Collection Title: GLBT Historical Society Film and Video Collection

Collection Number: GLBT-VIDEO

Physical Description: 22.95 linear feet (17 oversized boxes, 3 cartons, and 3 manuscript boxes)

Creator: Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender Historical Society

Date (inclusive): circa 1950s-2010s

Date (bulk): circa 1980s-1990s

Language of Material: English, French, Japanese, Mandarin Chinese, Vietnamese, German

Abstract: GLBT Historical Society (GLBTHS) records suggest that GLBTHS board members, volunteers, community donors, and staff brought together this collection of videocassettes, DVDs, video reels, and film reels from the late 1980s through the early 2010s. The collection documents a range of LGBTQ activities and topics and encompasses numerous genres, including event and protest recordings, documentaries, public access television episodes, interviews, news broadcasts, feature films, and adult videos.

Preferred Citation:

[Identification of item], GLBT Historical Society Film and Video Collection (GLBT-VIDEO), The Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender Historical Society.

Conditions Governing Access:

Collection is open for research. Sexually-explicit videos in this collection may only be viewed by researchers aged eighteen and over and are made available for educational and research purposes.

Publication Rights:

All requests for reproductions and/or permission to publish or quote from material must be submitted in writing to the GLBT Historical Society Archivist. Permission for reproductions and/or permission to publish or quote from material is given on behalf of the GLBT Historical Society as the owner of the physical items and is not intended to include or imply permission of the copyright holder. Transmission or reproduction of materials protected by copyright beyond that allowed by fair use requires the written permission of the copyright owners. Responsibility for any use rests exclusively with the user.

Additional Formats:

Digitized versions of selected videos are available here. Links to individual videos can also be found in the video inventory.

Acquisition Information:

This is an artificial collection assembled by staff and volunteers of the GLBT Historical Society. In most cases, records regarding donors could not be located as of January 2024.

Processing Information:

Project Archivist Devin McGeehan Muchmore inventoried the collection and created this finding aid in 2023-2024. This project was supported in whole or in part by funding provided by the State of California, administered by the California State Library.

The Project Archivist recorded all hand-written annotations on sleeves, cases, labels, and tapes. He derived item titles from printed labels, hand-written labels, and/or recorded content. In most cases, dates reflect the date of content creation.

All videos without sleeves or cases were given plastic archival cases.

Volunteer John Raines digitized a selection of the collection between 2010 and 2015. Archives staff selected additional videos for digitization in 2023-2024, with funding provided by the State of California, administered by the California State Library.

This finding aid uses terminology for LGBTQ people that was in current use at the time of its creation. Descriptive language for queer identities evolves quickly and some of these terms may now be dated or even offensive. Finding aids are themselves historical documents; they reflect the moment in which they were written and often reflect the terms that subjects used for themselves. Please contact the GLBT Historical Society Archivist with questions or comments.

Scope and Content:

GLBT Historical Society (GLBTHS) records suggest that GLBTHS board members, volunteers, community donors, and staff brought together this collection of videocassettes, DVDs, video reels, and film reels from the late 1980s through the early 2010s. The collection documents a range of LGBTQ activities and topics, including GLBTHS programming and exhibitions; HIV/AIDS issues and activism; title competitions, especially women's and men's leather competitions; protests, including the 1989 Castro Sweep and the 1987, 1993, and 2000 Marches on Washington; drag performances; 1970s and 1980s concert recordings; select 1990s and 2000 Imperial Court events; sports, including women's football and several Gay Games; and LGBTQ and kink sexual practices. The collection encompasses numerous genres, including public access television, including episodes of Electric City, Lavender Lounge, and City Beat; documentaries; talk show episodes; interviews with community members; news broadcasts; educational and public service announcements, particularly related to HIV/AIDS; feature films; and adult videos, including videos centering queer women from Fatale and Lavender Blue Productions.

For many years, GLBTHS reformatted films, tape reels, U-matic, and Betacam—including films dating from the 1950s and 1960s—to VHS for reading room use. This collection includes many of these tapes.

Arrangement:

The collection is arranged alphabetically by title.

Indexing Terms:

Box 3	Castro #2	1/2 inch videotape	1976	Hart, Edward; Willem, Eric	Raw footage from the 1976 documentary short film The Castro: A Definitively Biased View. The tape depicts a ventriloquist act and a drag performance utilizing yellowface at an unnamed performance venue. Yellowface refers to a tradition of theatrical and musical performance, originating in the mid-19th century, in which white actors deployed racist and stereotypical costumes, makeup, props, gestures, dialects, and musical sounds to connote "Chineseness" and/or "Asianness" and, in turn, foreignness and racial inferiority. It also includes a conversation with a man registering voters on the street, interior shots of Cliff's Variety store, and extended footage of a street theater performance. Handwritten Annotations: Label (Case): "Castro #2"; Label (Face): "Tape 2"	https://glt.i8.dgicloud.com/castro2	Castro; Documentaries; Drag; Theater

OS13	Sex and Other Matters of Life and Death	VHS	1997	Public Policy Productions	From case: This film chronicles a year in the life of STAR Theater, a vibrant teenage theater company that performs for adolescents throughout New York City. The performances raise awareness about the risks young people face in the age of AIDS. As the film evolves, viewers discover that the performers are struggling with the same problems in their own lives that they are dramatizing on stage. STAR Theater uses drama and peer education to help teens avoid pregnancy and disease. The performances always conclude with a question and answer session. The documentary captures these uncensored peer to peer discussions. The teens are free to express themselves in ways that are often raw, sometimes amusing, and occasionally tragic. Peer education, including programs like this, has proven to be an effective educational approach. Using teen culture and language, it develops a trusting environment in which teens are more receptive to information about reducing risks. The documentary offers a moving portrait of how painful, dangerous, and yet hopeful the process of growing up can be.		HIV/AIDS; Theater; Youth

OS14	Unidentified Home Video	VHS	1988		A narrated tour of a rural house in New York state, with appearances by two couples: Marc and Hilary, and Susan and Robert. The processing archivist found the tape wrapped in a note reading: "9/25/88. Hi - Hope things are going well - Here is a video of our world - Excuse Marc's confusion he has been putting in TV for Aunt Ruth & Uncle Ben and talking with them on the phone so when I said Aunt Betty all he heard was "Aunt" and automatic took over — Anyway hope it all makes sense - If you can make it on Feb 25 it would be great but we'll also understand if you decline — Susan and I hope perhaps to visit you next summer - if you want visitors?? RSVP Love & cheers Robert"		Home Movies

OS3	Castro Sweep 10/89	VHS	1989-10	Henry, Patrick	Printed label reads: "I am Patrick Henry, owner of SuperStar Video 17th in SF. As a reporter/co-producer of award-winning TV program "Community Action Network" news, I found myself behind police lines recording what appeared to be a routine (and rather small) group of protesters confronting the SFPD. What develops leads outraged onlookers to "take to the streets". An unedited version of this tape was voluntarily passed along to the ACLU, pursuing their case against the City and SFPD. I thought, in case others have not likewise documented this event, that I'd provide this copy to you for your viewing."	https://glbt.i8.dgicloud.com/cas-trosweep1989	Police; Activism; Castro

Box 3	Castro #2	1/2 inch videotape	1976	Hart, Edward; Willem, Ericka	Raw footage from the 1976 documentary short film The Castro: A Definitely Biased View. The tape depicts a ventriloquist act and a drag performance utilizing yellowface at an unnamed performance venue. Yellowface refers to a tradition of theatrical and musical performance, originating in the mid-19th century, in which white actors deployed racist and stereotypical costumes, makeup, props, gestures, dialects, and musical sounds to connote "Chineseness" and/or "Asianness" and, in turn, foreignness and racial inferiority. It also includes a conversation with a man registering voters on the street, interior shots of Cliff's Variety store, and extended footage of a street theater performance. Handwritten Annotations: Label (Case): "Castro #2"; Label (Face): "Tape 2"	https://glbt.i8.dgicloud.com/castro2	Castro; Documentaries; Drag; Theater

OS13	Sex and Other Matters of Life and Death	VHS	1997	Public Policy Productions	From case: This film chronicles a year in the life of STAR Theater, a vibrant teenage theater company that performs for adolescents throughout New York City. The performances raise awareness about the risks young people face in the age of AIDS. As the film evolves, viewers discover that the performers are struggling with the same problems in their own lives that they are dramatizing on stage. STAR Theater uses drama and peer education to help teens avoid pregnancy and disease. The performances always conclude with a question and answer session. The documentary captures these uncensored peer to peer discussions. The teens are free to express themselves in ways that are often raw, sometimes amusing, and occasionally tragic. Peer education, including programs like this, has proven to be an effective educational approach. Using teen culture and language, it develops a trusting environment in which teens are more receptive to information about reducing risks. The documentary offers a moving portrait of how painful, dangerous, and yet hopeful the process of growing up can be.	HIV/AIDS; Theater; Youth

Box 3	Castro #2	1/2 inch videotape	1976	Hart, Edward; Willem, Ericka	Raw footage from the 1976 documentary short film The Castro: A Definitively Biased View. The tape depicts a ventriloquist act and a drag performance utilizing yellowface at an unnamed performance venue. Yellowface refers to a tradition of theatrical and musical performance, originating in the mid-19th century, in which white actors deployed racist and stereotypical costumes, makeup, props, gestures, dialects, and musical sounds to connote "Chineseness" and/or "Asianness" and, in turn, foreignness and racial inferiority. It also includes a conversation with a man registering voters on the street, interior shots of Cliff's Variety store, and extended footage of a street theater performance. Handwritten Annotations: Label (Case): "Castro #2"; Label (Face): "Tape 2"	https://glibti8.dgicloud.com/castro2	Castro; Documentaries; Drag; Theater

OS13	Sex and Other Matters of Life and Death	VHS	1997	Public Policy Productions	From case: This film chronicles a year in the life of STAR Theater, a vibrant teenage theater company that performs for adolescents throughout New York City. The performances raise awareness about the risks young people face in the age of AIDS. As the film evolves, viewers discover that the performers are struggling with the same problems in their own lives that they are dramatizing on stage. STAR Theater uses drama and peer education to help teens avoid pregnancy and disease. The performances always conclude with a question and answer session. The documentary captures these uncensored peer to peer discussions. The teens are free to express themselves in ways that are often raw, sometimes amusing, and occasionally tragic. Peer education, including programs like this, has proven to be an effective educational approach. Using teen culture and language, it develops a trusting environment in which teens are more receptive to information about reducing risks. The documentary offers a moving portrait of how painful, dangerous, and yet hopeful the process of growing up can be.		HIV/AIDS; Theater; Youth

OS13	Sex and Other Matters of Life and Death	VHS	1997	Public Policy Productions	From case: This film chronicles a year in the life of STAR Theater, a vibrant teenage theater company that performs for adolescents throughout New York City. The performances raise awareness about the risks young people face in the age of AIDS. As the film evolves, viewers discover that the performers are struggling with the same problems in their own lives that they are dramatizing on stage. STAR Theater uses drama and peer education to help teens avoid pregnancy and disease. The performances always conclude with a question and answer session. The documentary captures these uncensored peer to peer discussions. The teens are free to express themselves in ways that are often raw, sometimes amusing, and occasionally tragic. Peer education, including programs like this, has proven to be an effective educational approach. Using teen culture and language, it develops a trusting environment in which teens are more receptive to information about reducing risks. The documentary offers a moving portrait of how painful, dangerous, and yet hopeful the process of growing up can be.	HIV/AIDS; Theater; Youth
