The San Francisco Labor Council was organized on November 15, 1892 as the successor to a series of earlier and less sturdy San Francisco central labor bodies. Application was immediately made to the national American Federation of Labor, which was organized on November 15, 1881, and a signed charter was issued to the San Francisco Council on May 17, 1893 by AFL founder and first President Samuel Gompers. Affiliation was later made with the California State Federation of Labor which was organized in 1899. The AFL under President George Meany merged with the rival Congress of Industrial Organizations on December 5, 1955, however, the local San Francisco Council was not united with the less influential San Francisco C. I. O. Industrial Union Council until August 1, 1958.

Through the two major San Francisco labor disputes of especially 1901 and the general bay area strike of 1934, the San Francisco Labor Council grew under its motto "in unity is strength" until in 1970 the Council represented almost 150 AFL-CIO Unions with a combined membership of approximately 200,000 trade unionists in the City and County of San Francisco.

This collection of 175 Cartons and 4 Packages was a gift to the Bancroft Library by the San Francisco Labor Council in May of 1969 and covers all facets of the divergent activities of the San Francisco labor movement following the great San Francisco earthquake of April, 1906 through early 1965. Reflected is the wide spectrum of interests of the Council which included labor disputes, health and welfare benefits, wages, fair employment, housing, automation, local politics and a host of community service oriented organizations. Especially represented are the personal papers and affairs of John A. O'Connell (1873-1948) who served as Secretary-Treasurer of the Council from 1913 until 1948 and George W. Johns who served in the same capacity from 1950 until 1972.

The collection has been divided into three sections. Cartons 1 - 36 contain material from the period 1906-1939 subdivided as to Correspondence, Council Files, Subject Files and Publications and then alphabetically arranged.

Cartons 37 - 117 comprise correspondence from 1940 through 1964 with Cartons 112 & 116 being material to be interfiled for the period 1933-1958. Cartons 37 - 111 are alphabetically arranged for each year, and, in an effort to maintain the filing order of the Council, the papers are subdivided into Subject Files, District Labor Council Files and Labor Organization Files for each year.

The remaining Cartons 117 - 175 and Packages 1 - 4 comprise a miscellany of committee records, specific activity files, publications and financial material.

A key to arrangement and detailed carton contents listing follows.

A refined subject cross reference guide is also provided for the 1906-1939 Correspondence Files found in Cartons 1 - 22.
