Title: Fritsche (John) Postcard Collection
 Dates of creation: 1901-1989
 Extent of the unit of description: ~7,300 postcards in 25 binders

Scope & Content / Abstract:

The extensive John Fritsche Postcard Collection is centered on the town of Santa Barbara, California, and contains examples of all postcard eras from the late 19th century to the present. Subjects include the Santa Barbara Mission, downtown, hotels, harbor and beaches, homes, gardens, parks, commercial businesses, parades, disasters, nearby missions, resorts, and Montecito. Also represented are other geographic locations in Santa Barbara and Ventura counties; from Solvang to the northwest to Port Hueneme to the southeast, including the Santa Ynez River Valley and Ojai. Major events documented include the Santa Barbara Earthquake of 1925, the Flood of 1914, and the 1908 visit of the Great White Fleet.

Context:

Name of Creator: John Fritsche
 Administrative / Biographical history: John Fritsche is an avid historian of Santa Barbara's past, especially aviation. He has developed a specialty in the history of technology and the institutions that develop it.

Fritsche graduated from Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo with a degree in agriculture and married his wife Ruth in Santa Barbara in 1952. He was inducted into the US Army during the Korean War and attended radio repair school at Fort Sheridan outside Chicago, Illinois.

After he finished his service, Fritsche and family headed back to Santa Barbara. During his career he was employed at Aerophysics, Raytheon, and Delco. Later, at Hughes, he worked on highly classified projects doing configuration management.

John Fritsche's outstanding collection of photographic images of old Santa Barbara began as an interest in postcards. Postcard collecting was an inexpensive way for him to collect historical photographs and he often attended postcard shows at Earl Warren Showgrounds. Many people writing about Santa Barbara's history have come to him for images to illustrate their articles.

John Fritsche spearheaded the effort to develop the plaque memorializing the location of Malcolm and Allan Lockheeds' workshop on lower State Street where the Lockheed brothers got their start on the northwest corner of State and Mason streets. He commissioned local artist Susan Dunbar to create a plaque based on a billboard advertising the Lockheed's scenic flights. John also contributed research for the book, "The Puritan Ice Companies: The Ice Empire of California's Central Coast," authored by David Petry.

Fritsche is a long-time member of the Santa Barbara County Genealogical Society and has served on its board of directors. He has also authored many articles for its publication, Ancestors West.

(Some of the above material is from an interview of John Fritsche by Debbie Kaska and Dorothy Oksner in the Summer 2017 issue of Ancestors West.)
