, 1968; g. Notes, 1968-1971, u.d. Many of the newsletters pertain to the Vietnam War and the draft lottery. Additionally, the the writings also carry left leaning political and social rhetoric addressing minority marginalization, and the legalizing of marijuana. There are also numerous newsletters and writings supporting The Black Panthers, and Cesar E. Chavez and United Farm Workers. In addition to supporting leftist ideology, there is also literature by committee/associations, and political candidates like Robert F. Kennedy.

Series II: Subject Topical Files

Inclusive Dates: 1950-1980

Arrangement: Alphabetical and thereunder chronological

Every folder in this series was pre-organized by the donor and have been kept in that order. The series consist of two subseries: a. Student Organization's, 1952-1971, u.d.; b. Subject Topical Files, 1950-1980, u.d. The first subseries consist of three different categories all relating to organizations that were runned by or initiated by college students. The first is the S.M.C. or the Student Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam. In their newsletter S.M.C. reminds their readers of upcoming events and issues that they face in trying to end the war in Vietnam. They also include information for young men on how to legally avoid being drafted. The second portion is regarding miscellaneous student movements and involvement in civil and social rights from multiple cal states. The last section of the first subseries is the Student for a Democratic Society, focusing on encouraging students to vote and explaining its significance. Most noteworthy is a particular piece titled "Institutional Racism" that offers insight into how US institutions carry racist notions. The second subseries contains folder is relation to black students activism from CSULB, Booklets and catalogs advertising leftist books and films regarding race and education. Moreover, the subseries contains documents relating to PFP finances, forms, proposals, platforms, and praises. Additionally, there are specific folders dedicated to the involvements and plans with the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, Vietnam Moratorium Organizing Committee, and Women's Strike for Peace.
