Scope and Content

The Publications collection is a group of published material generated by the SBMA from 1941 to the present, and represents a cross-section of the types of materials used as invitations, brochures, posters, pamphlets, newsletters and exhibition catalogues. The collection documents every public aspect of SBMA's activities, including exhibitions, events, educational programming, anniversaries, new hires and special projects or fundraising activities. The publications are topically divided into the type of publications and the records are arranged into four series: exhibition publications, other publications, newsletters and annual reports.

Series Description

Series 1: Exhibition Publications, 1941 – Ongoing

Arranged chronologically

Contains exhibition catalogues, brochures, pamphlets, invitations and posters primarily produced by SBMA regarding exhibitions hung in the museum as well as those produced by other institutions of which SBMA served as a venue. The series is divided into two subseries: Exhibition Catalogues and Brochures and Exhibition Ephemera.

Series 1.1: Exhibition Catalogues and Brochures, 1941 - Ongoing

Arranged chronologically

Consists of exhibition catalogues and brochures produced by SBMA as well as other catalogues and/or brochures related to exhibitions held at the museum but produced by the organizing institution. The exhibition catalogues typically provide intellectual context for the works shown as well as a checklist of the works exhibited.

Series 1.2: Exhibition Ephemera, 1953 – Ongoing

Arranged chronologically

Consists of invitations, posters and announcements produced by SBMA regarding exhibitions hung in the museum.

Series 2: Other Publications, 1941 – Ongoing

Arranged chronologically

Consists of material published by the museum in connection with special events such as anniversary celebrations or campaigns. These publications typically provide a general and brief history of the museum and its significant or noteworthy events.

Series 3: Newsletters, 1943 – Ongoing

Arranged chronologically

Consists of monthly newsletters produced by the museum since its inception. The newsletters provide basic yet useful information on exhibitions including dates and brief descriptions as well as museum events, concerts, lectures, classes, workshops and performances. Some newsletters also contain information on staff, museum announcements and directors message/updates.

Series 4: Annual Reports, 1941 – Ongoing

Arranged chronologically

Contains the annual reports produced by the museum director and/or board president. The annual reports typically provide useful information on the museums most significant or noteworthy exhibitions, events or loans for the previous year.
