Biography

Richard E. Brown II (1922 - 2011) was a member of the first entering class of Fuller Theological Seminary in the Fall of 1947. He was at that time a member of the Old Fashioned Revival Hour Quartet. Having grown up in the Christian Church he made the decision, affirmed by Charles E. Fuller, to pursue ordination in that denomination. He therefore left Fuller in order to earn his Bachelor of Divinity at Brite Seminary, Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, Texas. After many years of ministry in the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), in 1987 he entered an active retirement of ministry, teaching, writing, travel and golf. In 1997 he helped found Christian Heritage Ministry which began rebroadcasting the Old Fashioned Revival Hour in 2002.

Scope and Content

The Richard (Dick) E Brown II Collection, 1903-2008 consists of papers and recordings documenting the varied life of Rev Brown, a minister of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). These include wartime letters to family at home, a collection of music accumulated through a lifetime of singing, papers from several Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) where Dick Brown served as pastor and family letters and mementos, as well as many Rudy Atwood and the Old Fashioned Revival Hour (OFRH) Quartet recordings.

Subjects:

- Atwood, Rudy
- Christian Church (Disciples of Christ)
- Christianity
- Country Church of Hollywood
- Fuller, Charles Edward
- Fuller Theological Seminary
- Music
- Old Fashioned Revival Hour (Radio program)
